Weed-Klamath Improvements

CALIFORNIA highway authorities evidently read the G travel statistics, for they are giving a good deal of attention to the Weed-Klamath Falls highway, which carries more travel into that state than any other northern entrance road.

Planned for the coming construction season is an $85,000 job between the Edgewood road and Whitney on the Weed-Klamath route. Engineers of the division of highways are now preparing plans for grading and surfacing this stretch. The California department lists two other projects on the Weed-Klamath road among those jobs which are completed or underway. These are two $9000 surfacing jobs, one between Dorris and Macdoel, and the other on portions of the road from four miles north of Weed to Grass lake.

Since its paving completion a few years ago, the Weed-Klamath road has proved its value in outstanding fashion. Its importance has been enhanced by the completion of the Willamette highway, with which it is teamed in a great coast-wise route that is superior to competitors in grade, lack of curves and speed. While it may be regarded as a utility road, the Weed-Klamath is not lacking in Scenery with Mt. Shasta towering above it and the Trinity Alps shown in panorama on the southbound journey.

The Weed-Klamath is of vital importance to Klamath Falls, and news of its improvement is welcome here.

Word for H. S. Football

Claim to Red T is frequently said, with a good measure of truth, that high school football packs more thrills than the college Territory Won variety. That's talking, of course, about the action on the field, not the pageantry of a huge crowd or the qual-ity of the football played.

HELSINKI, Dec. 1 (UP)-The Finnish parliament Satur-day passed a bill re-incorporating This writer, like many other people, never paid any attention to high school football until he moved into a non-college town where that was all the football offered. into Finland under military oc-cupation and administration a He is now convinced that high school football is more part of the territory won from Russia in the present hostilities thrilling to watch-and Saturday's Oregon-Oregon State game at Eugene did nothing to change his mind. on the eastern front.

That tussle, which we observed along with 20,499 others, had tremendous significance, of course, but the action could hardly be described with the same adjective. The first half was dull, and the second half, while much livelier, didn't pack half the action the average Modoc field game will display.

Sure, we saw Curt Meacham break away for a 53-yard run. But haven't we seen Bob Anacher do it again and again, and longer ones than that? What about the first half of the Medford-Klamath game, when Medford's Ike Orr packed the ball 80 yards for a touchdown and little Foster of Klamath a bit later romped 99 yards for another one?

And about that pageantry. Chuck Stanfield puts on a better show between halves than any we have ever seen at a college game.

Now-this scribe isn't a bit sour, as some might suspect because of his collegiate allegiance. He's merely making some honest observations which he hopes will be read by any Klamath people who are disturbed by the fact they have to do most of their football "spectating" at high school games.

No sir, we're not sour, and we doubt if any but the most rabid, never-say-die-to-prejudice Oregon supporter harbors anything but pleasant feelings over the fact that

Oregon State goes to the Rose Bowl. In fact—and if this be heresy, make the most of it— we would have been disappointed if Oregon had won that would have been disappointed if Oregon had won that game 7 to 6 after being outplayed so completely by Oregon State. The Oregons just didn't have the fire Sau urday—if they had had it, we would have welcomed an Oregon victory even if it kept another Oregon team out of the Pasadena classic. But it wasn't losing a heart-Finland's political war aims. After the parliamentary ses-tion Marshal Karl von Manner
