Myra Egger has purchased and will operate the Charm Beauty salon, 2248 South Sixth street, according to an announcement made Tuesday. Mrs. Egger, who formerly operated the North-western Beauty college here, is well known in the beauty field in the community and has been engaged in this type of work for many years.

HIGH SCHOOL

News Notes and Comment

By MAURICE O'CALLAGHAN

Wednesday report cards were distributed and grades were affixed to most of them. It is now the third or fourth day of the third six weeks and the members of the student body have only a few more six week periods left.

If every one takes advantage of the opportunities that arise these next 24 weeks, there is lots of fun and knowledge to be gained. As the winter draws nearer the social season marches forth in all its glory. Parties, meetings, drives, and dances will be on the calendar before the year is over.

Each year the Hi-Y gather and distribute over $1000 worth of food stuffs throughout the Klamath basin. The high school is proud of this organization, and the community should be too. The local chapter is nationally known for their unselfish work each yuletide season.

The boys have started this year's campaign and are setting last year's mark of $1200 worth of food stuffs and are hoping for a much higher amount. To assist the boys, give them the things that will aid so greatly in furthering the enjoyment of the folks of the Klamath area.

Well, the Boys' alliance carnival is sneaking up on us with a rush. The affair in the big gym will be a grand and gala party, fun and prizes for all. Come on boys, girls, moms, and dads. The high school has never seen as much fun packed into one room in several years. A small admission will be charged and once in, the booths and dancing will fascinate you 'till the last couple has left and the last prize is starting on the road home. For more fun than you've had in years don't miss the carnival. Everybody welcome.

Educational movies were shown Tuesday to the Spanish and chemistry classes of KUHS. A short picture, "Arts and Crafts of Mexico," was shown to the Spanish students and ec classes. "Oxydation and Reduction," was shown to the chem classes.

The Mexican picture showed pottery and glass blowing and other occupations carried on in Mexico. Virginia West stated that the picture was very interesting.

The chemistry picture was scientific and concerned oxydation and reduction, what ever they are.

Several more classes will see

LICENSE FEE FIXED ON PENNY ARCADES

A license fee of $300 was set by the Klamath Falls city council when an ordinance licensing "penny arcades" passed the third and final reading at the Monday night session of the city fathers. The ordinance was first introduced November 24, and was drafted when several inquiries were received concerning the establishment of parlors using coin operated mechanical forms of amusement.

No license will be granted for the operation of such a business on Main street, it was decided by the council.

The ordinance goes into immediate effect, however licenses will be issued from the date of January 1, running throughout the calendar year.

There are no amusement parlors of this sort at the present time, councilmen stated.
