

PAPERS FAVOR WITHHOLDING NEWS, REPORT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—Byron Price, director of censorship, said Thursday that 99.9 per cent of the newspaper and radio industries were in favor of voluntarily withholding news which might be of value to the enemy and that "we're not crossing the bridge of threats or penalties until we come to it—if we do."

"And I am not sure we are going to come to it," Price added in a press conference discussion of a code of censorship issued Wednesday for newspapers, periodicals and other publications.

Price said that his censorship office would not censor the government nor seek to control government publication, but was interested in two things.

"First, we think there should be an ample supply of information given out," Price said. "And secondly we think that the newspapers and radio should not be left holding the bag in conflicts between government departments, or between government offices in Washington and field offices, on what may or may not be used. We would like to hear of every instance of such conflicts."

Price said that the radio would be under considerably greater censorship restrictions than that of the press and that a code worked out with the industry probably would be issued Friday. He explained that radio stations taking news services would be expected under the code to omit the broadcasting of some matter which it might be entirely proper for newspapers to print.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—American newspapers, magazines and similar organs of information today had an official outline from the office of censorship of publication "practices which the government feels are desirable for the effective prosecution of the war."

The code, issued by Byron Price, director of censorship, calls for withholding publication of "certain classes of information which might be of aid to the enemy."

In general, the ban falls on the publication of ship, plane and troop movements; specifications and locations of fortifications, bomb shelters and camouflaged objects; specific information concerning production of war material; general weather information, and photographs or maps disclosing military information of any kind. Also barred to news concerning movements of the president, and casualty lists other than in a publication's local field.

J. H. Sorrells, assistant director of censorship, will administer the code.

HIGH SCHOOL

News Notes and Comment

By MAURICE O'CALLAGHAN

Paul Deller, advisor of the local Hi-Y, Glen Kennedy, president, Phil Blohm, vice president and Bill King, secretary, went to Medford Friday to attend a discussion in regard to a possible Hi-Y convention sometime in the future. Officers and advisors from several other chapters in Oregon will also be at the meeting.

The Red Cross benefit dance given by the Boys' Alliance brought in close to $50 which will be turned over to that group's war relief drive which is now in progress.

The band furnished by the music department, played and was dubbed the best dance band to come from the high school. The band had 10 pieces and a vocalist, Jean Bowling. Students who attended the dance were impressed very much by the arrangements.

Friday seniors were notified of a planned air raid drill for Monday. The plans for future air raids were discussed.

They are in brief the following: At two long bells or whistles students who live within a 20 minute walking distance of the high school will go home. If they come on buses or cannot get home in 20 minutes they will take positions in various safe portions of the building.

For a warning when enemy planes are close the signal will be one long blast of whistles or bells at which time students on the third floor of the building will go to the basement, and those on the second, or main floor, will take safe positions in the halls or in their rooms.

In case the building must be evacuated after raid warnings a continuous series of short blasts of bells or whistles will be sounded and all pupils and teachers will leave the building and go home or to friends' homes near the school.

The all clear will be three blasts of bells or whistles at which time the regular schedule will be resumed.

During the drills or in actual raids the fire warden, first aid helpers, and the emergency police will go to their posts in the building.

The building will house three first aid stations to take care of the injured if there are any.

Monday in the practice drill students within 20 minutes walking distance of the high school will go home, and will probably have slips which the parents should sign in regard to time of arrival, and to find if it is possible to get home in 20 minutes.

Students were asked Thursday to take home printed explanations of bond day pledging.

Don't miss the basketball games Friday and Saturday night with Bend.

The freshmen have a game with Tulelake at 6 o'clock and the Wildcats will play the first team of Tulelake at 7 o'clock.

Saturday the Wildcats play a preliminary at 7 o'clock with Henley.

Don't be worried about black-outs. Games will continue as usual.

No school Friday.
