MALIN REPORTS TOWN DARK IN BLACKOUT TEST

Exactly six hours after a com-mittee met to organize Malin civilian defense, the southend community underwent a successful 20-minute blackout, accord-ing to Irving Capek, Malin city

On an inspection tour of the town not a light could be found burning and citizens of Malin cooperated to the utmost in helpvolunteers do their work, it was asserted. Some lights in the farming district could be seen burning, but this was due in most cas to failure to hear the signal. Eye witnesses who climbed Bryant mountain said that the lighted spot that marked Malin darkened in less than one minute. The blackout started at 8:40

ute. The blackout started at 8:40 p. m. and the all-clear signal came at 9 p. m. Members of the general com-mittee were A. Kalina, R. S. Thompson, Mervyn Wilde, Ever-ett Jones and Irving Capek. It was stated that the "excel-bert and orderly manuper" in

It was stated that the 'etc' in lent and orderly manner" in which the blackout was handled was largely due to the efforts of the American Legion, city fire and police volunteers and

Engineer Says Japs Illogical In Face-Saving

PORTLAND, Dec. 16 (P) Henry Stevens, Bonneville dam engineer who once constructed a hydroelectric plant in Japan, said yesterday the Japanese could not last long in war with the United States. -He doubted that they have enough materials and he doubted their ability. "Their engineers are the most illogical fellows I ever saw. All their reports disregard the scienthe facts if they can save some-body's face that way," he told a reporter. "Japanese engineers came from all over the country to watch while we were building the Kiso hydroelectric plant. After they've watched you three or four months they think know everything you do start doing it their own and ing." He predicted that if U. S. He predicted that if J. S. prize target will be the electrical substation at Osaka. "It's the biggest electrical substation in the world with lines from seven major power developments leading directly to it distribution. If they knocked out that, they would knock out the entire manufacturing center of Japan."
