Immunized — Students of Sprague River and Bonanza were given smallpox and diphtheria immunization shots Wednesday by Dr. Peter H. Rozendal, Klamath county health officer. Seventy-three students received the shots at Bonanza, 65 at Sprague River. Dr. Rozendal said Thursday he had done the same work at Bly this week and would continue the program this month.

Son Reported Safe—Mrs. O. O. Wyman of 3021 Boardman, received word from her son, Harry L. Porter, that he is safe "somewhere in the Pacific." Porter, serving with the navy, was at Pearl Harbor when the Japs attacked. The letter which arrived from him Thursday, first word Mrs. Wyman had received, was heavily censored.

To Speak — Fire Chief Keith K. Ambrose will meet with the Riverside Parent-Teacher association Tuesday, January 20, at 2 o'clock sharp to discuss precautions against air raids and incendiary bombs. The meeting is called early and all members are asked to be prompt in attendance.

Correction—The Fremont PTA will meet Tuesday, January 20, instead of Wednesday as announced in the PTA column this week. Members are asked to note the correction. Fire Chief Keith K. Ambrose will be the speaker.

From the South—Mrs. J. T. Morris has returned to her home on Kane street from Los Angeles and other points in southern California, where she spent three weeks visiting her sister and family.

Breaks Leg—Duke Phillips, 2250 Garden avenue, an employee of the Southern Pacific, suffered a broken leg on his job Wednesday night and has been sent to the Southern Pacific hospital at San Francisco for treatment.

Returns—C. A. Henderson, Klamath county agricultural agent, resumed his position Wednesday after an illness of several days.

Returns Home—Mrs. William Conley has returned to her home on Orchard avenue from Salt Lake City where she visited with friends and relatives.

Sprains Wrist—B. E. Hayden, superintendent of the Klamath project, USRS, suffered a badly sprained right wrist in a fall near his home this week.

Pamphlet on Food Available Here At Agent's Office

Printed in red, white and blue, thousands of copies of a four-page leaflet entitled "Food to Keep You Fit" have been issued by the extension service at Oregon State college. This leaflet, prepared by Mabel C. Mack, extension nutritionist, is aimed at "better family living for national defense."

It features the kind of foods needed by every family daily, including milk, fruits and vegetables high in vitamins, potatoes, eggs, meat or other high protein foods, cereals and bread, butter, sweets and fats for extra calories, and water. The leaflet also includes the approximate amount of these foods needed per week. Copies of the leaflet may be had from the office of Winnifred K. Gillen, home demonstration agent, 208 Federal building.

Tulelake

TULELAKE — Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ager and children were called to Portland early this week by the serious illness of Mrs. Ager's father. Ager had just returned from his father's bedside at Ager when the second message arrived.

Mrs. Paul Prenger, formerly Betty Jean Ryckman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Ryckman, arrived Tuesday for a visit of several days at the home of her parents, Mrs. Prenger's husband, with the United States marines left for duty at an unknown destination January 7. While north Mrs. Prenger will visit relatives also at Longview, Seattle, Yakima and Wapato, Wash.

OSC Extension Service Assisting In Book Drive

The Oregon State college extension service will assist in the nationwide drive to collect books for distribution to army camps, naval bases, and other service centers, announces Winnifred K. Gillen, Klamath county home demonstration agent. The campaign is being sponsored by the American Library association, the American Red Cross, and the United Service organizations.

"It is hoped that from five to ten million volumes will be obtained to supplement the library services furnished by the government," says Mrs. Gillen. "The books obtained will be loaned out free on a liberal basis with no hard and fast return dates and no fines in case the service men are unable to return them."

Those in charge of the campaign stress the fact that the interests of service men cover a wide range, including technical and professional material, as well as recreational reading. The median educational level of the army is third year high school, although many camps, such as those training aviators, are composed almost entirely of college men.

Those who have books to contribute are asked to take them to the nearest public library or branch library or to 602 Main street, Klamath Falls, between 12:30 and 4 p. m. where they will be collected for redistribution.

Transportation News

Construction of New S. P. Track Nears Completion

Construction of the Southern Pacific railroad's $175,000 track addition program in the Klamath Falls yards is nearly 70 per cent complete, District Freight and Passenger Agent C. H. Reeves said Wednesday. He said that work has been temporarily stopped on the project but that it was expected the job would be finished by early spring. Completion will mean an estimated 75 per cent increase in the yard's car handling facilities. Part of the addition is already in operation, Reeves disclosed.

Original plans called for several miles of new track, construction of new oil and water columns and the extension of roundhouse stalls to accommodate more heavy type locomotives.

Cooperation of Delayed Passengers On Trains Asked

Cooperation of passengers aboard delayed Southern Pacific trains is being requested in the form of a printed message from A. T. Mercier, SP president, it was revealed Wednesday.

The message points out that the railroads are doing a vital job in national defense and may run into occasional delays to the service interference.

Mercier's message follows: "In the present emergency, the railroads, as one of America's fundamental defense agencies, have a vital job to do.

"This is particularly true of Southern Pacific, because of our strategic network of lines in the Pacific coast area.

"Movements over our lines of the armed forces of the United States and of war materials may cause some interference with normal freight and passenger operations.

"When this occurs, we know you will understand that efficient transportation for our military forces and vital industries is imperative and that any delays or inconvenience will be cheerfully and patriotically accepted."

FUNERALS

KATHLEEN KUNTZ
Friends are respectfully invited to attend the funeral services for the late Kathleen Kuntz to be held Friday morning, January 16, 1942, at Sacred Heart church, where a requiem mass will be celebrated for the repose of her soul commencing at 9 a. m., with the Rev. T. P. Casey officiating. Interment will follow in Mt. Calvary Memorial park. Recitation of the rosary will be conducted Thursday evening in the chapel of the Earl Whitlock Funeral Home, Pine street at Sixth, with the Rev. T. P. Casey officiating. The offi-

PATRIOTIC PROGRAM MATERIAL OFFERED

Patriotic program suggestions will be presented Monday night, January 19, at the Fremont school auditorium at 8 p. m. at a meeting for recreation leaders of organizations, teachers and other program directors.

Izola Jensen, extension specialist in community social organization, Oregon State college, will conduct the meeting. She will present the film, "Plows, Planes, and Peace," as well as other visual aids, stories, and originals of some patriotic songs, and discuss various plays and pageants, which are available. Free mimeographs of some of this material will be distributed.

Patriotic plays and pageants from the state extension office, which may be borrowed for a limited time, will be on exhibit at 7:30 p. m.

Leaders from all organizations interested in material which can be used for patriotic programs are urged to take advantage of this meeting as it is the only one planned for this year by the extension service, according to Winnifred K. Gillen, home demonstration agent.

Members of the Third Order of St. Francis will convene at the Earl Whitlock Funeral Home, Thursday evening at 8 p. m. to say the little office of the dead for the deceased member immediately following the rosary. Friends are invited.

Whirlwind Campaign for Paralysis Funds Planned

A whirlwind campaign to raise funds to fight infantile paralysis in Klamath county as well as in the nation is being planned by Samuel P. Miller, county chairman, and members of his committee.

Starting late in order to give the Red Cross ample time to complete their drive for emergency funds, the chairman stated Thursday he would start Monday placing the March of Dimes boxes in the schools and throughout the city in stores and restaurants as well as business houses. The

BOND BUYERS WAIT FOR NEW SUPPLY

Klamath county is marching along with the rest of the nation in what government officials describe as unprecedented response to the appeal for purchase of United States defense bonds and stamps.

A check with banks late Wednesday proved that buyers were continuing to ask for all types of bonds which are not available here this week. It is understood that the bureau of printing and engraving has gone on a 24-hour basis, but that the demand is so great it cannot be met. One bank received 60 type E, or $25 bonds, at noon and this but partially met the advance demand.

Bank's are taking the customer's money, issuing a receipt and the bonds will be given as soon as they arrive. All bonds are dated back to the first of the month of the date issued and interest starts from that time whether or not the actual bond is in the hands of the owner. The fact that the bonds are not available has not lessened the demand, one banker stated Wednesday morning.

Klamath county has set January 20 as the date for the bond pledge day campaign. The treasury department has asked that every citizen be reached through the polls and that each man and woman visit their precinct polling places either to sign a pledge or to have their names

KLAMATHITES RESPOND TO BOOK DRIVE

Taking their place in the van of the civilian defense effort, Klamath men and women by Thursday had responded to Oregon's victory book campaign with stacks of reading matter, voluntary office hours, and donations of space for receiving books.

The nation-wide "contribute-a-book" campaign, sponsored by the American Library association, the U.S.O. and the Red Cross, aims to fill all service camp libraries with live reading matter for all men in the services.

Headquarters in Klamath Falls is at 602 Main street, where books may be left between 12:30 and 4 p. m. Mrs. Syd Evans and Mrs. Frank Ira White received books there Wednesday; Miss Mary Eckstein and Mrs. Jack Nixon on Thursday. Branch libraries are receiving contributions of books outside the city.

Use of the Main street office was contributed by Rudy Jacobs, and the big "victory book campaign" sign by the Klamath Sign Co., according to Miss Enola Hawkins who is assisting with the drive.
