UNCOOPERATIVE CHICAGO, (AP)—The Chicago Blackhawks management took notice of possible effects of the war with the following sign posted in the Chicago stadium at a National Hockey league game:

"Notice: Because of the increasing scarcity of rubber we would greatly appreciate our patrons returning any pucks which might be shot into the audience, in order that we may be sure of enough to finish the season."

Only one puck sailed into the stands in last night's game but the retriever kept the souvenir.

WOMEN SLATED TO TALK OVER DEFENSE WORK

At the request of the federal government, Oregon is to undertake an inventory of the working skills and the availability of all women above high school age within the state.

Governor Charles A. Sprague has named Mrs. Saidie Orr Dunbar head of this inventory, and she is calling a meeting Friday at 1:30 p. m. in the Elk's temple here, where she will discuss preliminary details and planning of the inventory and consult those attending regarding the proper procedure in their various districts.

The purpose of this inventory is to supply the state of Oregon, through its employment service, with a registration of women possessing skills or those who are available for training, so that they may call these women for replacement, if necessary, in jobs customarily held by men.

All women's organizations, such as church, fraternal, PTA, civic or other groups or clubs have been called to the meeting. Any women not yet contacted who are interested are invited to attend. For additional information, call the Oregon State Employment service, phone 3193.

RED CROSS

Although the Klamath county chapter of the American Red Cross will probably meet the quota asked of it by the national organization in its twenty-fifth annual roll call, it seems that they will not meet the quota established as necessary to carry on the local programs for the year 1942. The national organization asked for 8072 members from Klamath county. To date 5705 have been enrolled, contributing $8,425.43. Klamath county chapter had set as its own goal 8000 members and $10,000.

Although the membership was not up to expectation the chapter is gratified at the prompt response by the people of this Red Cross headquarters in the armory.

In response to hundreds of telephone calls received at the chapters offices this week from persons wishing training in Red Cross first aid, classes in standard and advanced courses will be organized as quickly as possible. Due to the nature of the present emergency it will be necessary to supply instructors first to those groups of volunteers to the present appeal for war relief funds. Because of the fact that Red Cross membership and war relief contributions are being received at headquarters, it is suggested that contributions sent by mail be clearly identified.

Mrs. C. E. Dennis, volunteer service chairman, of the Klamath county Red Cross, needs more volunteer workers in the sewing rooms. There is a sewing room in the armory where people may come to do the work. They also may call at the armory to check out materials and yarn for work at home. The Singer Sewing Machine company has made available to the American Red Cross production volunteers ten sewing machines for use two days weekly. Registration for participation in this program should be made in person at centers who are working under the direction of the civilian defense council in Klamath Falls. As soon as adequate arrangements are made for their training classes, other classes will be arranged. Announcements of these class schedules will be made in the newspaper and through the radio.
