LADIES' AUXILIARY—A ladies' auxiliary of AFL local 2907 at Weed takes care of welfare investigation and the improving of aid to the needy. Above are, front row, Mrs. Charles Langdon, Ida Risuto, Dorothy Johnson and Gwen Hammond. Back, Mrs. Exie Cryder and Mary Lobs.

SOUP KITCHEN—A contemporary phenomena in the American way exists at Weed today as a socialized form of food and clothing distribution handles the needs of striking workers and their families. Above, the kitchen force gathers for a picture in a converted cafe which local 2907 has taken over for its use. Negroes, Italians and southern whites, bulk of Weed's population, constitute a race mixture which has thus far not been divided by strike tension.

REGISTRATION DESK—Registration desk for striking AFL millworkers at Weed, Calif., lists the names of men for picket duty, woodcutting chores, etc., as the seven-week-old shutdown continues at the Long-Bell Lumber company. The above shot was taken in the Moose club, headquarters for local union 2907.

BIG STAMP DEAL—Children of Mills school last week bought $178 worth of defense savings stamps—the biggest sale made at any of the schools of the city so far. It was the third Monday sale at Mills school. Stamp purchases have increased each time. The youngsters are here shown gathered around the stamp desk.

SMOKELESS STACKS AND IDLE WORKERS—The great lumber mill of the Long-Bell Lumber company at Weed, Calif., stands idle today as the seventh week of a complete shutdown ends with no prospects in sight for a rapprochement between the firm and the Lumber and Sawmill Workers union (AFL). The above picture shows the gaunt smokestacks towering above a solid line of determined AFL pickets.

Farmers, Kiwanians Have Lunch Together

Kiwanis club members had farmers as their guests at their weekly luncheon at the Willard Thursday. Above, Kiwanian Bill Peak, Farmer Rex High of Poe Valley, Kiwanian Ted Reeves, Farmer-County Judge U. E. Reeder of Pine Grove.

Kiwanian Jim Kerns, Farmer Jim Philpott of Langell Valley. In background (with hand up) Farmer Fred Ohlemeyer, Merrill road.

President Fred Southwell hands a check to Joe Chotard of Malin, second place winner in southern Oregon in the FFA better farming contest.

SHAMPOOING A RUG—Home management project leaders of the county are here viewing a demonstration of rug cleaning, a special subject before all home demonstration units in December. Working on the rug in the picture is Mrs. Wes Harsey (in apron and white hat). Lois Lutz, extension specialist in home management, is at right, holding the rug.
