

OBSERVANCE OF NEW YEAR'S IN KLAMATH SET

The coming of the New Year will find many a Klamath Falls resident looking forward to a year of knocking down to aid in the national defense program, to work for various government agencies, and to take part in Red Cross work.

On Thursday, January 1, church goes will respond to President Roosevelt's plea for an hour of prayer and ministers have arranged a union meeting from 10 to 11 o'clock in the First Methodist church at Tenth and High streets. All persons are invited to take part.

City schools, which resumed work following a week's Christmas vacation, will have a holiday on Thursday, returning to their studies again Friday morning.

All libraries and business houses, stores and shops will be closed throughout the day Thursday, and housewives are urged to lay in a supply of groceries to hold them over the New Year's holiday.

The state liquor store will close at 10 p. m. Wednesday and reopen Friday at 10 a. m.

PROMOTED

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 30. Fred Ames, timber management head, was promoted to assistant U. S. regional forester in charge of recreation and lands Saturday, succeeding F. V. Horton, who became chief of the division of operations, replacing M. L. Merritt, retired.

CITY COUNCIL MOVES TO GET AIRPORT LAND

Seventeen acres of property adjacent to the Klamath airport site and owned by Huffman, Walker and Horn, were ordered condemned at an adjourned meeting of the city council Monday night and City Attorney D. E. Van Vactor ordered to draw up an ordinance which will enable the council to appoint a board of reviewers in order that a fair price may be offered for the property.

N. J. and J. A. Rowley accepted a price of $75 per acre for their property adjoining present airport holdings. N. J. Rowley has 16 acres, J. A. Rowley has five. The latter asked for permission to remain on the property until May and this favor was granted.

The 1942 gasoline and oil bid for the city was awarded to the Tidewater Associated Oil company, 14.72 cents per gallon for gasoline, and 68 1/2 cents per gallon for oil.

Winnie Hoak will continue to feed the prisoners at a set price of 25 cents per meal for prisoners and 40 cents for guards. A sample menu for one week's meals was submitted and approved.

The city office supply bids were not awarded.

The chief of police was authorized by the council to arrest all traffic violators who go against the red lights, these persons to receive regular traffic fines. Members of the council expressed themselves as feeling sure motorists were sufficiently familiar with the workings of the new traffic signals to be aware of such violations.

WATCH SERVICE SET AT FIRST BAPTIST

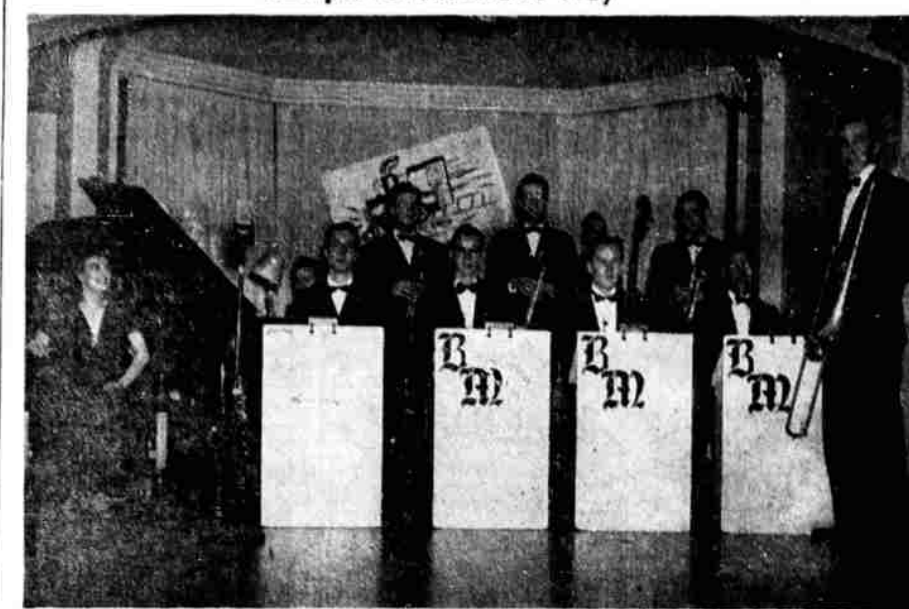

The First Baptist church at Eighth and Washington streets has scheduled a New Year's watch service for Wednesday night beginning at 8 o'clock.

The service will consist of four interesting and well planned phases. From 8 to 9 p. m. the senior young people will present an hour of entertainment with drama and readings. A praise and devotional service will be conducted by the pastor with the congregation participating from 9 to 10 p. m. An hour of friendship and fellowship will be enjoyed in the basement from 10 to 11 p. m., and the young people will serve the refreshments. The service will close with a sacred hour of worship from 11 to 12 p. m. The Lord's Supper will be served to the church and a part of this hour will be spent in prayer and supplication for the nation in this hour of peril.

All church members are urged to be in attendance and friends are invited to this watch service.

One-fifth to one-sixth of their incomes is paid in rent by working-class families in England.

Campus Orchestra to Play

Merrymakers at the annual New Year's eve ball Wednesday at Reames Golf and Country club will dance to Bob MacFadden's campus orchestra from the University of Oregon. Motorists will be interested to learn that the road from the highway into the clubhouse grounds will be well plowed out as well as a parking space cleared. In the picture, standing, Bob MacFadden, leader; left to right, seated, Yvonne Lane, vocalist; Tommy Thompson, Bob Dudley, Lorin Russell, Dick Carlton; second row, Dave Fortmiller, Chuck Nelson, Bill Skinner; piano, Gene Leo; standing, third row, Bob Sell. A special invitation is issued to students home from school for the holidays.

VIOLATORS OF SIGNAL LIGHTS TO GET FINES

The warning period is over and Chief of Police Frank Hamm has given orders to members of the police department to check all motorists who run through red lights, and who insist upon making right hand turns when the red light is on. Definitely, the chief stated, the red light is for stop, and stop completely.

Jay walkers are also in for a bad time of it. Chief Hamm stated, and those who cross between blocks will be faced with a penalty.

"I have advised my men to use force if necessary to enforce these laws," Chief Hamm stated. "It is dangerous from the standpoint of pedestrians and this red light violation must cease."

Library Club Postpones Meet

MERRILL—The January meeting of the Merrill Library club falling on New Year's day has been postponed until Thursday, January 8, when newly elected officers will take the chairs. The meeting will be called to order by the retiring president, Mrs. E. E. Kilpatrick and the gavel turned over to Mrs. M. A. Bowman, elected at the December meeting. The executive board will serve as hostesses.

TOUGH BIRD

KENDALLVILLE, Ind. (AP)—A white leghorn pullet on Eugene Treesh's farm near South Milford walked too close to a shredder and was buried under a heap of fodder.

Thirty-seven days later Treesh dug the chicken out—hungry, thirsty and weak but still able to walk.

Day of Prayer Set at St. Paul's On New Year's Day

President Roosevelt has set aside New Year's day as a day of prayer. He says, "We are confident in our devotion to country, in our love of freedom, in our inheritance of courage, but our strength, as the strength of all men everywhere is of greater avail as God upholds us." In setting aside the first day of 1942 he speaks of it as "a day of prayer of asking for forgiveness for our shortcomings of the past, of consecration to the tasks of the present, of asking God's help in days to come."

There will be a service in St. Paul's church on New Year's day at 10 a. m. Any people of the community who wish to attend will be welcome.

Winter Setting Adds Final Touch To Scout Party

TULELAKE—Moonlight, frosty air and the crunch of wagon wheels over the snow combined to make a fitting finale to the Winema Girl Scout party on December 22. Guests gathered at the Winema school under the leadership of Mrs. Marion Soderman and Mrs. Helen Brainard. The girls played games, cracked a Mexican Pinata, then sat down to a chicken dinner at a table gay with holiday trimmings. Each of the 20 girls present assisted in making the party a success.

Following dinner, loaded into a hay wagon contributed by Levi Griffith, the girls caroled at a number of homes in the district.

Prior to the party the group devoted several days to the collection of shoes, clothing and the reconditioning of toys for the less fortunate, living up to the ideal of all Girl Scouts, "Helping Others."

Present for the Christmas festivities were Arleta and Darlene Griffith, Francis Frey, Bernice Nebiker, Dale Smith, Louella Davis, Margy Waits, Mary England, Martha Tucker, Naeda Brainard, Phyllis and Imogene Rowan, Alice Nelson, Mildred Reed, Mae Baker, Dorris Porterfield.

HIGH SCHOOL News Notes and Comment

By MAURICE O'CALLAGHAN

School came back to the students of the high school among groans and grunts of objection from those who do not care to attend school when they could be enjoying themselves skiing or what not.

It was the same as it is after every vacation except it was probably a little more outspoken than it would have been if the vacation had continued through this week.

What raises most objections, however, is having to return Friday after having New Year's day free.

During the vacation the maintenance department worked over the building with paint and varnish to get the building back in shape for the returning "herd."

All approaches to the building's halls were painted and the halls were gone over with something to make the floors shine when the doors were opened Monday morning. In many of the rooms desks were sanded and smoothed up all set for the pencil pushers.

It seemed the hope of the majority of students that it would snow so hard that no buses could get through to school so no school would be held, although it didn't turn out as hoped three buses were late in arriving at the building, the one from Algoma, the one from Lakeshore and the bus driven by Mr. Stiles.

Over the holiday the home ec club was active in helping the firemen of Klamath Falls get dolls ready to distribute to the less fortunate children of the area. The girls assisted by making clothes and dressing dolls for the fire laddies to give away.

It was also announced that the girls' sale of home ec material such as pot holders, tea towels and stuffed animals was a huge success.

It was stated that the girls had most of their products taken off their hands at a good financial gain. All those who purchased goods from the girls are extended the hearty thanks of the entire group.

Wednesday night the Pep Peppers are sponsoring a New Year's dance in the girls' gym. It is a girl-ask-boy dance and all gals in KUHS are asked to stick out their tentacles and try to snare a man.

And speaking about dances, the talk of the day among the dancers of the school is the DeMolay Snowball which was held last Friday at the Willard hotel.

Those who attended called it one of the best formal dances ever held for the younger set in Klamath Falls.
