

Employer Survey to Be Made by Pupils

An occupational survey among Klamath Falls employers and conducted by students in the commercial department in Klamath Union high school will start Thursday, December 11, under direction of H. O. Palmer, commercial department head. The reason for this survey is to secure information essential to improving and adjusting the commercial curriculum more closely to community and vocational needs. The questionnaire to be used has been designed to find the number and turnover of different kinds of positions open to high school graduates; the desired training, age, sex, and experience for employes in these positions; the importance and kinds of office machines in use locally; information to be used in guidance and placement. Findings of this survey will be used in making changes in content and organization in commercial subjects in order that graduates may give satisfactory service to employers of Klamath Falls. About 40 students will interview employers and will fill in replies on inquiry blanks. Each interview will take about 10 minutes of the employer's time.

The survey is sanctioned by the Klamath Falls chamber of commerce. In England, drippings from roasting meats often are used on bread instead of butter.

A country hotel in Spain displays the notice: "Don't go to bed without removing your clothes." An annual total of 7000 fatal accidents occurs in the homes of England during peacetimes.
