troops "literally overran the place." As many as 20,000 Japanese were said unofficially to have been thrown into the assault.

The garrison's chief function, these quarters said, was to hold the tiny island long enough to wreck its oil wells, whose product is so rich it can be piped into ships for use.

Imperial Tokyo headquarters said Japanese troops also captured Kakas airdrome at Menado, chief port of Minahassa peninsula, Celebes island, across the Celebes sea from Borneo.

British troops seeking to check the eight-mile-a-day advance of Japanese invaders of Malaya dug in on a new defense line 150 miles north of Singapore under hammering by Rising Sun bombers.

The new line was hinged north of Seremban, 35 miles southeast of Kuala Lumpur, capital of the federated Malay states, which the British had left shrouded in the smoke of a scorched earth retreat.

A correspondent of Reuters, British news agency, described the removal of men and supplies from Kuala Lumpur as "one of the most magnificent feats in the history of this campaign"—a nine-hour job accomplished almost without mishap.

Fern Short, who with Velma Sauer planned and pioneered Velma's Studio of Beauty, announced the purchase of the shop from the present owners, Irene Drake and Eulah Hagerman.

The beauty studio, located on the mezzanine of Whytal's, will be known as the Studio of Beauty.

Fern Short left the original studio here two years after it was opened, to take charge of her own shop in Grants Pass, Mrs. Sauer acquired this shop in the transaction.

A Bond a Week

Rufus Quillan, salesman in Sears appliance department, gets his first U. S. defense bond from T. R. Thompson, store manager. Quillan subscribed to buy a bond every week as Sears regular employees signed up 100% in the defense bond campaign.

"Over the top" said Sears employees last week when the defense bond budget plan was explained by the management and Paul Roberts.

Each employee was interviewed as to his participation in the plan, and all wanted to support the government in the present emergency, all regular employees subscribing to buy bonds on the payroll deduction plan. A total of $5075 was pledged by Sears regular employees. Rufus Quillan, salesman, signed for a bond a week or a total of 52 bonds during the ensuing year.

Postponement of plans to increase the city's jail quarters, discussion of the soot, sawdust and cinders abatement and numerous other matters made up the night's menu Monday when the city fathers gathered for the second meeting of the year in the council chambers.

The statement by City Attorney D. E. Van Vactor that he would present an ordinance dealing with the abatement of soot, sawdust and cinders, dubbed the "Triple S" ordinance, met with applause from members of the city council who have long been urged to take action against the "black snow."

Van Vactor told Mayor John H. Houston he had a difficult task before him, inasmuch as there is no similar rule to go by and there were numerous questions to be answered before the drafting of the ordinance. It is expected that the ordinance will be introduced at next Monday night's meeting of the council. The proposed remodeling program of the jail was set aside as a post war program and plans to present the matter before the PWR, (public works reserve), were announced.

City Engineer E. A. Thomas said he had worked out the plans with City Building Inspector Harold Franey but that there was no chance of getting materials for the job under the rulings of OPM, Copper wiring and steel for doors and windows will not be obtainable, Thomas stated and only where defense work is going on are cities allowed construction materials.

Franey advised the council he had figures on the job which would give the jail the entire basement of the city hall and move the inspector's offices upstairs. It would cost in the neighborhood of $10,000, Franey stated and he "questioned the ability of the city to obtain building materials."

Ruth Olds Bathiany, city treasurer, advised the city council she had checked over her bonds and found that on Series D improvement bonds of $50,000 due January 1, 1943, the city could save $625 by calling them on July 1, 1942, and that by calling on the same date another $50,000, there would be a saving of $1500. This would build up the city's sinking fund, she observed.

Mrs. Bathiany will meet with the bond committee soon to discuss the matter. The council approved.

The building inspector, who recently attended the FBI school held in Medford, advised the council the main topic of discussion was defense.

"The FBI recommends that the police department in any locality control in the absence of the military," Franey stated. "All efforts are made to concentrate authority in as few persons as possible. The men who instructed us quote England as the source of their information. They warned us against friction developing from the appointments and investment of jurisdiction."

The city council was advised the Klamath Bus company has dissolved as a corporation and a request was made to transfer the franchise to the partnership of William A. Thompson and R. C. Sugg.

Councilmen passed the $1000 junk dealer's bond ordinance to the third and final reading. Election of J. J. Keller, veteran of the council, as president of that body, took place late in the evening.

RUSSIANS TAKE OREL, CLOSING PINGERS TRAP

sia and Libya, Hitler was reported sending heavy German reinforcements into southern Italy for an attack on Malta, British island stronghold in the central Mediterranean.

Badly needing a victory to bolster his tattered prestige, the Nazi Fuehrer apparently looked on Malta as a "ripe plum" ready to fall after months of incessant day-and-night bombing.

There also was the possibility, of course, that Hitler feared a British invasion of Italy once the north African campaign is ended and was pouring German reinforcements into Italy to stiffen fascist resistance against any such attack.

In Western Europe The London Daily Mail said in a Madrid dispatch that German troops concentrated at points in Italy from Brindisi to Syracuse were expected from within 10 days to three weeks to attack Malta, 95-mile-square island whose forces have destructively attacked attempts to bolster Axis troops in Libya with men and supplies.

The Daily Express said that RAF observers had noted German reinforcements massing in western parts of occupied France and in Norway since Adolf Hitler took personal command of his armed forces Dec. 19, suggesting he "may have sent his troops to these two countries to be prepared for a possible invasion from Britain."

A special Berlin correspondent for the Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter said the German high command had confirmed reports of several changes in the German leadership on the Russian front, but declined for tactical reasons to list them.

Location of Fire Asked by Readers

Dozens of calls were received at The Herald and News office Monday asking the location of the $2,250,000 grain elevator fire pictured on page one of Monday's Herald.

The fire occurred Saturday at Superior, Wisconsin, but this information was accidentally omitted from the caption under the picture, which was transmitted to San Francisco by way of Associated Press Wirephoto and supplied to The Herald by AP Teletype service.

GUS STEDRY DIES NEAR TIONESTA

Gus Stedry, for the past 36 years a resident of Klamath county, died suddenly near Tionesta, Calif., Monday afternoon according to word received here. Mr. Stedry was employed by the Klamath Concrete Pipe company.

Mr. Stedry was a native of East Saginaw, Mich., and was aged 63 years at the time of his death. He is survived by his wife, Bessie, of Klamath Falls, and one daughter, Mrs. Beatrice Baum of Bentley, Mich.

An active member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Mr. Stedry was also a charter member of that organization. He also had the distinction of being a charter member of Klamath Falls No. 1106, Loyal Order of Moose, and a member of the White Pelican Legion, No. 146, Legion of the Moose.

He was made an honorary past governor of Klamath Falls lodge, LOOM, and also a member of the Fellowship Degree which he received for the splendid service done in the interest of the order. He was a member of the local Moose lodge for more than 30 years.

Friends paid tribute to Mr. Stedry's memory Tuesday. He leaves scores of friends to mourn his passing. He was respected and loved by all who knew him, a diligent worker and a friend to those in need.

The remains of Mr. Stedry were expected to arrive in Klamath Falls from Alturas late Tuesday. Funeral services will be announced later by Ward's.

The majority of the orders granted Klamath mills were for No. 3 common boards with a sprinkling of No. 2 common. The total of 12 to 15 million feet was not considered staggering alongside the estimated 100,000,000-foot per year production of Klamath mills.

county are to be ordered closed, I am of the opinion that the venereal disease problem will be more acute after the closure of the houses than it was before. By simply closing the houses the problems will not be solved and the questions then will be—what shall we do with the girls who have been working in these houses, and what will we do with the girls who work the streets?

"We have another problem that doesn't exist in other parts of the state—the Indian population," Dr. Rozendal continued. "Thirty per cent to 50 per cent is a minimum figure on Indians, both men and women, who are suffering from venereal diseases. We are probably being placed in the position we are because Medford is more likely to have a cantonment of some 30,000 men before long."

Dr. Stricker explained to the state board of health at the Tuesday meeting in Salem that the board is interested only in the phase dealing with control of venereal disease. The other two phases are closure of the houses, which is a police responsibility, and rehabilitation of the prostitutes, which is a matter for social agencies.

ath county, the fund so far reported has been raised entirely by voluntary subscription. Only in the business district is an active canvass under way.

As yet, the bulk of the fund has come from the city of Klamath Falls, with contributions from the outside districts relatively small — although many fine individual gifts have come from people scattered all over the county. It is hoped that outside contributions may be largely increased in the near future.

Contributions may be mailed to the Red Cross headquarters, in the armory building, to the First National bank, the U. S. National bank, the Klamath county chamber of commerce, the First Savings & Loan association, radio station KFJL or The Herald and News.

DEFENSE
Is pretense Without Health!

The preservation of Health is a DUTY. Few seem conscious that there is such a thing as PHYSICAL MORALITY. —HERBERT SPENCER.

Perhaps you have never thought of it in just that way. But actually the preservation of Health is a duty; a duty that is doubly emphasized in these momentous days when our country's needs are so important. Health has become our first defense. Preventable diseases, curable diseases, are needless drains on our resources, at a time when every effort should be directed toward making this nation strong, stalwart, impregnable. Though you may take no direct part in the program of National Defense, you are helping — very definitely helping — by your own firm resolution not to tolerate "half-way" health in critical times such as these.

GET WELL—and KEEP WELL! It's your most important duty.

SERVICE—PLUS...

Because your physician cannot ethically speak for himself, we are happy to take this opportunity to remind you of his ability and willingness to serve you in your resolution to seek the Highway of Health.

Go — go now — to a reputable physician. Cooperate with him. Give him every opportunity to help you. It is a simple step to take, but one that may well give you many added years of health and usefulness. Your country needs, and will continue to need, the best that you can give.
