the heart of the Indies and headquarters of Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell's United Nations command in the far Pacific.

The new assault completed a half-moon arc of Japanese bases threatening Java from the north, extending from lower Sumatra on the west, thence through Borneo and Celebes islands to Bali on the east.

Imperial Tokyo headquarters said that Japanese troops, protected by the guns of warships, landed at dawn on the mountainous 30-mile-long island of Timor. The landings were executed near Dilli and Koepang, respectively the Portuguese and Dutch capitals.

Tokyo made no mention of resistance, but Australian and Dutch troops were known to have occupied the Portuguese section of the island last December to combat such an assault.

Rich in gold, copper, bismuth and petroleum, Timor lies at the eastern tip of the Dutch Indies Archipelago, only 450 miles northwest of Darwin, Australia.

During early day campaigns for the presidency, collars bearing the nominee's picture were worn by enthusiastic voters.

A total of 807,307 air-raid wardens have volunteered for service, the Office of Civilian defense reports.

then replied that he believed the address would be devoted chiefly to painting a picture of a world at war.

He pointed out, that in order for the president to see this picture, he has available copies of every army and navy report and dispatch, other channels of information available to the government, and an interchange of information among and between the United Nations.

Early's remark about the protection offered by the oceans recalled the chief executive's statement to a press conference Tuesday that, under certain conditions, New York might be shelled and Detroit bombed the following night. He conceded too, that an attack on Alaska was not at all impossible.

enemy air activity over Burma. Rangoon, which in normal times boasts a population of almost 500,000, was half-deserted today as British troops fought to stem a Japanese invasion drive on the banks of the narrow Bilin river, only 80 miles to the northeast.

Loss of the Bilin river line probably would mean the British would have to fall back upon the Sittang river, 30 miles to the west and last natural barrier protecting Rangoon.

FORMAL OPENING OF OIL STATION SLATED

Official opening of the Union Service station at Main and Conger under company operation was announced for this Saturday by R. O. Snodgrass, Union Oil company agent.

This station, formerly operated by Jim Kaler, had heretofore been leased by Union to private operators. The station will now be managed by W. S. "Bill" Larson under the company operation plan. Kaler has become associated with Cliff Hogue on Sixth street.

Larson has just been transferred here from Eugene by Union, and he is making his home with his wife and infant daughter at 1124 California avenue.

Snodgrass announced that gifts would be given to those attending the gala opening Saturday, and invited the public inspect this station featuring "Minute Man Service."

The submarine, which fired "seventeen or eighteen shells—more or less" at the ship before the crew abandoned her, sent a torpedo into the Olinda about amidship after the crew had taken to the boats, Nogueira said, adding that the freighter went down about an hour and a half later.

Nogueira said the undersea raider was "small enough to put in my pocket." The submersible had one deck gun and two machine guns.

Sports Briefs

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20 (Wide World)—Wonder what will happen to Yale football if the Elis hire Clark Shaughnessy, who looks like the most likely candidate for the coaching job? . . . Loyola of New Orleans and Chicago U., where he used to coach, both dropped football and the prospects don't look any too bright at Stanford if that ban on crowds over 5,000 stands and if the navy takes over part of the campus and athletic facilities. . . Oh, well, didn't Billy Phelps wisecrack that Yale gave up football two years ago? . . . The death of John Burke, who fought that famous 110-round bout with Andy Bowen in New Orleans, has been reported from two different places within three years, but old-timers say the "real" Burke died several years before these reports started coming in.

HOT STOVE WARMUP

Rationing has hit semi-pro baseball. Team rosters will be limited to 16 players for district, state and national tournaments, and the big playoff at Wichita, Kas., in August will be held down to 24 teams. . .

Batavia (N.Y.) is the first town to name its baseball park after General MacArthur. . . The Pirates, left practically high and dry in the infield department when Arky Vaughan was traded and Bill Cox drafted, are talking about shifting big Bob Elliott from the outfield to third base. . . Frankie Frisch might do well to ask Mel Ott how that works. . . Joe Vosmik, the old Indian and Red socker, may manage the Canton (O.) Middle Atlantic league club this year.

Henderson Asks Housewives to Sell Excess Sugar

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20 (AP)—Leon Henderson wants housewives to share their sugar by selling excess supplies either to their grocer or to neighbors.

The price administrator suggested last night that those who have more sugar than they need adopt one of these methods to clear themselves of any suspicion that they have been hoarding in anticipation of the rationing program which will go into effect some time next month. When ration cards are issued householders must state how much sugar they have on hand.

Grocers who buy back sugar should pay current prices, Henderson said, and resell it at the same prices as a patriotic service.

The government is drawing up an industrial sugar rationing plan which may reduce by as much as 40 per cent next month the use of sweetening for some commodities. Until such time as the plan is completed, the war production board has fixed March quotas for industrial users at 80 per cent of the consumption in the corresponding month of 1941. This allocation is the same as that for February.

Members said they were deeply grateful for the volunteered services of all firms and individuals who took part in the registration.

JOE VS. BILLY?

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 20 (AP)—Promoter Mike Jacobs says he plans to pit Billy Conn against Joe Louis this year if conditions allow it.

"Billy Conn's showing against Tony Zale the other night warrants a return match," Jacobs said. "Just because Conn didn't knock Zale out is nothing against him. Billy is a good boy. He'll give Joe a run."
