

STATE GUARD ROSTER GIVEN FOR KLAMATH

The complete enlistment record of Company B of the first regiment of the Oregon state guard, Klamath's own unit, was announced Thursday by Captain D. E. Van Vactor.

The list follows:
Arthur L. Anderson, Reginald B. Ashworth, William E. Call, Cecil C. Calvert, Donald R. Chase, Darrell E. Christie, Cecil F. Crow, Everett R. Dennis, Dennis E. Dupuy, Arvid C. Erickson, Asa C. Forristall.

Lawrence A. French, Carl F. Goode, Hans M. Hansen, Walter H. Hansen, James C. Harper, Axel R. Jacobson, Gunnar Johnson, Vernon B. Keese, Harry L. Kellis, Paul O. Landry, John P. Linman, Albert J. Loomis.

Charles L. MacDonald, John C. Miller, John W. Mills, George W. Misfeldt, Andrew V. Moore, Zenus L. Murphy, Newton B. Nelson, Abraham N. Neslin, Robert O. Odell, Henry A. Olson, Charles E. Perry, Ralph E. Porter, Paul F. Poteet, Rene C. Prudhomme, Eliza H. Pryor, Larry W. Quinn, Charles W. Robertson.

Van Vactor Wednesday announced the officers roster which included First Lieut. Thomas B. Abbott and Second Lieut. Nelson Reed.

Thompson was named first sergeant; Turpen, supply sergeant; Christie, mess sergeant; Chase, Anderson, Landry and Odell, sergeants; and MacDonald, Kellis, Nelson, Ustick, Neslin, Walter Hansen and Call corporals.

Klamath Dairymen Named to Offices in State Group

ASTORIA, Jan. 15 (P)—The Oregon Dairymen's association reelected Oscar Hagg, Reedsville, president yesterday.

Other officers include Lee Holiday, Klamath Falls, vice president; Roger Morse, OSC extension dairymen, secretary-treasurer; Earl Mack, Klamath Falls, director.

If there is no referee at a prize fight, the man who puts on brass knuckles will win. And the same is true in the industrial game.—Thurman Arnold, assistant attorney-general.

HIGH SCHOOL

News Notes and Comment

By MAURICE O'CALLAGHAN

The students of KUHS have done much to forward the defense of this nation, and they are still helping.

They have not only joined the first aid squads and the messenger service (in case of communication disruption during an air raid), and enrolled as fire wardens in the high school building, but they are buying hundreds of dollars worth of defense stamps.

Clifford Rowe announced Wednesday that the purchases had reached the $310 mark on that day. This makes a gain of about $100 a week for the high school.

Final exams were over Thursday and students didn't have to go to school Friday unless they had work in various classes to make up.

Thursday afternoon the Boys' Alliance sponsored a dance at which admission was 10 cents per each. A 10-piece band and vocalist supplied by the music department played.

The proceeds will be turned over to the Red Cross war relief drive, which when added to the $10 donated by the student body a while back will prove a sizeable fund contributed by the high school students.

About $45 or $50 was turned over by the home rooms of the high school in the recent Red Cross roll call. All home rooms are members of the Red Cross.

The "meal ticket" cardboards sell for $2.20, which includes the tax. The tickets will save $1.50 in admission to games, and the best of it is if you have a ticket you can take a party to the game on the same ticket.

Don't forget the defense stamps that are being sold in room 316 of the high school.

And at the games over the weekend don't forget your pep. Help the team. They have done well thus far this season, and they give promise of going places this season under the proper conditions. Get out and fight with the team for the school. We are going to beat Bend as we have never done before.

E. E. Vanderpool stated that sale of tickets for basketball games has progressed well thus far and the sales are expected to go to a high mark as soon as mid-year tests are over and students have settled down to the routine of regular school again.

Brother of Local Woman 'Bails Out' Of Big Bomber

A local boy, Master Sergeant Irwin H. Gould, is a full fledged candidate for the Caterpillar club, according to word received here by his sister, Mrs. James O'Keefe of 2205 Wiard street.

Gould was one of nine men in the crew of a four-motored flying fortress from MacDill field, Florida, forced to bail out in the Everglades January 5, a few moments before the plane crashed in a swamp. The pilot was not reached for some time and fellow fliers dropped food to him in the swamp. The others were able to land closer to the town of Clewiston and walked to a community where they reported the accident.

Third air force headquarters at Tampa said the plane left on a night training flight just before the crash.

Hitler wants all the skills in Germany for the army. It should make going down hill easier.
