More Than 1000 Attend Birthday Ball Saturday

Twelve hundred dancers stood at attention in the Klamath Falls armory shortly before midnight Saturday as the "Star Spangled Banner" was played by Emile Buzard's orchestra in tribute to the birthday anniversary of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The more than one thousand persons who crowded the armory dance floor contributed to the infantile paralysis fund which is used locally as well as throughout the nation to aid in fighting the dread disease. Chairman Samuel P. Miller reported the dance one of the most successful in the years the paralysis dances have been held. Five cakes donated by Beck's bakery were given away during the evening.

Miller stated a final report including the March of Dimes donations and theatre collections would be made within the week.

COUNTY SHAPES PLAN FOR NEW DRAFT SIGNUP

Machinery for the new selective service registration on February 16 began taking shape in Klamath county Monday.

County Clerk Mae K. Short, who again will have charge of the registration places, called for volunteers to assist her in this work. Good penmanship, she said, is a particularly desirable qualification.

There will be no remuneration, but Mrs. Short recalled that at the first draft registration many clerks volunteered, and she expects a similar response on this occasion.

The Klamath armory will again be the principal registration point in the city. Other places will be named, but there will not be so many as at the first registration last year. Registration hours will be from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Those to register on February 16 are men who have not previously registered in selective service and in the following age group:

Born on or after February 17, 1897, and on or before December 31, 1921.

Those to register had become 20 years of age on December 31, 1941, and will not have become 45 years of age on February 16, 1942.

It was emphasized that those who registered previously are not required to register again.

STOCKMEN OPPOSE AIR TARGET PLAN

LAKEVIEW—The proposed army aerial gunnery range in central Lake county would result in the reduction of beef and sheep production in Lake county by more than 30 per cent, according to a delegation of stockmen who have just returned from San Francisco where they discussed the project with army officials.

About 60,000 Lake county animals will be slaughtered and numerous ranches outside the proposed military reservation will go out of business for the duration of the war if the present plans are carried into execution. The broad strip in the center of the county, 80 by 60 miles in size, carries much of Lake county's sheep during the winter months and thousands of head of cattle during the early spring months when the stock must be kept off the ranches because of the irrigation of the meadows, yet cannot be turned into the national forest and other timber lands because of the deep blanket of snow.

Lake county stockmen and county and civic leaders are not fighting the proposed military refuge if the government actually needs it, but they have requested permission to range stock thereon from January 1 to June 1 of each year, during which months it is claimed that the weather on the 5000 foot plateau is so uncertain that it is unlikely that the air corps will have much use for the 2,000,000 acres involved.

Auto Toll Zero For First Month On Rural Roads

The month of January closed without a single fatal accident or serious injury on Klamath's hundreds of miles of rural highways, according to state police officers who viewed the situation with a great deal of pleasure.

The fact that motorists are driving more carefully in order to conserve tires and equipment was considered one of the reasons Klamath's traffic headache has been kept in the aspirin stage.

Doesn't it seem more sensible?

Cigarettes Cause Two Fires Here Over Weekend

A cigarette thrown from a window in the Poole theatre building destroyed an awning over the Shopping Guide entrance on Seventh street. The call was received at 10:18 p. m. Saturday. There was no other damage reported.
