

SOCIETY

By LOIS STEWART

SAYING AU REVOIR to Miss Joliene Woodruff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Woodruff of this city, who left Wednesday evening by train for Bakersfield to make arrangements for her wedding to First Lieutenant Stanley Staiger of the United States air corps. Left to right, Mr. Charles Bailey, Miss Patricia Woodruff, Miss Joliene Woodruff and her mother, Mrs. R. C. Woodruff, who accompanied her daughter south, and Mrs. James Burness.
—Pictures by Wesley Guderian of The Herald and News.

KLAMATH HAS DEVELOPED a two-piano team of its own and one of which it may be justly proud. Mrs. Samuel A. Mushen, and Mrs. Joseph C. O'Neill, (standing), presented a miniature concert of their own before the Klamath Falls Woman's Library club on Monday afternoon. Their numbers ranged from Rachmaninoff, Gluck and Debussy through Grieg's piano concerto to delightful numbers by American composers. Another reason for an "all-local" program of this city's own talent.

RESPONSIBILITY RESTS on the shoulders of Jean Leverich of Klamath Falls who was recently appointed in charge of registration of Klamath women for war service. The appointment was made by Mrs. Sadie Orr-Dunbar, president of the National Federation of Women's Clubs on a recent visit to this city. Mrs. Leverich spoke Thursday before members of the Soroptomist club at the weekly luncheon in the Willard hotel.
—Kennell-Ellis.

SOCIAL HIGHLIGHT of the year for Klamath Falls Woman's Library club members is the annual benefit bridge tea sponsored by Doernbecher hospital for children in Portland. Date for the party—Saturday, January 31. All women of the county are invited to take part. Chairmen are Mrs. Robert A. Thompson, in charge of cards, and Mrs. Ralph Waldo Stearns, arranging for the tea. Seated, left to right, Mrs. Emile Buzaid, tallies; Mrs. Robert A. Thompson, Mrs. J. F. King, stage decorations. Standing, Mrs. Glenn Kent, cookies; Mrs. R. R. Proebstel, president of Library club; Mrs. Franklin L. Weaver, serving; Mrs. A. G. Proctor, calling; Mrs. Ernest D. Lamb, tea table decorations.