

SCHOOL HEADS REPORT COUNTY CENSUS 48,418

If Klamath's school superintendents had charge of the census bureau, official population figures would be somewhat higher here—and possibly more in accordance with what civic boosters think they really ought to be.

At any rate, estimates of the population of the various districts in which schools are located total up to 48,418. These estimates were made by City Superintendent J. Percy Wells and County Superintendent Fred Peterson for the county rationing board. Official census population of Klamath county is 40,497.

Here are the school head's estimates:

Nelson Enters Democratic Primary for Assessorship

N. B. (Newt) Nelson Tuesday announced his candidacy for the democratic nomination for Klamath county assessor.

Nelson is a real estate man and is associated with his father, J. H. Nelson, with offices at 1931 South Sixth street. He is circulating petitions in behalf of his candidacy, and will make a formal filing in a few days.

The candidate said he thoroughly approves the manner in which the assessor's work has been handled by Charles H. Minck, present assessor who has announced he does not want re-election.

"I will do my best to carry this job in the manner in which it is handled at the present time, on a fair and square basis," said Nelson. "I am making no other promises."

Nelson came here 15 years ago March 7. He has lived in Klamath Falls since that time. He was associated with Ray Biggers' East Side Electric company for a number of years.

The assessorship aspirant was born in Kahoka, Mo. He moved to Colorado in 1904, when his father took a homestead in Cheyenne county. As a small boy he drove horse and buggy for his father when the latter was Cheyenne county assessor.

Nelson has been interested in fraternal affairs in Klamath Falls. For several years he has played the trombone in the Elks lodge orchestra. He has also played with Baldy Evans' orchestra. He has carried an AFL card with the musicians' union for 24 years.

Nelson is married and is the father of two children, a boy and a girl. The boy, Dee, will enter high school next year and the girl, Faye, is in the fourth grade at Riverside school.

Nelson said that he wants to thank his friends who have encouraged him to become a candidate for assessor and will endeavor to merit their support.

Nelson and his wife, Ruth, have been active in democratic circles in recent years.

LUMBER WAGES IN LAKEVIEW TO BE BIG IN 1942

LAKEVIEW—Lakeview will have a lumber payroll of close to $2,000,000 this year, according to a report given this week by Charles Thomas of the Underwood Lumber company staff who was the guest speaker of the Lakeview Rotary club.

No estimate was made as to the amount of money which will be released in the county as wages by the Peterson and Johnson Lumber company mill which is located 20 miles west of Lakeview; as well as through the logging activities in western Lake county by the Ewauna Box company. The mills and loggers are expected to spend another $500,000 for supplies.

Although the estimated local cut of 150 million feet is three times the production capacity of the forests tributary to Lakeview when viewed from the standpoint of a sustained yield program, most of the timber which is being cut is overripe and must reach the market within the next few years or become a total loss. Practically all of the timber which will be milled in the county this year will be logged, according to the most modern selective cutting practices.

On Second street, as La May was about to flag down the mad escaping with his automobile, the car ahead suddenly came to a stop.

"Give me a push will you, Buddy," the driver asked La May. "The motor of my car has stalled."

La May responded by calling an officer and having the mad arrested on a car theft charge. He gave the name of William F. Singer, 32, transient.
