For Your Information

Transferred—Mrs. J. Matts of this city received word of the evacuation of Letterman hospital in San Francisco and left by train immediately to visit her son, Donald Yancey, who has been a patient there for the past 11 weeks receiving treatment for a head injury received while performing in a rodeo at Livermore, Calif. Mrs. Matts found her son much improved and was able to visit with him for two hours before he left with other patients for Fitzsimons General hospital, Denver. Mrs. Matt said more than 200 were moved to the Colorado institution as a precautionary measure. A letter from Chaplain Thomas McKenno of the US army stated that Yancey had progressed to the point where he could be moved. Yancey was unconscious for six weeks and two delicate brain operations were performed. He is now able to move in a wheel chair. Yancey and his younger brother, Robert, joined the army air corps more than a year ago and were stationed at Moffett field, 35 miles south of San Francisco.

No Meeting—Women of Reames Golf and Country club will not meet Friday for Red Cross work and meetings will be discontinued until after the first of a year it was announced by Mrs. Wilfred E. PROFESSIONAL MEN JOIN BOND DRIVE

Full support of the professional men's subcommittee of the county defense savings committee. Members of the sub-committee are Dr. F. M. Peak, chairman, Dr. T. F. Farley and Hugh Corbin.

This committee is bringing into action this week professional men of the county; were urged to telephone members of the committee informing them that they have bought or will buy defense bonds.

"It would be very encouraging to our county defense savings committee if we could report that the professional and business men of Klamath county are taking the lead in buying defense bonds," said A. M. Collier, county defense savings chairman.

Collier also pointed out that an ideal method of giving bonuses to employees of business this year-end is through defense savings stamps and bonds.

NEW PROBLEM OF EDUCATION EYED

V. D. Bain, assistant state superintendent of schools, met here Monday with school and public health officials to discuss Oregon's new law regarding the education of physically handicapped children. Bain heads the department for handicapped children created at the last state legislative session, and is engaged in surveying the problems throughout the state for presentation at the next session of legislature.

The total number of handicapped children in Klamath county is approximately 300, according to Fred Peterson, county superintendent of schools, but by far the greater number of these children have only minor handicaps, such as a limp, he pointed out.

Conferring with Bain at Monday's meeting were Peterson, Arnold G. Japp, J. P. Wells and Dr. Peter Rozendal.

Jan Garber Band Coming For Dance Wednesday

Jan Garber, "Idol of the Air Lanes" and his 14-piece orchestra will play at the armory Wednesday, December 17 under the sponsorship of the Junior chamber of commerce.

Garber is bringing his complete band with him, featuring some of the best known entertainers in the music world. The romantic baritone voice of Lee Bennett will be heard along with the trumpet playing mimic and comic, Fritz Heilbron. These two lads are known throughout the country for their antics and fine vocal talent and are applauded nightly for their outstanding acts and songs.

Garber has been a top ranking maestro for a number of years and has been heard over all the leading networks from coast to coast. He and his band have been long time favorites at leading theaters and night clubs and hotels, a few of which are the Gibson hotel and the Netherland Plaza, Cincinnati; the Schroeder, Milwaukee; Wardman Park hotel, Washington, D. C.; Peabody hotel, Memphis; Casino on Catalina island; Coconut Grove, Topsy's cafe, Palomar ballroom in Los Angeles; Blackhawk, Chicago; Mark Hopkins hotel, San Francisco; and the Hotel New Yorker in New York city.

Originally known as the "Originator of Hokum," Garber changed his style with the times to soft, sweet music and again to the present "sweet swing."

GOVERNOR SPRAGUE JOINS POLIA FIGHT

NEW YORK, Dec. 16—Governor Charles A. Sprague of Oregon today accepted membership in the national governors' committee for the 1942 "Fight infantile paralysis campaign."

Responding to the invitation of Keith Morgan, national chairman of the committee for the celebration of the president's birthday for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Governor Sprague declared:

"I will be very happy to cooperate in every way possible in connection with the work of this committee."

The 1942 campaign will be launched officially on January 12 and will work toward a grand climax on January 30, the diamond jubilee celebration of President Roosevelt's 60th birthday. In Oregon the drive will be led by Dr. Eloy T. Hedlund of Portland, a veteran campaigner against infantile paralysis who has accepted the state chairmanship.

In welcoming Governor Sprague to the national governors' committee, Mr. Morgan said:

"The cooperation of Governor Sprague will be a vital contribution toward the success of the coming drive. With his able support and the experienced leadership of Dr. Hedlund, we are confident that an all-out effort will be made against this terrible disease."
