

Service Read Before White Banked Altar

Betty Lou Drake Becomes Bride of Donald Vannice in Sunday Morning Ceremony

Miss Betty Lou Drake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Edwin Drake of this city, became the bride of Mr. Donald Vannice, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Vannice of Mount Vernon, Washington, in an impressive ceremony read at nine o'clock Sunday morning in the Unitarian church, Portland.

The altar was banked with white gladioli and calla lilies and lighted by many white candles. The service was read by the Rev. Victor Phillips of the First Methodist church of Klamath Falls, assisted by Rev. Steiner, pastor of the Unitarian church.

As the strains of Lohengrin's processional were played by the organist, the bride entered the church on the arm of her father. She wore ivory satin, her gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, a snug bodice, long full skirt which ended in a train, and long sleeves puffed at the shoulder and ending at the wrists in points. Her veil of Irish lace was held with a coronet of pearls. The bride's flowers were white fuchsias, white sweet peas centered with a lavender orchid, and caught with white satin streamers. Her only jewelry was a lavalliere, gift of the groom.

Miss Mary Jane Drake, the bride's sister, was her maid-of-honor. The bridesmaid was Miss Carolyn Collier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Collier of this city. Both attendants wore white taffeta frocks on which were printed pale pink rosebuds. Their flowers were colonial bouquets of pink and white sweet peas and both wore gardenias in their hair.

Mr. John Zehnbauer of Portland was the best man. Ushers were Mr. Keith Howell of Klamath Falls and Mr. Stanley Czech of Corvallis.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. John B. Arnold, 1708 Northeast Sixth street, Portland. The bride cut her beautifully decorated cake centering a table which stressed the silver and white theme. White stock and pink fuchsia were used in the dining room.

Twenty-five were invited to the reception. Mrs. John Zehnbauer of Portland, the former Ruth Vannice of this city and sister of the groom, and Miss Kay Seberg, sorority sister of the bride and a resident of Portland, presided at the coffee table. Miss Mary Jane Drake, Miss Carolyn Collier and an aunt of the bride, Mrs. Henry Eston of Vancouver, Washington, assisted about the rooms.

Parents of the young couple received with the wedding party. Mrs. Drake wore an afternoon frock of grey blue with a small black straw hat and a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Vannice wore most green with matching accessories and gardenias.

Valentine Dance Set

Third of Series of Winter Dancing Club Parties Planned

Members of the Winter Dancing club anticipated the St. Valentine's dance scheduled for this evening, Saturday, in the Willard hotel ballroom. Clever decorations on the small tables were to stress the holiday theme of red and white. Red and white candies are to center each table.

Reservations have been made by a number of parties which gathered before the dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Milne, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Menti, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bogalay and Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Lowe were to serve as the hosts and hostess for the affair.

The last of the series of parties will be held later in the spring.
