

SOCIETY

By LOIS STEWART

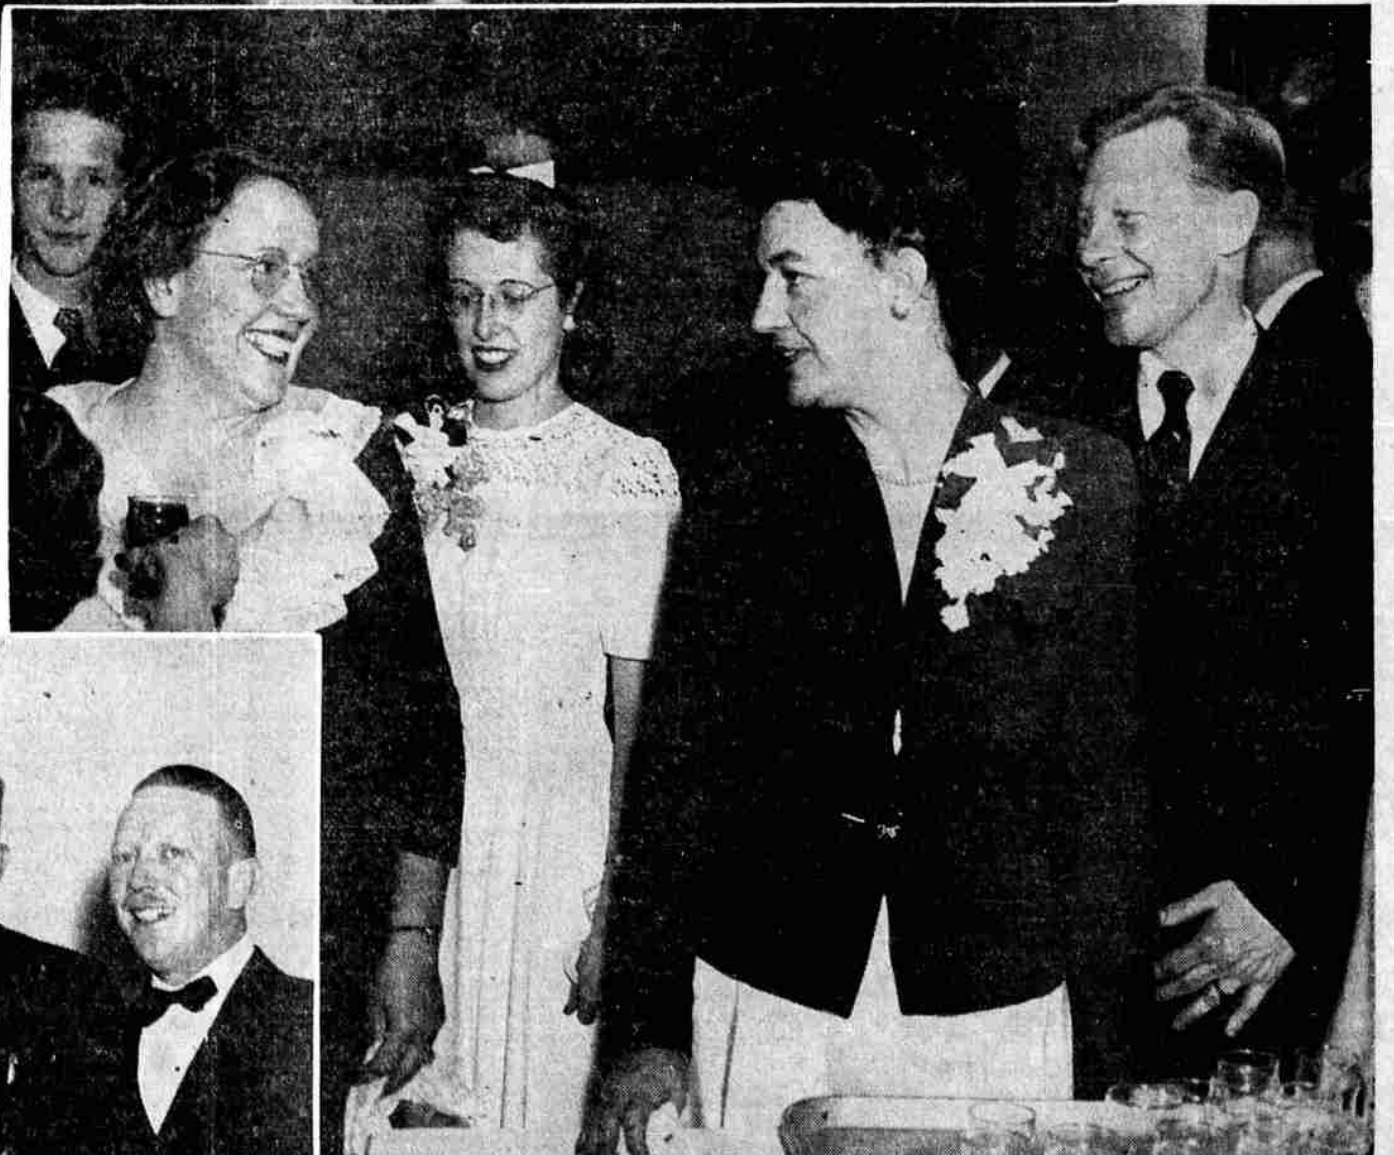

KIWANIS PARTY

Mrs. Malcolm Epley, wife of the new Kiwanis president, chats with District Attorney L. Orth Sisemore during intermission.

President Malcolm Epley, installed at Wednesday night's Kiwanis dinner dance, snapped talking over club plans with Keva Hutchinson, secretary, (left), and Fred Southwell, retiring president, (center). Above, Miss Jean Hauger and Mr. Willard Ward among the dancers.

George McIntyre, left, discusses Kiwanian and national policies with a foursome in the center picture. Left to right, Mr. McIntyre, Mrs. McIntyre, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Reynolds.

This likely looking group, left, was responsible for Wednesday evening's Kiwanis installation and dancing party at the Willard hotel. Left to right, Mr. Stanley Woodruff, Dr. Ernest D. Lamb, chairman; Mr. Paul Roberts, Mr. E. M. Igl, and Mr. Willard Ward.

Above, "Mrs. Walter Winchell," in private life Mrs. Ted Medford, receives congratulations for her clever skit. Left to right, Mrs. Medford, Mrs. Tom Milne, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stanfield. Mr. Milne in the background. (All pictures by Wesley Guderian of The Herald and News).

