

Picture News of the Week

VOLUNTEERS—Organizers of a unit whose services will be on call for operation of a proposed mobile field unit to be used for defense purposes met at the Salvation Army Monday afternoon. Mrs. George H. Merryman Jr. was named president and Mrs. Mahr Reymers, secretary and treasurer. Seated, left to right, Mrs. Harry Panning, Mrs. Charles V. Rugh, Mrs. Charles G. Hovey, and Mrs. Merryman. Standing, left to right, Mrs. Mahr Reymers, Mrs. Ted Shoop and Mrs. E. B. Hamm.

WAR PRODUCTION—One of J. H. Schneeberger's Rocker R Poultry farm's hens went all-out to aid the war effort this week when it laid a 6½-ounce egg which measured 7½ inches around the girth and 9 inches around the long way. Schneeberger said it was the largest egg he'd ever seen.

SPORTSMEN—Rex Vowell, left, and Harold Putnam were accorded the distinction of the "outstanding sportsmen" in their respective basin basketball league this week and presented with awards by Lynn Roycroft and Arthur Rickbeil of Rickys Jewelers. Vowell, of the Church league, won the Rickys trophy. Putnam, a member of a Commercial quintet, won Roycroft's annual award.

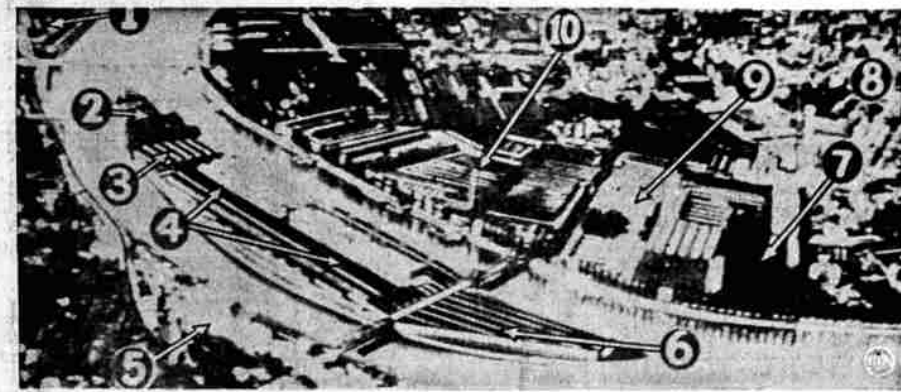

KNOTTED TREE OF SPRAGUE RIVER—This knotted tree trunk is a relic of early days in Klamath county, belonging to the family of George Hurn, pioneer. The huge knot is held in the picture by William Hurn, son of the pioneer. As Klamath Agency farmer, the elder Hurn was in charge of a trail-blazing crew in 1898 which laid out the present Sprague River road. He found a growing pine tree which had been tied in a single knot by some passing traveler. The tree had grown with that knot in its trunk for some years. Hurn took it home and made a table with the knotted trunk as the center leg. It was recently brought from the Hurn basement, where for many years it had been stored.

THEY TOOK HOME SOME GOOD SPUDS—Here are five high-rating Bend trapshooters, each with a sack of high-rating Klamath potatoes. The Bend men received the potatoes at a recent shoot at the Klamath Gun club. Left to right: Dr. W. G. Manning, Lloyd Magill, Vic Plath, Walter Howard, Marshall Hunt. —Bert Rohu photo.

SMART PARLIAMENTARIANS—This is the Malin school Future Farmers of America parliamentary team, which won the district prize recently in competition at Bonanza. Andrew Street, center, is advisor and high school principal at Malin. —Kennell-Ellis

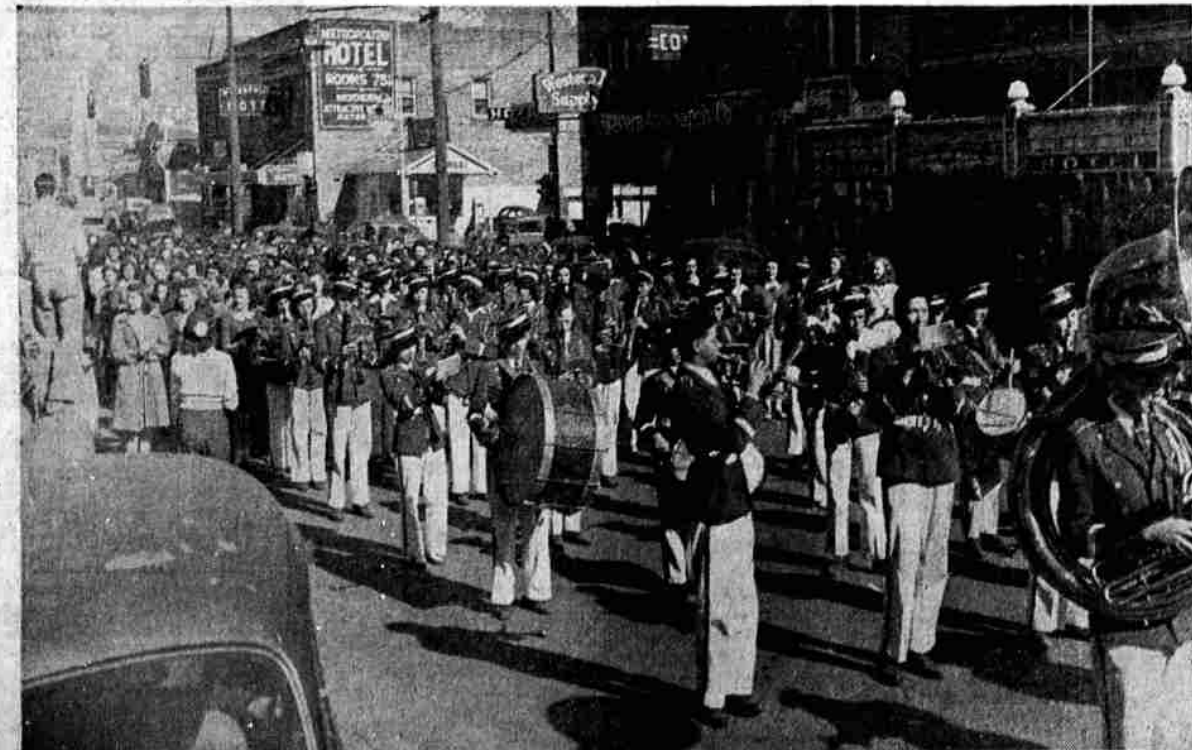

RENAULT MOTOR PLANT—Here's a censor-approved royal air force air view of the huge Renault motor plant on the outskirts of German-occupied Paris, the main objective of a deadly and destructive bombing raid by British bombers in which an estimated 600 persons died. Shown are (1) the plant's export packing department, (2) the 65,000-kilowatt power station, (3) the body press shop, (4) motor vehicle assembly shop, (5) diesel assembly shop, (6) motor repair department, (7) airplane engine plant, (8) offices, and (9) engine test shop. The picture was radioed from London to New York.

GAY SCRAPBOOKS—Camp Fire Girls who belong to the group led by Mrs. Rollin Cantrill and Mrs. Matt Kohn Jr., presented scrapbooks they have made this winter to Mrs. Rollo C. Groesbeck, chairman of the Doernbecher hospital committee. The books were taken to the hospital in Portland on Saturday by Mrs. Groesbeck, Beverly Calhoun, Barbara Dolan, Arlene Brallier, Joanne Meek, Priscilla McDonald, Sally Barnhisel and Colleen Lynch. Second row, Ethelmae Skinner, Dolores Kidder, Beverly Jo Garrison, Marilyn Hemingsen, Betty Bennett, Beverly Kohn and Marilyn Miller. Third row, Catherine Blanas, Gloria Croup, Clarissa Mason, Claudette Gleason, Lois Allen and Faye Nelson. Fourth row, June Vaagen, Mildred Christian, Faye Mathews, Lorene Lynch, Patsy Kennett, Joanne Brown and Mrs. Matt Kohn Jr.

ORATOR—This is Danny Givan, Bonanza, who recently won a public speaking contest in Future Farmers of America competition at Bonanza. Danny will compete at the state FFA contest in Portland in April. —Kennell-Ellis

HIGH SCHOOL ROOTERS RALLY—Downtown Klamath Falls was invaded Friday afternoon by hundreds of enthusiastic Klamath Union high school students, rallying in support of the Pelican team which goes to the state tournament the coming week. Here is a section of the crowd at Eleventh and Main streets.

ESSAY CONTEST WINNERS—These are defense bond essay contest winners with members of the Klamath Shrine club which sponsored the competition in the schools. The girl winners, left to right: Lois Shoemaker, Dorris elementary school, honorable mention; Dolores Cone, Fairview school, honorable mention; Carol Vanderwall, Mills school, first prize; Carmen Lee Jones, Riverside school, second prize; Buetta M. Lion, Roosevelt school, third prize. Men in the picture, left to right: A. M. Collier, county defense bond chairman; William Dinamore, President Walter Wiesendanger, George P. Davis, Bert E. Hall and Paul Landry, Shriners.