

Toastmistress Club Hears Members Talk

Many Interesting Topics Brought Before Group At Monday Night Meeting

"America and World Understanding," a Reader's Digest program outline, was the subject for the evening meeting of the Toastmistress club, held Monday evening, February the sixteenth, at Fremont school, and proved intensely interesting to the members and their guests. Toastmistress for the evening was Mrs. Keith Rice, who stressed the importance of America's responsibility after the war, in helping to organize a world at peace with law and justice prevailing.

Harry Scherman's "The Last Best Hope of Earth" was briefly reviewed by Mrs. W. H. Hibbard, in the introductory talks. Referring to his principle of the economical and cultural ties which so intricately bind the nations of the world, Mrs. Hibbard said that a permanent peace would never be won until political unity would match the cultural and economical unification which now existed. "This political unity," she said, "can only be brought about when each nation forgets some of her own deep interest for the benefit of humanity. That is 'The Last Best Hope of Earth.'"

Mrs. Emmett Chidester's topic, "The Perplexing Argentine," from John Gunther's "Inside Latin America," focused attention on our southern neighbor, whose roots and instincts have been largely European, seeming almost like a projection of Europe into the western hemisphere.

"Notes for Your Guidance," a British pamphlet of advice given to the Royal Air Force pilots who are in the United States for flight training, was presented by Mrs. Hiram F. Murdoch, who gave a clear picture of America as the English see us. The English boys are instructed to learn to like and understand Americans, said Mrs. Murdoch, as understanding is almost as important as their technical training.

In the absence of Mrs. Archie Beckwith who was to have discussed "Stalin's American Power," by Max Eastman, Toastmistress Mrs. Keith Rice briefly summarized the subject stating, "It is paradoxical that we find ourselves allied with a nation whose principles of government are so diametrically opposed to ours."

After the summary of the topics by the toastmistress, questions and discussion were invited from the audience who responded with interesting and debatable questions. Mrs. Emille Buzaid was candid critic for the evening and Mrs. W. H. Hibbard, club critic, gave constructive criticism.

Miss Inger Frimann was welcomed as a new member, and guests for the evening were Mrs. Coleman O'Laughlin, Mrs. Lon Hunt and Mrs. John Randall.

The club president, Mrs. W. R. Boyd, presided.

The next meeting will be held Monday, February the twenty-third, at Fremont school at a quarter past seven o'clock.

A special toastmistress meeting for voice recordings will be held Friday, February the twenty-seventh, at the home of Mrs. W. D. Miller.

SHOP OWNERS HONOR ATTORNEY AT DINNER MEET

The Klamath Falls unit of the Oregon Association of Beauty Shop Owners and Operators held a dinner honoring their state attorney, Mrs. John Y. Richardson of Portland, on the evening of February the sixteenth at the Elk hotel. A large representation was also present from Lakeview.

A stirring talk was delivered by Mrs. Richardson in regard to the bill to be presented in Salem during the coming legislature. Many points of interest to the profession and general public were covered but the point stressed was the fact that unity of the beauty shops is necessary to acquire laws necessary to bring Oregon up to the standards of neighboring states. Mrs. Richardson stated that laws as they exist in Oregon regarding the beauticians are not sufficient to insure better working conditions for the beauty operator or do not encourage public confidence.

Another point of gain, according to Mrs. Richardson, is the abolition of fraudulent advertising whereby the public will be advised that the beauty service will either be complete, with all services included in the price quoted, or advertised exactly as they are to be rendered. In other words, Mrs. Richardson stressed there must be no further bait advertising.

Now more than ever before Mrs. Richardson considered that morale is a woman's business but that, in coming to the front, she can only be as smart as she feels.

"In other words," she said, "if a woman is well groomed she is more confident of herself and her capacity as a member on the home front."

The convention of the Oregon association will be held March first, second and third at Grants Pass when final plans will be made for the coming year which includes the bill to be presented at Salem. Mrs. Gladys Stephens is president of the Klamath unit of the association.

The Merry-Go-Round club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Clara Price for a potluck dinner. Members present were Mrs. L. J. Brink, Mrs. S. R. Berry, Mrs. G. C. Tattman, Mrs. W. C.
