Sorority Pledges Aid

Gifts To Be Sold as Benefit for Hostel Fund

The last meeting of the Klamath Falls alumnae chapter of Alpha Chi Omega, was given over to reviewing the national sorority's work in the last World War, and to discussion of the national council's plans for the defense program and relief work in the present crisis.

Always interested in altruistic work, the group adopted one hundred French war orphans during the last war, and assumed sole support of them throughout the war until 1921. In addition they gave much time, labor and money in many ways.

At the national convention held in Pasadena of July this year, Alpha Chi Omega studied defense and relief work thoroughly and elected to assume support of a hostel in England for bomb shocked children, the responsibility to carry on for one year. Infants and small children are the most pitiful sufferers of bomb shock, it was observed, and in shelters with adequate food, medical care and facilities for re-education, the resultant symptoms are successfully combated.

Active and alumnae chapters and clubs of Alpha Chi Omega have been called upon to do their parts in financing this work. Each member of the Klamath Falls club has given cash contributions and the group members are making and offering for sale pomander spice balls for holiday gifts, these to be sold through the courtesy of a local store. The place where they may be found will be announced later.

Exact duplicates of the pomander balls were made and sold by one of New York's most exclusive stores this past year. Entire proceeds from the spice balls will go toward the support of the hostel, it was announced.

"WHO'S WHO" CLAIMS LOCAL STUDENT

Miss Patricia Gallagher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis R. Olds, 446 Riverdale, who will receive her AB degree from Whitman college in June, is among those students who will be listed in the 1941-42 issue of "Who's Who, Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." The book will be released in January or February.

The annual publication is published through the cooperation of over 600 American universities and colleges. It is the only means of national recognition for graduates which is devoid of politics, fees, and dues. Several students from accredited colleges are selected each year, by an unprejudiced committee, for their biographies to appear in "Who's Who." These books are placed in the hands of hundreds of companies and others who annually recruit outstanding students for employment.

The purpose of "Who's Who" is to serve as an incentive for students to get the most out of their college careers; as a means of compensation to students for what they have already done; as a recommendation to the business world; and as a standard of measurement for students.

Miss Gallagher is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority at Whitman college, was vice president of the junior class, president of Associated Women Students, vice president of the sorority, manager of the choral contest, and president of Mortar Board.
