Don't Spread Gossip

N England, after war broke out and the enemy was busy using every conceivable means of getting military and naval information, a great campaign was waged to stop careless gossip. People who were in a position to know something about military activities, such as the employes of aircraft and arms factories, were pleaded with to keep their knowledge to themselves. The effort proved quite effective.

Here in the United States, and here in Klamath county, we are great talkers. We have had no reason to be otherwise, up to the present time. But now it should become a responsibility of citizenship to avoid the spreading of information of any kind that may be of value to the enemy. This responsibility, perhaps, rests heaviest upon newspapers, radio stations, and persons in positions of authority. But it applies, also, to every good citizen. In this modern war, the enemy will use every conceivable means of obtaining information. A chance clue in a printed story, an innocently spoken word, a bit of stray backyard gossip, may supply just enough news to the foe that he will use it to the great harm of this country and its armed forces.

The people are asked not to discuss movements or concentrations of men or ships, not to discuss new military techniques or new weapons, not to discuss defense plant production capacities, and not to discuss military construction projects.

It is not easy to place restrictions on the free and easy talk that has been the custom here so long. We are all going to watch ourselves closely-and if any reader is worried about what he may do in the way of chance slips, he should be working on a newspaper.

We Can Be Proud

DEOPLE of Klamath county can be proud of the showing that has been made here in the purchase of defense savings stamps and bonds. If sales proceed at the present rate, it is possible that they may reach the remarkable and magnificent sum of $1,000,000 by the first of the year. This figure includes the purchases already made by the Klamath Indians, and the $150,000 additional which they will spend from tribal funds if authority is granted in Washington.

We have not seen any figures from other counties which might be used for comparison, but it is our opinion that no comparable county has done better and we would venture a challenge that none has done so well.

But let us not rest on these claimed laurels. Our country is in a war. Defense savings bonds (the name doesn't sound just right any more) will help finance that war. At the same time, they are a good investment and a method of savings.

War Conferences Long in Progress Says Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 (P)-President Roosevelt asserted today that conferences had been in progress for a long time-for weeks at least-among the allies ombatting the axis.

He would not discuss at his press conference, however, the possibility of an inter-allied command meeting in Washington to work out a common strategy for the conduct of hostilities.

replied, without elaboration, that they had discussed common defense in a common war.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19-Mr. Roosevelt's blunt move toward some kind of mandatory as well as voluntary "censor-ship"—a word he termed "ab-horrent"—is apparently causing some abhorrence at the outset Mandatory censorship could mean blue-penciling of copy. blank spaces in newspapersbut it won't. France had that kind before it fell. The idea has never been tried in this country. and never will be. The confusion will 'be straightened out by the new censor. Byron Price a conscientious, non-political, exper-ienced news executive with the background of A. P. experience.

Censorship is a negative thing. No nation ever won a war through censorship. Civilian enthusiasm has never been rallied to the giving of utmost energy for victory by the suppression of facts. Censorship might even injure morale by encouraging suspicions and allowing rumors and gossip to fly unheeded.

There may be a danger here of the government getting the horse behind the cart. What is needed most is an affirmative policy of news dispensing. The best propaganda in the world for us is factual truth. We do not need radios preaching hate. encouraging bitterness, like the nazis. Events of the recent past speak enough for that. GOVERNORS OF STATES ASKED FOR WAR AID

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 (AP) President Roosevelt said today he had asked governors of the states and territories to trans-fer immediately to the federal employment service all separate state and territorial employment agencies.

Mr. Roosevelt added that the governors were giving full co-operation to the war effort. The requested transfer, president told his press conference, is designed to bring about utilization to the fullest possible extent of all man and woman power to increase the output of var materials. Last week, he said, he had considered summoning all the governors to Washington but there was such complete cooperation and understanding that this would be waste motion.

Mr. Roosevelt read to the conference a statement from a committee of the governors conference and the council of state governments emphasizing the need of correlated fiscal action among the national, state and governments to combat inflation, expedite defense production and prepare for a postwar adjustment.

The governors committee advised Mr. Roosevelt they had adopted a six-point program which pledged them to:

1-Give priority to activities which will best promote defense. 2-Postpone non-defense pub lic works. 3-Maintain public facilities in good condition and improve purchasing and administration procedure. 4-Begin preparing programs of useful post-war public works.

5—Retire debt or accumulative cash reserves to finance post-war readjustment. 6—Safeguard the services and Looking for Bargains? Turn preserve the institutions of a to the Classified page free democracy, both state and CHICAGO, Dec. 19...Six suggestions for motor manners were offered to drivers today by the National Safety council.

The traffic tips are part of the council's "Give Courtesy for Christmas" campaign, designed to cut the peak accident toll during the holiday season. Here they are:

1. Stay in line your way through traffic by squeezing in and out. 2. Don't sneak through interections on the yellow light. 3. Dim your lights when meeting cars at night 4. Give pedestrians a chance to reach the curb when they are
