

DAUGHTERS AT ROTARY LUNCH AT TULELAKE

TULELAKE — From small daughters in high chairs to grown up young ladies, every single Rotary dad had a daughter and some who had no daughters of their own "squired" borrowed daughters at the first annual Daughter and Father luncheon Monday at which members of the local Rotary club were hosts.

The day was a gala event for many of the young guests who greeted one of the most popular Santa Clauses to visit Tulelake. Santa came with a well filled sack and distributed gifts even to the hosts. The annex of the Tulelake Community Presbyterian church where the dinner was served by the Community guild was a bower of Christmas evergreens, red and green Christmas candles highlighted by a glowing, glittering Christmas tree, that dazzled even the high chair small folks, blood daughters of R. M. Prior, Rev. George Almond and the borrowed Baby Metz that A. A. Rodenberger introduced.

George Reiben, principal of the high school had as his guests his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Donald Reiben, San Francisco, formerly Mary Frances Johnson. W. H. Anderson also had a married daughter guest, Mrs. Bill Bond, Tulelake, formerly Jean Anderson.

Four young women who for the past year have served Rotary luncheons, Marjorie Larsen, Harriett Coulson, Dorothy Thomas and Caroline Ryckman, and five young women who sang the grand old Christmas carols, Edna Marie Griffith, Mary Dugan, Natalie Welch, Joyce Turnbaugh and Patty Gentry also were remembered by Santa and were guests of the club.

Miss Gentry offered two accordion numbers, "Silent Night" and an encore during the luncheon hour. Places were marked for fifty guests.

Santa in distributing his gifts questioned closely conduct of some of the members and only his generosity gave presents to A. A. Rodenberger, J. W. Carlisle, C. C. Spears and Floyd A. Boyd. All admitted they had been "not so good" during the past twelve months but promised better behavior in the year ahead. P. C. Bergeman, program chairman for the day was not so sure either that he deserved a gift.

There will be no meeting next week, the next luncheon being scheduled for January 7 when J. W. Carlisle will be chairman.

3-Month Job Nullified by Blackout Rule

OLYMPIA, Wash., Dec. 23 (AP) — For more than three months, Leonard Huber labored to create a lighted religious spectacle for a Christmas season illumination contest.

Atop a tower on a hill, he created the figure of a shining angel. Below in the yard, life-size figures portrayed the nativity scene.

Then last weekend the contest was cancelled because of war. But Huber did not feel his labor on the "Peace on Earth" symbol was in vain. He estimated more than 5000 persons drove to see the by-road display Sunday night. Until long past midnight, many of them dropped to their knees in a drenching rain.

Vital Part of Any Education Is Daily Newspaper Reading

By RUTH MILLET
The excuse of many women for knowing less than men about what is going on in the world is that they are so busy with homemaking that they just haven't time to keep up.

But a survey just made by the campus newspaper of a large midwestern college would indicate that it is just an excuse—and not a reason. For the survey showed that in the men's dormitories there was one newspaper covering world events for every 23 men living there—but only one newspaper for every 65 co-eds in the women's dormitories.

That is a pretty good sign that women lag behind men in their interest in world affairs even before they have any homemaking responsibilities to take up their time. It indicates also, that given the same chance at an education as men, women are still less interested than men in what is happening outside their own small social group.

And even though those college men are far ahead of the women when it comes to apparent interest in world affairs, their record is disgraceful. EDUCATION SHOULD INCLUDE NEWS

When there is only one newspaper for 23 men, the amount of time any of them can spend reading it is far too limited for a person who is spending four years and several thousand dollars getting an "education." For no matter how much he learns from text books, no student could hope to emerge from college a well-informed person if for four years his knowledge of world affairs had come from "headline skimming."

That is something that Dad—who is footing the bills for his son's or daughter's education—ought to think about. If he can scrape up the cash to send his boy to college, he ought to scrape a little harder and subscribe to a newspaper for him.

And it might give an interested aunt an idea. What better Christmas gift for a college student than a subscription to this newspaper? One that a student won't have to wait to read until 22 or 64 other students have finished glancing at the headlines.

many articles now subject to excises.

These two members of the house ways and means committee emphasized, however, that the committee would not meet until after the first of the year to consider even tentative programs. January 15 appeared a likely date for the start of hearings on whatever specific suggestions treasury and congressional tax experts may evolve. Treasury Secretary Morgenthau recently asked the committee to prepare a bill for new billions of dollars.

Transportation News

RAILWAY HELPS MOVEMENTS OF MILITARY UNITS

In the 12 months ending with August this year, military movements aggregating 2,080,077 passengers were handled by U. S. railroads. Special train service was operated to take care of about two-thirds of the total movement of army and navy personnel.

While military passenger movement has been large, its relation to the total amount of passenger service performed by the railroads is not so impressive. The railroads performed approximately 22 billion passenger miles of service in 1938, when the military movement was relatively uninfluenced by the national defense program. Assuming that army and navy personnel is transported, on the average for other passengers, the military movement this year will account for a smaller proportion of the total than most people will suspect.

The average passenger haul last year was about 524 miles, a new high. On the basis of transporting approximately two million members of the army and navy personnel an average distance four times greater than the average for all passengers last year would account for less than 2 per cent of the total passenger miles now anticipated for this year.

Japanese First Oahu Air Raid Victim

HONOLULU, Dec. 23 (AP)—Oahu island's first air raid shelter victim was a Japanese alien.

Motor Patrolman Edward Pule said that Susumu Katamaya, 40, was crushed to death Sunday by a 300-pound stone which rolled into the cave he and a neighbor, Tetsusaku Koizumi, were digging out of a hillside as a refuge from air attack.

The accident occurred at Walaui, 10 miles north of Honolulu. Koizumi, 45, was seriously injured.

State Tax Levy Filed Monday

SALEM, Dec. 23 (AP) — The state tax levy for the first six months of 1942, first in history in which there is no property tax for state purposes including elementary schools, was filed by the state tax commission Monday.

The commission, announcing that increased income and inheritance tax receipts would make the state property tax unnecessary, said there probably would be no state property tax during the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The 1941 income tax receipts exceeded estimates by $1,821,058.
