

SANTA CLAUS CLAN DINNER SET SUNDAY

Plans for the annual Santa Claus Clan dinner and program to be given Sunday at 2 p. m. in the Klamath Falls armory, are now complete and even the menu has been worked out down to the last piece of celery.

During the dinner the Klamath Falls municipal band will present a concert. The Rev. L. K. Johnson of the Klamath Lutheran church will give the invocation followed by entertainment. Brown will sing a group of songs, Mildred Buzaid's accordion band will play, there will be songs by Edna Goodwin, Marion Baker and Madeline Mahoney, and dances by Shirley Francis as well as accordion numbers by Phyl Clemson.

Immediately after the program Santa Claus, with a full pack, will appear to greet the children. Only those adults who have received invitations are eligible to attend the dinner. Members of various organizations participating as Santa Claus' assistants will be on hand.

Thomas' Stolen Car Recovered In Louisiana

The 1941 Chevrolet coupe owned by Jerry Thomas of this city that was stolen from in front of the Marion apartments on November 7, has been recovered in Baton Rouge, La., according to word received here Friday by Sheriff Lloyd Low.

Two men whose names are not yet known have been apprehended and are being held in connection with the case. Sheriff Low has turned the case over to the FBI.

AIRPORT LAND SUIT CARRIED ON IN COURT

Trial of the condemnation suit brought by the city of Klamath Falls against C. H. Kelly and J. F. Kelly, owners of land wanted for municipal airport expansion, proceeded Friday with testimony presented by the city intended to show that the land is practically worthless for either farming or as a suburban home site.

Witnesses testifying for the city included John C. Claghorn, E. A. Thomas, R. H. Dunbar, E. M. Hammond, Leigh Ackerman, A. R. Campbell and W. G. Ely.

According to Campbell, prominent Klamath county farmer, the clover crop on the Kelly brothers' land was "poor."

Two witnesses for the defense had been called by noon Friday, Earl W. Short and Frederick A. Ohlemeyer.

Ohlemeyer, who lives close by the Kelly brothers' ranch, testified that condemnation of the parcel of land needed for the airport expansion would ruin the remainder of the ranch, which he considers good farm land. Ohlemeyer said he knew from personal experience that planes flying close overhead created "terrible" noise and made living conditions difficult. The city has offered the Kelly

ELKS TO SPONSOR AIR CADET COURSE

The Elks lodge will sponsor a "refresher course" at Klamath Union high school after January 1, for flying cadets, according to an announcement made Friday by Angus Newton, chairman of the Elks "Keep 'Em Flying" committee.

Newton stated he had information that the army and navy enlistments might be cancelled soon and men needed would be taken from the draft-age group. Those wishing to enlist in the flying cadets are asked to call the secretary of the Elks lodge, 8181, for further information. Those eligible are men having had two years of college or a high school education.

The WAFFLE HOUSE WAFFLETTIS

Some morning when you're sort of low And feeling pretty awful, Just stop in at the "Waffle House" And order up a waffle. And as you wait to have it served, It's fun to sit and chatter, And watch how daintily the cook Manipulates her batter. She pours it on the waffle iron, Then clamps down on the bubbles, Then cooks till she is safely sure To have no sticking troubles. She hands it to you on a plate, Your heart begins to flutter, And with your knife you snare it e'er With choicest golden butter. Then with a smooch of glowing glee, And with a bid to smother it e'er With choicest golden butter. You let the butter melt a bit Then fill the holes with syrup. The waffle quickly disappears To it's last rest in your tummy, And you go forth to face the day All bright and glad and cheery. — L. G. CARR
