

Oregon Bowlers Roll In Final Tourney Weekend

Portland, Eugene, Salem Squads Top Card; Records Endangered

Final firing in the Oregon State Men's and Women's Bowling congress opens tonight on Klamath Recreation and Kern bowling alleys with favored Portland, Eugene and Salem teams reflecting the principal glare from the spotlight.

Both girls and boys will roll tonight and all day Sunday.

Big Hank Says Adieu To Army

By PAUL M. CHANDLER
FORT CUSTER, Mich., Dec. 6 (AP)—Sergeant Henry Greenberg, who was called from the Detroit Tigers' outfield to become a soldier, said farewell to the United States army Friday and planned to resume the life of a baseball player.

Routine formalities of turning in equipment and drawing his final few dollars Hank Greenberg of pay delayed big Hank's departure from Fort Custer until nearly noon.

After 180 days in the army uniform as a private, corporal and sergeant, Greenberg decided to wear his uniform a few more hours—until he could drive to Detroit where a change of clothes awaited him.

On the eve of his departure, Greenberg declared his biggest thrill of leave-taking was that "Now I am able to become a ball-player again."

"I'm proud of the honor of serving in the army," Sgt. Greenberg told his officers. "I've made a host of friends and had some wonderful experiences. It's been swell to be affiliated with a famous regiment like the second infantry. Col. Isaac Gill, commander of the second infantry, has been a wonderful officer."

The eastern invasion will open with a game at Detroit Dec. 1 against Wayne University. The feature of the trip will be a clash in New York's Madison Square garden Dec. 13 with Long Island University.

Other games on the road trip are: Dec. 11, Canisius college, Buffalo; Dec. 15, Temple, Philadelphia; Dec. 16, Duquesne, Pittsburgh; Dec. 17, Xavier, Cincinnati; Dec. 20, DePaul, Chicago; Dec. 22, Nebraska, Lincoln.

The Webfoots will open their conference season here Jan. 9 when they meet Washington State in a two-game series.

Adult Gym Classes Set For KUHS

Ex-athletes and other adults bothered by increasing corpulence about the mid-section and interested in doing something about it were asked Saturday to meet in the Klamath Union high school gym Monday night for the formation of adult night gym classes.

Announcement of a winter gym organization was made by Buck Hammer, KUHS grid coach, who said that he, Wayne Scott, Joe Peak, Paul Deller and Dutch French will be in charge of the program. Hammer asked participants to bring their equipment Monday night and be ready for action.

The program will probably be run on a two-night per week basis and participants will have their choice of activity.

ODDS AND ENDS
Dan O'Connor, a Klamath county boy, is a member of the Armstrong College cage team which whipped San Mateo J. C. in its first start this season. . . . The Oregon-Texas game Saturday will be heard locally over KFJL. It's being re-created by John Carpenter via Mutual so hang on to your hats, fellas.

Pesky May Force Cronin To Quit

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 6 (UP)—Ball players never like to admit that Father Time has caught up with them, but Joe Cronin, manager of the Boston Red Sox and one of the greatest American league shortstops of all time, Friday confessed that he had almost reached the end of the trail.

"I am getting ready to retire to the dugout," Cronin said, "whether I take myself out of the regular lineup next season depends largely on a young lad named John Pesky. If Pesky can make the grade at shortstop for us then I'll become a bench manager. I'll remain on the active list for pinch-hitting duties and maybe take an occasional turn at shortstop when the occasion demands it. But I hope Pesky is so good he can make me stay in the dugout."

Pesky, a 21-year-old Portland, Ore., boy, played shortstop last season for the Louisville American Association club and was voted the league's most valuable player. He appeared in 146 games and batted .325, the identical figure he hit in his first year in organized ball at Rocky Mount, N. C., in 1939.

Early Shely, Red Sox scout who has followed Pesky's rise closely, believes the youngster is ready.

Cronin has had a long and distinguished career. He played 18 games at shortstop with Pittsburgh, Washington and the Red Sox and has served as player-manager since 1933 when Clark Griffith appointed him manager of the Senators at the age of 26. Cronin has played shortstop for the American league club in seven all-star games and had a lifetime major league batting average of .302 until the last season. He played in 143 games last season and batted .311.

Joe Cronin

Leading the contingent of upstate bowlers will be Don Poulin of Salem, 1940 open all-events titlist; Ollie Mercer of Eugene, last year's open singles king, and the Marlin Razor Blades team of Portland, 1940 open team champions. Among the women, Central Alleys of Portland, Scherer Buicks of Eugene, and Finegan Auto Parts of Portland, Class A, B, and C winners last season, will all be back in an attempt to retain their titles.

Thus far through two weeks of blasting only two women's records have toppled. All men's marks are intact.

This weekend, however, most of the peaks are in danger of being surpassed. Harry Leeding, sports editor of the Oregon Journal, spilled 666 pins in a Portland round this week, a total just 19 pins better than the best 1941 mark to date and only three pins short of the tourney record. He'll be on hand tonight and tomorrow.

A survey of men's leaders to date shows Klamath Falls topping four divisions, Medford three, Corvallis two, North Bend one, Grants Pass one, and Bend one. Klamath women lead in five classes and Medford in four.

Gal kegling opens tonight at 8:15. Men tee off at 7.

Even Money As WSC, Aggies Clash

Game Played on Wet Clay Field; Texas Squares Off With Webfoots

By GAIL FOWLER
TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 6 (AP)—It was even money and take your choice today as Texas A. and M., Southwest conference football champion, and Washington State college clashed on a wet, clayish, sandy field under murky skies.

A crowd expected to reach 27,000 was ready for the Evergreen bowl inter-sectional feature, which started at 1:30 p. m. (PST).

Home town wagers accorded Washington State an even chance with the touted Texans, principally because the WSC Cougars demonstrated themselves to be the hottest team on the Pacific coast during the closing weeks.

The Texas Aggies, despite a one-sided 23-0 defeat at the hands of Texas 10 days ago, won their conference championship and were named as one of the Cotton bowl teams. Washington State's only Rose bowl chances faded when Oregon State scored a winning touchdown in the last 10 minutes of play against Oregon last week, Oregon State getting the Rose bowl bid by finishing as undisputed Coast conference champion.

Oregon Team Ready for Eastern Tour

EUGENE, Ore., Dec. 6 (UP)—The University of Oregon today prepared for its final practice basketball game before leaving on a tour of the east which will take the Webfoots as far as New York.

The eastern invasion will open with a game at Detroit Dec. 1 against Wayne University. The feature of the trip will be a clash in New York's Madison Square garden Dec. 13 with Long Island University.

Washington Cagers Open Season With Two Wins

By The Associated Press
The University of Washington and Washington State college basketball teams opened their seasons last night against non-conference teams and both displayed a scoring punch that speaks well for their Pacific coast championship hopes.

At Cheney the champion Washington State team exacted revenge of Eastern Washington college for the licking the eastern Washington team gave the Statlers in their debut last year. Gaining an early 10-point lead, the Cougars faltered a little and led only by 25-21 at halftime, but came back to win easily, 52-32. Capt. Kirk Gebert led the WSC scoring with 16 points.

The university first squad built up a 36-14 lead in the first half of a game with the 41st division team from Fort Lewis and then retired to let second stringers raise the score to a 66-23 victory.

Coach Hec Edmundson would not talk after the game was over but rosters had visions of a championship team, although the Fort Lewis squad was admittedly no match for the Huskies.

Promoter Menaces Jacobs' 'Monopoly'

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (UP)—A beautiful boxing friendship was terminated abruptly Friday when Promoter Herman Taylor of Philadelphia threatened to "blast wide open" Mike Jacobs' alleged prize fight monopoly.

Taylor, who charges that Promoter Jacobs inspired Welterweight Contender Ray Robinson to "run out" on a Philadelphia fight, announced that he will request Congressmen James McGranney and Leon Sachs of Pennsylvania to initiate an official Washington investigation of the alleged monopoly.

NAVY NAMES CAMERON

ANNAPOLIS, Dec. 6 (AP)—Alan R. Cameron of San Gabriel, Calif., sophomore fullback, has been elected captain of Navy's 1942 football eleven, academy athletic officials announced.

He is the first backfield man to captain the varsity squad since 1927, when E. A. Hannegan, a quarterback, led the team. Cameron succeeds Bob Froude of San Bernardino, Calif., an end who graduates Dec. 19.

Caddey Named Lute Cage Pilot

TACOMA, Dec. 6 (AP)—A former University of Washington swimming and wrestling star has been named mentor of the Pacific Lutheran college basketball team and temporary director of athletics while Coach Cliff Olson fulfills speaking engagements and other duties.

The new coach, Eugene W. Caddey, will start work with the hoop squad Monday. His appointment was announced by Dean Phillip E. Hauge of the school, who said Olson may again assume charge of basketball if present demands on his time ease up.

Sport's Dog With Nine Lives

DU PONT, Ga., Dec. 6 (AP) Grover Lee's hunting dog, "Sport," tangled with a train and lost one eye.

Later, the dog met an automobile head-on and emerged badly bruised.

Three weeks later another automobile struck Sport, and then Mrs. Lee accidentally backed the family car over the dog.

Lee dug a grave, but before he could use it, he said, Sport was back on his feet again—later, flushed a covey of quail that netted a bag of 17.

Pastor, Marshal Signed

BOSTON, Dec. 6 (UP)—Heavyweights Bob Pastor and Texas Jack Marshall, both of New York, have been signed for a 10-round bout here Dec. 12, it was announced Friday night by the Boston Boxing association.

FAUROT ACCEPTS

COLUMBIA, Mo., Dec. 6 (UP) Attempts to lure Head Football Coach Don Faurot from Missouri university where he won the Big Six championship and a bid to the Sugar bowl this year were quashed Friday when the university offered him a one-year contract at $10,000. Faurot accepted immediately.

Sam Barry Will Stay At Troy

Von KleinSmid Says USC Coach Did 'Whale Of A Job' With Team

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 6 (AP)—Sam Barry, who became Southern California's football coach on very short notice last August, "will be with us a long, long time," says President Rufus B. von KleinSmid.

Barry did a "whale of a job," Dr. Von KleinSmid told the school's homecoming banquet last night. "Despite a shortage of material."

Barry, already a basketball coach and football scout for the Trojans, who have lost six of eight games this fall, play their finale this afternoon against their cross-town rivals, University of California at Los Angeles.

Barry has a one-year contract, but that's all Southern Cal gives its coaches.

Coaches present included Red Dawson of Tulane, here to scout Southern Cal this afternoon (Tulane plays the Trojans next September) and Lon Stiner at Oregon State.

Stiner said he didn't know how to rate Oregon State and Duke for the Rose Bowl. He never has seen Duke play and has "very little information" about the Blue Devils. He was in Hawaii when Duke played in the '39 bowl.

Chiloquin Tops Antler Quints Friday Night

Chiloquin's A and B teams came out on top over the Bonanza quintets in two fast riding games played at Chiloquin Friday night.

Chiloquin's big boys romped out a 31 to 18 score over their opponents. At the half time they led the Bonanzas with the slim score of nine to five.

Monks and Miller of the Chiloquin five took high honors and Bray held the top spot for the Bonanza team.

In the B clash the Chiloquin boys pulled out with an 18 to 11 victory.

Minor Loops Close Dull Convention

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 6 (UP)—The minor leagues closed one of the most uneventful conventions in their 40-year history with the election of Frank Shaughnessy, president of the International league, to the three man executive committee.

Shaughnessy, who succeeds George Trautman, president of the American association, was elected for a three-year term.

Dr. E. M. Wilder, president of the Sally league, was selected as chairman of the executive committee. The third committee member is Major Trammel Scott, president of the Southern association.

Rocky Mountain Loop Eyes Regis

DENVER, Dec. 6 (UP)—The Rocky mountain conference agreed Friday night to consider application of Regis college of Denver for membership, and carried over until the May meeting here the question of freshman participation in varsity athletics.

The five member schools—Colorado Mines, Colorado college, Western State college, Greeley State college and Montana State college—carried the main order of business over to the next session.

Merrill, Henley Eleven Top All-B League Team

Champion Huskies, Hornets Each Cop Three Berths in Pilots' Picks

(See bottom of page for all-star teams)
HENLEY—Merrill's Klamath County B league grid champions and Henley's second-place squad each placed three men on the all-circuit eleven, it was revealed Saturday.

Malin and Chiloquin each earned two places on the mythical team and Bonanza one. The all-star was chosen this year by a poll of B loop coaches in contracts to previous seasons when the picking was done on a combined all-opponent basis by players.

All gridgers chosen were named to their regular playing positions with the exception of Moore, Merrill fullback, who was shifted to half to make way for Gordon McKay, 204-pound Henley plunger, and Fisher, Hornet pass-catching left end, who was shunted to the right flank and Bray of Bonanza put in at the left wing.

The team lists up, as did most of the B loop entrants this year, with tremendous defensive strength and a noticeable lack of offensive power.

Competition for line positions was stiff but all coaches agreed on Malin's Jacobs and Short for all-star berths at guard and center.

Chiloquin and Henley topped the second team choices with three each. Merrill and Bonanza each placed two men and Malin one.

Malin Drops Cage Card To Tulelake

TULELAKE — Coach Clyde Frishholz' double header hoop tilt with the Malin Mustangs Thursday night gave both A and B victories to the Honkers who Frishholz stated had the edge over the Malin boys with more practice and experienced men.

In the curtain raiser the B's took 32 points to the Oregon team's 16, score at the half running 22-12.

Score at the last gun for the A's was 35-8 with the Mustangs able to garner only one point in the first half.

High point man for Tulelake in the preliminary was Gross, center, with 11, and for Malin, Erwin with 8. In the main go, Baker, forward, tallied 10 points for Tulelake and Ottoman for Malin took 5.

The Honkers leave next Friday for games on Friday and Saturday evenings with Westwood and Susanville.

In the A game Frishholz played Crawford at center; Waldrup and Baker, forwards; Dahle and Bitter at guard while Coach Joe LaClair of Malin played Short at center; Helme and Ottoman at forward and Duncan and Drazil at guard.

Henley 41, Keno 21

Henley's alert Hornet cagers cracked open the Klamath county B league basketball season Thursday night by staging a brilliant second-half rally to plaster the Keno Eagles, 41-21, on the Keno court.

Leading only 18-12 at the intermission, the Hornets, paced by Guard Beyer's 12 points, easily penetrated the Eagles' loose defense in the third period to run off with the game.

Both teams' defenses left much to be desired.

In a preliminary game the Henley seconds nipped Keno's fledglings, 11-10. The Hornets meet Chiloquin next Friday on the Henley floor.
