

MILLIKIN DEFEATED AS SEATTLE MAYOR

SEATTLE, March 11 (AP)—Seattle's voters hailed a new mayor-designate today after turning out of office the incumbent who had the active support of Dave Beck, west coast leader of the AFL Teamsters' union, in a bitterly contested campaign.

Police Judge William F. Devin ran up a surprising 3-to-1 margin over Mayor Earl Millikin in yesterday's voting. The totals were: Devin 63,892; Millikin 43,541.

Devin was a city judicial appointee of Governor Arthur B. Langlie, republican, while the latter was mayor. Millikin, former democratic county auditor, was elected a year ago to fill the unexpired term of Langlie. The city election was nonpartisan.

What started out as a tame affair became a fever-ridden, three-cornered battle in the campaign's final week as Beck twice took to the radio to support Millikin and to denounce Devin as a foe of labor and "an incompetent and prejudiced police judge."

He declared that "labor cannot turn out the production expected of it, and upon which the outcome of the war depends, if it is under constant attack by a hostile administration."

Devin retorted that he was not a foe of labor, but only of Beck and his Teamster union aides, whom he charged "willfully exercised control over the mayor's office."

He said Beck's open support left Millikin "publicly exposed as the puppet of Beck."

Millikin, a personable former high school teacher, in his early fifties, even refused to shake hands with Devin when a chairman proposed it at the speakers' table during a political club luncheon. He denied that Beck had attempted to influence his office in any manner.

At his home as the Devin margin of victory piled up, Beck commented: "Whatever the majority decides is fine with the Teamsters. This isn't the first election we have lost."

Bly

The Young People's organization held a party after their regular Conservation service at the Bly church. After self-introductions were given games were played under the instruction of Jessalee Keffler. "Where is Your Heart," a poetical rhyming game, continued with shorter time limit each round until only five seconds were allowed to form a rhyming line. Kenneth Madison placed first, Kay Stockner second, and Bonita Gooch third in this game. Much laughter was caused by the spiral string march when the players became hopelessly entangled. Several other games were played with equal enjoyment. A pantomime stunt called "The Lighthouse Keeper's Daughter" was given as a forfeit by four of the players. Refreshments of jello with whipped cream, sandwiches and punch were served. Those present to the evening were Anna Gooch, Frances Causbie, Bonita Gooch, Elena Gooch, Barbara Detrick, Jessalee Keffler, Bruce Burch, Shirley Harris, William a e Williams, Lois Houston, Betty Thomas, Kay Stockner, Johnny Mitchell, Jimmie Clark, George Barnwell, X. C. Capps, Patty Miller, Raymond Hayes, Kenneth Madison, Michael Madison, Glenn Hayes, Dannie Norris, and William Davis.

Miss Jessalee Keffler was honored by a birthday party given by her mother, Mrs. Wilma Keffler, at her home on February 28, at one o'clock. After a delicious lunch was served and the many nice gifts were opened the afternoon was spent playing Monopoly. Friends included in the event were Barbara Detrick, Elena Gooch, Shirley Harris and Bonita Gooch.

Fort Klamath

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Albert and family have moved to Klamath Falls where Albert is employed by the Balsiger Motor company. They have operated the Junction service station and camp ground one mile south of Fort Klamath for the past three years, the property being now under lease to Mrs. Robert Cable of Fort Klamath. Mrs. Cable has managed a lunch counter next to the service station at the junction for some time.

Mrs. R. S. Ballou left a week ago for San Francisco, Cal., and has been in the hospital there for the past several days for medical observation and care.

Delbert Denton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Denton, left last Monday for San Diego, Cal., having entered the United States marine corps. Word has been received here by his parents since his departure telling them he had successfully passed the necessary examinations required.

Jerry Sisemore has returned again to Fort Klamath from Portland, where he was called for the second time recently by the serious illness of his father, Linsy Sisemore, well known, Wood River valley rancher and stockman. Sisemore's condition is unchanged, it is reported. He has been confined to St. Vincent's hospital in Portland for some time.

Miss Bertha Pittman has returned here to her home at the D. F. Lawton ranch from Pasadena, Cal., where she spent the winter months visiting relatives. Miss Pittman makes her home here with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Lawton.

Harold Wimer is able to be around again after having been confined to bed with an attack of near-pneumonia. He is also suffering from two fractured ribs received in a fall on Sun Mountain recently when he was engaged in pulling a wrecked car back on the highway from over the grade.

Mrs. Emil Sedlacek and son Delbert have returned to their home at Arcata, Cal., after visiting here for some time at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Frank Denton. Mrs. Sedlacek's husband is expecting to be called for duty with the California state guards at any time. Spring must be here, according to the signs seen about the valley during the past few days. Robins, meadowlarks and blackbirds have been noted in large numbers and several bands of wild geese have also been seen. The snow is nearly all gone in Fort

BLY—A meeting of all presidents of organizations in Bly was called at the home of Mrs. George Elliott, Wednesday, Feb. 11. After a letter from Mrs. Elliott, chairman of supplies of the Disaster unit asking Bly to contribute to the unit was read, it was decided to sponsor a dance March 14, in the school gym.

An orchestra composed of Marge Strong, Delmar Mabee and Frank Meiser offered to contribute the music. The following presidents are in charge: Vern Hanan of Music and Dramatic club, the floor show; Ruth Green from Bly Woman's club, posters and publicity and Frances Moll, Bly PTA, the tickets. The pop booth will be in charge of the Campfire girls headed by Betty Deering. Tickets for admission and charge of the building, George Elliott. Decorations and general chairman, Mrs. George Elliott.

There will be prize dances. Square dancing will be included. The color scheme will be in keeping with St. Patrick's day.

THREE FILE FOR TULELAKE COUNCIL

TULELAKE — The city election pot boiled up a bit this week with three filings for city council seats. B. R. Fausett, first to file for a short term berth has withdrawn his application for business reasons. In his place August Turner, manager of the Homestead cafe and resident of Tulelake for the last two years has filed.

Olney Hodges, manager of the Richfield service station and Clarence Schott, in the automotive repair business, have both signified intention to run for the long term seats. Hodges and Schott have both made their home here for several years and both are property owners.

With the time for filing shortened to the end of this week a few influential friends of potential council timber are putting in a few licks to scare up enthusiasm and a few more prospects. None of the incumbents have filed.

Poe Valley

Roy Holmer has his new house almost completed. Chet Barton went to California on business Saturday. Web Van Meter was a caller in the valley from Klamath Falls on Sunday.
