Currin's
If you love fine-milled soap the way I do, you'll be glad to hear about the half-price sale on Lucien LeLong's soaps at Currin's right now. While they last, the price is $1.00 for four bars. The regular price is $2.00.

In New York there is a little dress shop on Eighth street called "Shirley's" . . . Which is attracting more attention than most little shops its size because of its window display . . . There are two mannequins . . . One is an exact "twin" of Shirley herself . . . And the other is Katharine Hepburn.

At the present price, which amounts to only 25c a bar, this soap doesn't cost any more than many which aren't milled and consequently don't last so long . . . And if you've never used LeLong's soaps before you'll find new thrill in the soft, smooth lather.

Beauty Shop
THERE is a minimum price of $3.50 on permanent waves in Klamath Falls, you know . . . (Adhered to by all Klamath members of the Oregon Association of Beauty Shop Owners) . . . So that makes the Monday "special" which Ruby Engel gives at the Medical-Dental Beauty shop all the more special.

These soaps come in six fragrances, and the shades of the bars harmonize any colored bathroom.

On Mondays, in case you've forgotten, you can get her regular 5c Oil of Redwood permanent for $3.50 . . . There are other cheaper ones which are $3.50 all the time, but why have one of them when an appointment on Monday will get you a better wave?

Covered up shoulders in evening gowns are amazingly popular in New York . . . Maybe it's the cold weather.

Of course, you mustn't forget her wonderful Creme Oil machineless wave, which costs $6 . . . I had one last time and can't say too much for it . . . The $5 machineless is very good, too.

Garcelon's
FOR those who want smart, good looking glassware at a budget price, Garcelon's carries a line that runs as low as 44c a piece . . . And will effectively brighten up any dinner table in a most charming way.

Of course, you mustn't forget her wonderful Creme Oil machineless wave, which costs $6 . . . I had one last time and can't say too much for it . . . The $5 machineless is very good, too.

This glassware is made by the famous Sharpe, manufacturer also of the exquisite Sharpe Rock Crystal . . . It is blown, cut glass . . . And is able to sell for so little, also, because it is machine cut instead of hand cut . . . (The Rock Crystal is all hand cut, you know).

Currin's
CURRIN'S was fortunate in being able to get hold of another 12 dozen bottles of Tussy Wind and Weather Lotion . . . It arrived Wednesday night, and by noon Thursday three of the 12 dozen were sold.

If you are looking for inexpensive but smart looking glassware be sure to see what Garcelon's has in the three patterns of this budget-priced line.

So if you want to take advantage of this half-price sale on a marvelous skin-protector, you'd better not wait . . . The price is 50c for the regular $1.00 size, while they last.

Fitted, long bodices are expected to be more popular than ever this Spring.

Men whose faces and hands get chapped are big boosters for Tussy Wind and Weather Lotion, too . . . And mothers like it for baby's knees and cheeks . . . Besides their own skin.

Substitutes for Shoes?
TO avoid a possible clamping down by the government, shoe manufacturers are seriously considering cutting their production of shoes below what they had planned.

Sizing Us Up
SOMETIME this month a nationwide WPA project will publish a bulletin entitled "Women's Measurements, Garment and Pattern Construction," which, it is hoped, manufacturers of women's apparel will follow . . . A total of 14,698 women was measured for it!

They have indicated already that they plan to use every possible substitute for critical materials, whatever that means, so they won't run into shortages.

Clothes made by different manufacturers may be labeled the same size and yet often vary greatly . . . So this may be the answer . . . And the customer may save some money that formerly went for alterations.

NEWSPAPERS AID FARMER WAR EFFORTS

Local newspapers and radio stations are becoming more and more important in carrying on adult education in agriculture and, probably in other fields as well, according to leaders in the Oregon State college extension service who are planning an all-out effort to aid the national food-for-victory drive and other programs related to the war.

Newspapers always have constituted an important medium for reaching the people with agricultural information, these officials said, but with transportation curtailed through tire rationing and other means, papers become even more vital. With tires and even cars being rationed there probably will be a reduction in number of farm meetings and gatherings in general within the next year or so.

The value of a state-owned radio station capable of being used to whatever extent is necessary in distributing information is also becoming more apparent in the present war effort. KOAC at Corvallis will step up to 5000 watts power as soon as remaining parts held up by priorities can be obtained.

While newspapers will be called on for still more important service, they in turn are facing serious problems, state college men point out. War conditions probably will reduce advertising in some lines at least, coupled with higher prices for paper. Recommendations are being made to staff members supplying material to papers to write their news in the fewest words possible.

CROP INSURANCE FINAL DATE SET

Final date for taking out a federal all-risk crop insurance policy on spring wheat is February 28, Clyde Kiddle, crop insurance assistant at the state AAA office, has reminded Oregon spring wheat growers.

County offices in spring wheat areas will shortly be staging intensive campaigns calling growers' attention to the new note payment plan, Kiddle said. Under this plan, the premium can be deducted from any indemnity the farmer might receive, or from his AAA payment or wheat loan, whichever is made first. These notes mature August 18, 1942, and can be paid in wheat or cash any time before that.

California Crop Gain Reported

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 15 (UP)—California's vegetable and melon crop for 1941 was valued at $105,881,000, or 14 per cent more than the previous all-time record of $92,616,000 of last year, the cooperative crop reporting service announced today.

Increased plantings and higher unit returns on most crops accounted for the gain. Lettuce continued to lead all vegetables with a total of $26,645,000, or approximately one-fourth of the state's total vegetable income. Tomatoes were second with $18,331,000, asparagus third with $9,606,000, cantaloupe fourth with $8,834,000 and celery fifth with $7,774,000.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their false teeth dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the absolute non-acid powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour, checks "false color" (denture breath), but FASTEETH at any drug store.

Hog Production Gain in Prospect

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 15 (UP)—The state department of agriculture reported Wednesday that more than half of the fresh pork requirements of California are being met by importations from other western and mid-west states.

California hog producers, however, indicated they expected to increase production by some 11 per cent in 1942 in an effort to reach national defense goals.

The department said that California pig crops of 1941 were equal to 1940, and except for 1939 were the largest on record. Combined spring and fall crops of pigs in this state totaled 1,008,000 head.

NITROGEN BOOSTS GRASS SEED YIELD

Nitrogen fertilizers are best applied to some seed crops in the spring, according to results of one year's tests made on 10-acre plots in a chewing fescue field of the Red Hill Soils experimental area near Oregon City.

The best yield of seed was obtained where a spring application of 100 pounds per acre of 16-20-0 fertilizer was made, plus 100 pounds of ammonium sulphate.

PRIORITY LIST ON MACHINERY OUT

A detailed list of materials allocations for manufacture of all types of farm machinery and equipment during the coming year has been received by Robert B. Taylor, Adams, chairman of the Oregon USDA defense board. The list, based on the OPM order restricting machinery for manufacture of new machinery to 83 per cent of the 1940 figure, and materials for parts to 150 per cent, will be available at county USDA defense board offices.

The program set up by OPM further emphasizes the need of prompt ordering of parts and necessary new equipment on the part of farmers, Taylor said. Distribution of what new equipment that is made will probably be on the basis of demand and need, and it is up to farmers to express their needs by ordering now, he advised.

Coast Shipbuilders Speed Up Work

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14 (AP)—Pleas of government men for ships and more ships for America's war effort brought agreement from Pacific coast shipbuilders and unions today to keep production going 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Seventy-five labor and management delegates, representing all 19 west coast shipyards and all interested unions, returned to the government-inspired conference today to tackle the question of overtime pay, the only obstacle to putting the "round-the-clock production plan into effect immediately.

FARMERS CAN HELP BATTLE WITH SCRAP

It was only a short time ago that the American people were gathering up their scrap iron and selling it to Japan and what did they do? In short, they peddled it right back on top of us just a few weeks ago. We know that before the war started and we were selling scrap iron to the Japs that no one got rich from the money received for that scrap iron.

Now, Uncle Sam is asking the farmers to gather up all of their scrap iron. This drive for scrap iron is urgent. It is needed in defense production for America. Let's get out and get in the scrap.

No doubt, there are a lot of farmers who have said, or will say, "Boy, I would like to take a crack at those Japs." If they really feel that way, they will pick up some of those old plow shares, broken rake teeth, broken mower wheels, and what have you, and bring them in.

A scrap iron dealer here will pay $7.50 per ton for scrap iron and $16 per ton for cast iron, according to the County Agricultural Conservation association. "The price isn't a great deal, but the scrap material will be a great deal more effective in tanks and munitions than it will be laying somewhere in a fence corner every year," said the association. "Every farmer in Klamath county would be willing to give all of his scrap iron to the government free of charge if someone would come and haul it away, but no agency is doing this and it is up to them to haul it in and the price received will more than pay for the effort. We are at war and Uncle Sam needs the scrap iron. Let's get in the scrap, whether it is by the ton, pound or carload. If every farmer in the county contributed only a few pounds of scrap each, it would add up to enough for a considerable contribution to the steel industry."

Portland Seeks More Wood Fuel

PORTLAND, Jan. 15 (AP)—The shortage of fuel wood in Portland resulting from last week's low temperatures, caused temporary suspension of license fees for wood sales in the city.

Acting Mayor William J. Bowes appealed to farmers to bring in wood. Supplies in the city were seriously depleted, he said, and there was a strong demand for all types of fuel.
