Fifty to Eighty Killed by Bomb

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21 (AP)—Fifty to eighty persons were killed today by a direct hit on a bomb shelter during a Japanese raid on Banjowangi, easternmost town on the island of Java, said a Netherlands East Indies communique picked up here by CBS. The communique was broadcast by the Batavia radio.

ZUCKERMAN CASE HEARS DEFENSE

STOCKTON, Feb. 22 (UP)—The defense began its case Friday in the murder trial of Maurice Zuckerman, 63-year-old wealthy produce merchant charged with the Armistice day gun slaying of Otto Dander, 40, one-time commander of the Stockton American Legion.

Defense Attorney John Taaffe called two doctors to the stand in an attempt to show that Zuckerman suffered in a fight preceding the shooting resulted in an occurrence of an old back injury and also caused two heart attacks.

Sheriff Martin Ansbro preceded the doctors to the stand. Ansbro testified that for three consecutive years he had issued a gun permit to Zuckerman, making the merchant a special deputy sheriff.

Sheriff Replies

"Didn't Zuckerman tell you that on the day of the fight he announced to a crowd he was a deputy sheriff?" asked Taaffe.

"I don't recall that," Sheriff Ansbro replied.

Zuckerman allegedly shot Dander during a four-way quarrel and fight between H. E. Podmore, Honolulu, Zuckerman, and Otto and Ernest Dander at a Stockton cocktail lounge.

Taaffe acknowledged he would attempt to prove that Zuckerman drew his gun to ward off Dander's blows, and that the gun fired accidentally.

District Attorney Raymond Dunne asked Ansbro how many special gun permits he had issued. Ansbro replied "about 100."

"Did Mr. Zuckerman ever make an arrest on the basis of this permit?" asked Dunne.

"Not that I know of," said the sheriff.

Defendant in Pain

Dr. J. Smalley, Stockton, said he treated Zuckerman for a bone displacement in his back a year ago. Under questioning by Taaffe, Smalley said he was called to the county jail to treat Zuckerman for a recurrence of the injury.

"Was he in pain?" asked Taaffe.

"Yes," replied Dr. Smalley.

"Did he complain of other ailments?"

"Yes. He said his heart was beating rapidly and he was short of breath."

Dr. Gordon Hein, San Francisco, professor of medicine at the University of California, testified Zuckerman suffered from coronary occlusion.

SATURDAY SET FOR FIREMEN'S ANNUAL BALL

MERRILL—"You don't have to be 100 years old to be a pioneer," so say the Merrill firemen who will entertain Saturday night, February 21, at the annual ball in the community hall. The pioneer theme will revolve around hall decorations, and costumes of the guests and the committee for the dance. A cash prize is to be given for the best dressed "pioneer" couple and merchandise prizes will be given away during the evening at a country store.

There's even a burro or two in the background to add color and noise and the committee hopes that the public will enter wholeheartedly into the fun of "dressing up" and dig deep down into attics and dig up some of the duds worn here in the early days.

To cooperate with the firemen, all of them volunteers who get not one whit of pay when they go to help save property, local business men contributed both cash and merchandise. Contributions are acknowledged from the Valley Service station, Merrill Meat company, Safeway store, Merrill mills, Santford Jones, Merrill garage, J. A. McDonald, Castleman's drug, Columbia Utilities company, R. W. Steele, Hodges store, Heaton's Service station, Merrill lumber company, H. O. Cox, Shell Oil company, Alonzo Hodges, Louis Stewart, John Stolt and the Merrill Variety store.

The Merrill department is equipped and maintained thru the efforts of the men who volunteer to protect homes and businesses in the Merrill community and service is not limited to the town.

Baldy Evans and his orchestra will furnish the music and folks are asked to come out, support the department and have a good time.

ciding whether to wage an offensive or a defensive campaign.

WHEN we are tempted to criticize any of the peoples with whom we are associated in this war, how well are we fitted for CONSTRUCTIVE criticism? How much do we really know? VERY LITTLE, it must be confessed.

SO, you see, while the right to criticize — when, what and whom we please — is a right so precious that it is worth fighting for and worth dying for, it is a right that we common, ordinary people can exercise constructively very, very seldom indeed in time of war.

Only the leaders can know enough of the facts to make decisions. In time of war, it is the business of the leaders to lead and it is the business of the people to follow.

That isn't particularly pleasant, but it is historically true.

their army"—presumably in the Rzhev sector.

MOSCOW, Feb. 21 (AP)—The red army reported today relentless advances on the northwestern, western and southwestern fronts with the liberation of further towns and villages and "extermination" of thousands of Germans.

The reports, however, adhered to the policy of not mentioning specific places, pending the issuance of a special roundup communique. One of these is expected soon.

Meanwhile, Adolf Hitler's plans for a spring drive were challenged by the army newspaper Red Star with the declaration, "We shall yet advance far westward before spring and when it comes we shall develop our offensive on a still larger scale."

Federal Employees To Be Transferred To Vital Agencies

An official statement said consent of employees would be required before transfer.
