

Ceremonial Honors Queen

Klamath Members Enjoy Other Affairs While in Valley

The supreme queen of Daughters of the Nile, Mrs. C. M. Sheasley of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, was honored at an afternoon ceremony and evening banquet held by Zulema temple in Grants Pass on Thursday, March the fifth, with Mrs. Austin Brownell, queen of the temple, presiding.

This was also the occasion for the initiation of a number of candidates, including a number from here, Mrs. Fred Coleman, Mrs. James Webb, Mrs. Francis R. Olds, Mrs. Ralph McKay, Mrs. Grace Berman and Mrs. William Hagelstein of Dorris. The ceremonial was held in a hall that was beautifully decorated. Festoons of ivy encircled the pillars and framed the windows. Daffodils and acacia were used in profusion throughout the hall and a large basket of pink carnations and lavender stock was a gift from the men of Hillah temple. Oriental rugs, many floor lamps and flowers transformed the hall into an appropriate setting for the initiation.

At 6:30 o'clock Thursday evening, a dinner was given at the Masonic temple, honoring the supreme queen, for Daughters of Nile and their escorts.

Austin Brownell acted as master of ceremonies and directed a question and answer contest with initiates of the past year and their husbands as contestants. Last to come up for questions was Mrs. Sheasley. Her question was, "If you had to choose another husband, would you choose Hitler, Mussolini or a cave-man?" After a moment's hesitation, she chose "a cave-man." A group of Oregon Cavemen appeared just then, giving Mrs. Sheasley a passport of rabbit skin, much to her surprise and merriment.

Members of the Klamath Falls Nile club who motored to the valley for the occasion were Mrs. Wilbur A. Arnold, president, Mrs. E. H. Balsiger, Mrs. R. P. Ellingson, Mrs. A. B. Epperson, Mrs. Carl Steinseifer, Mrs. Harry Wayne, Mrs. Jerry Ricker, Mrs. Harry Panning, Mrs. Harry Bethany, Mrs. Ted Shoop, Mrs. F. H. Heilbronner, Mrs. Leo N. Huls, Mrs. E. M. Chilcote and Mrs. J. H. Poppy.

Mrs. Sam Baker of Washington boulevard in Grants Pass invited Mrs. Arnold, Mrs. Poppy and Mrs. Ricker to remain as overnight guests, and Mrs. C. A. Winetroutr of Lawndale avenue entertained Mrs. Steinseifer, Mrs. Balsiger, Mrs. Ellingson and Mrs. Chilcote at her home.

Following the Thursday evening program, Mrs. Winetroutr entertained at her home for the supreme queen, Mrs. Sheasley, and for Mrs. Brownell. Other guests besides the visitors from Klamath Falls were Mrs. Ken Williams and Mrs. Frank Vannice.

On Friday morning, Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Winetroutr were co-hostesses at a ten o'clock breakfast at the Baker home when covers were laid around a table gay with purple violets and yellow jonquils.

Following breakfast, the group drove to Medford where Mrs. Sheasley, the other visitors and all officers of Zulema temple were complimented at an afternoon tea when Mrs. Margaret Fabrick, princess royal, presided as hostess at her home on the Crater lake highway.

Mrs. Sheasley visited southern Oregon in the course of her official visit to all subordinate temples in the United States. It was also of interest to Nile members that her husband is a former postulate of Medinah temple, largest in the world.

MARCH MEETING OF OES SOCIAL CLUB IS HELD

St. Patrick's day provided the decorative and refreshment motif for the meeting of the Eastern Star Social club held Friday afternoon, March the sixth, at the Masonic temple with Mrs. J. C. Hunt, Mrs. Harold M. Brown, Mrs. O. D. Matthews and Mrs. Laura Willis as the hostess committee.

Six tables of cards were in play with honors for high received by Mrs. Earl Templar and the special award by Mrs. J. I. Beard.

A daughter, Mrs. Lenora, was born February the twenty-eighth in Sacramento at Sutter Maternity hospital to Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Rasmussen, formerly of this city, according to word received here. Mrs. Rasmussen will be remembered as the former Genevieve Houston.

DAUGHTERS OF NILE HONOR SUPREME QUEEN

Aloha chapter No. 61, Order of the Eastern Star, observed the forty-third birthday of the chapter on Tuesday evening at eight o'clock in the Masonic hall. Mrs. Charlotte Martin and Leroy Erdmann presided as worthy matron and worthy patron.

Mrs. Mildred Burcham, worthy matron of Oriental chapter of Lakeview and Virginia Brown, worthy matron of Cascade Crest chapter of Chiloquin, were honored guests. Laura Willits, a charter member was also honored and presented with a beautiful corsage. She was the only one present who attended the first meeting forty-three years ago. Two other charter members living in the city were unable to attend. They are Mrs. Minnie E. Ward and Judge J. S. Orr.

Virginia Brown presented the chapter with an ivory vase from Cascade Crest with wishes for continued success. There were many other guests from both Lakeview and Chiloquin. After the regular business was taken care of a program was enjoyed.

The officers planned the unique pageant of the founding of our Order and the dream of the two brothers who were responsible for our ritual, Robert Morris and F. Macoy had a difficult time trying to make the Masonic brothers see the necessity of women having a lodge in any way comparable to the great Masonic fraternity. The star points were represented by the regular star points of our chapter.

Each wore the color of her point in the form of a regal cape draped softly over the formal white dress. Mrs. Smith as Adah, Mrs. MacArthur as Ruth, Miss Milne as Esther, Mrs. Wood as Martha and Mrs. Fenwick as Electa, Leroy Erdmann and L. K. Phelps acted as the founders. Edna Kent sang, "Star of the East," as the pageant faded out. Robert Currier entertained the chapters with two songs, "Who is Sylvia" and "Hill of Home."
