

STATEMENT ON STATUS GIVEN BY MISS DARBY

Lillie Darby, elementary school music supervisor, made a statement Monday outlining her status in the schools in the coming year and pledging loyalty to the school administration.

The statement follows: "In appreciation and gratitude to friends: students, parents, faculty members, members of the BPW club and PEO chapters, U and AU, who have been anxious regarding my status in Klamath Falls' schools, the following statements are made:

"First, supervising duties in elementary schools are the same, excepting that help may be given (in organization plans), especially in instrumental duties so that classes will not have to be met at 7:45 a. m. The boards of education realize the heavy burden which I have tried to meet, also that "war time" will make the early schedule prohibitive in the winter months.

"Second, the salary ($1800) which I received this year will not be cut, but will be shown the same consideration as other faculty members.

"The following statements are made due to the request of friends:

"I came to Klamath Falls in 1928 with the following experience: elementary teacher, special music teacher in elementary schools, seven years as high school music teacher and supervisor of elementary school music; six being in Valparaiso, Ind., where this work was coordinated with teacher training in Valparaiso university; there worked hard to establish the standards of good music in the schools, as well as instill ideals of good citizenship, cooperation, fitness, courtesy, honesty and good working habits, knowing that in crises these assets have unlimited values.

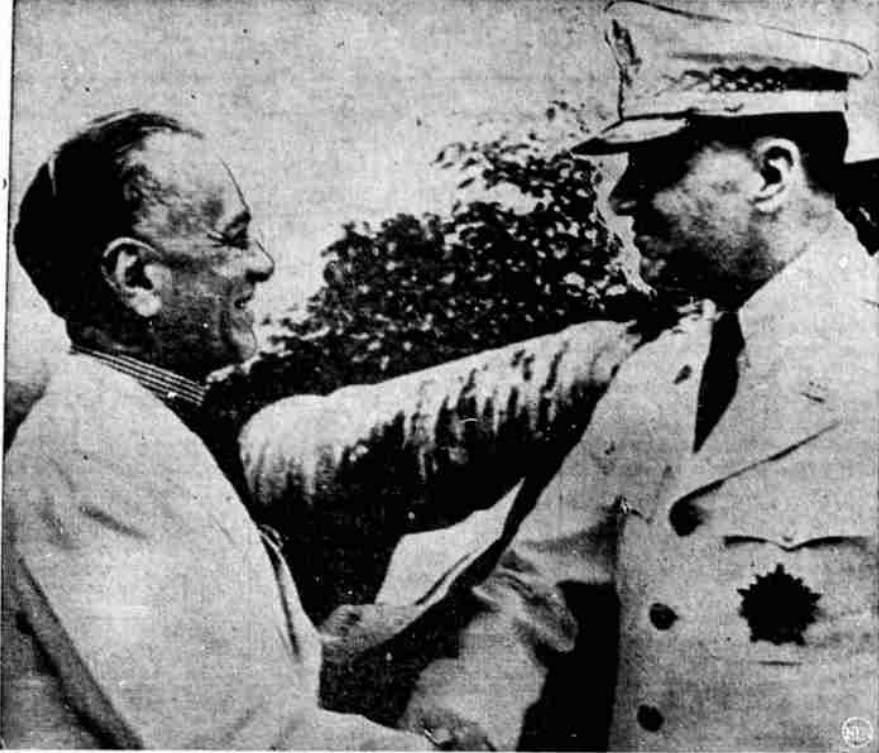

"My degree is from the American Conservatory of Music, Chicago, Ill., and, in addition, I have steadily worked in summer schools for additional music education and the required academic subjects which will soon give me a B.S. degree from the University of Oregon.

"I have also considered it necessary to belong to the professional music groups from which I have received a vast broadening of ideals and standards: Music Educators' National conference, Northwest Music Educators' conference and the Oregon Music Educators' association. I have served on the executive board of NWME as treasurer and helped to organize the Oregon association, serving as president the first three years of its existence, 1936-39. During the past three years I have served on the two committees, making the new courses of study in high school and elementary school music for the state of Oregon.

"In 1940, when the Music Educators' National conference met in Los Angeles, I served on a national committee and was asked to serve again this spring (March 38-April 2) when the conference meets in Milwaukee, Wis., with George Lindsay, supervisor of music, Philadelphia, as chairman. It was necessary to resign from this committee as my salary could not meet the added expense of the trip at this time.

"During the last six years it has been my pleasure to work with Andrew Loney, Jr., now of Eugene, as members of the same professional organizations. Therefore, I do not feel in any way that he is usurping my position; on the contrary I feel that he has a great contribution to make to our professional values and standards. These should help me to give more to my teachers and students which is the ultimate aim in my work. "I want to pledge my loyalty to my superintendent, J. P.

ROTARY MAKES GIFT OF JUVENILE BOOKS

The city library has received a large shipment of new children's books, as a gift from the Rotary club. There were 298 books in this year's gift. This makes a total of 2841 books which the Rotary club has given to the library since the first gift in 1927. The Rotary section now fills one entire side of the children's room. The popularity of this collection can be judged by the number of children who go to that section to select their books.

Included in this year's gift are many recently published children's books. Although adventure stories, animal stories, fairy tales and general recreational reading predominate, there are also books of biography, travel, aviation and other popular subjects. There are also several of the old favorites in beautifully illustrated editions.

A few of the books are on display in the window of the U. S. National bank. Others are on display in the children's room of the city library.

Sabotage Theory Probed in Fire

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16 (AP)—The theory of sabotage was studied today by FBI agents seeking for the cause of a three-alarm fire that caused $25,000 damage to a warehouse and stored military tractors and hydraulic equipment.

City Fire Marshal Frank Kelly said the blaze started yesterday inside the locked building, and added: "It is obvious that this was not accidental."

BACK TO NATURE

GOLDFIELD, Nev. (AP)—Borros have drawbacks, but they don't have to be retreated.

Consequently, Death Valley prospectors are taking back the slow moving pack animals they discarded for jalopies — when they can find them. Hundreds of burros were turned loose in the valley when speedier transportation was sought. Now all the tire-less prospectors have to do is catch them and retame them.

Fremont Forest Boundary Changed

LAKEVIEW — The president has signed an executive order modifying the boundary line between the Fremont national forest and the public domain. The order was based upon the agreement recently subscribed to by the forest service, the grazing service and the Lake county land users committee. The order modifies the one previously issued in 1934 at which time congress authorized the straightening and shortening the boundaries of the forest.

Thomas Mahoney Criticizes Willis

PORTLAND, March 16 (AP)—State Senator Thomas R. Mahoney, democratic candidate for third district congressman, urged democrats Saturday night to back an opponent to Senator McNary, U. S. senate republican leader.

He criticized Willis Mahoney, twice a democratic nominee for U. S. senator, for endorsing McNary for re-election.

Bank Branch to Get New Building At Tulelake Soon

TULELAKE—The Yukon cafe building on Main street is to be moved soon to make way for a modern tile building that will be used when completed by the Tulelake branch of the Bank of America. P. J. Murphy and John Manery will be joint owners of the property.

Plans now in the hands of Karl Gentry, Tulelake contractor, call for floor space of 30 by 80 with the interior to include a lobby, conference room, six teller windows, safety deposit vaults, general vault with stationary and supply windows at the rear. The building will be located on the same side of the street as the Federal store in the same vicinity.

FIRE-FIGHTERS TO USE OREGON CCC FACILITIES

CORVALLIS, March 16 (AP)—Approximately 100 of Oregon's vacant CCC camps will be filled this summer with men transferred here from the south and middlewest to help in forest fire protection. N. S. Rogers, state forester, predicted to the state college forest club.

He also said electees, physically unsuited for army service, might be put into the CCC camps.

The Oregon forest defense council requested the federal government some months ago to man the 139 vacant CCC camps in this state as a forest protection measure, and received a favorable response though no final decision.

Army officials have requested $400,000 for added patrol of the 13 million acres of forest land under state and association control, Rogers added.

Some 46 forest lookout stations will serve a combination observation posts to spot aircraft. Observers will be on the army payroll but will act as employees of state and federal forest services. A total of 296 lookout stations will be manned this summer, but whether all will become aircraft observation posts is yet to be determined.

Meanwhile college students here are enrolled in forest fire fighting classes receiving training similar to that given the "red hat" organizations during the summer. One trained man is worth a half dozen ordinary laborers on the fire line, says George Schroeder, forestry instructor.

Fur for Farmers

This crossbred lamb at Beltsville, Md., research center, is result of Department of Agriculture efforts to create a high quality fur-bearing animal for U. S. farmers to raise for pelts. It has the black lustrous fur of its Karakul father and white markings of its Navajo mother.

Guerrillas Advised To Join Outfits

PORTLAND, March 16 (AP)—Col. Ralph P. Cowgill, commander of the Oregon state guard, advised members of the rapidly spreading guerrilla movement today to affiliate with organized troops.

Volunteer fighters without identifying insignia are liable to be shot by firing squads if captured by the enemy, he said. With identifying emblems, they are entitled to the privileges of prisoners of war.

It takes high-speed photography to "stop" Dorothy Lewis's flashing blades, but it's easy to see her preference for Camels

FASTER than the blink of any human eye, the amazing stroboscopic camera catches film star Dorothy Lewis in one of her brilliant routines on the ice of the Iridium Room in New York's Hotel St. Regis.

DOROTHY LEWIS studied ballet from the age of 4, and her routines on the ice combine the artistry of the toe-dancer with the speed of the skater. Her cigarette combines extra mildness and flavor. She smokes slower-burning Camels.

MISS LEWIS works out her routines first in ballet slippers. Many's the Camel cigarette she smokes as she relaxes. "Yes, I smoke a good bit," Miss Lewis says. "I've found Camels milder by far. No matter how much I smoke, Camels never wear out their welcome."

JUDGE... And he will! My wife has served S&W for forty years and I never miss a meal. Case dismissed!

CAMELS HAVE THE MILDNESS THAT COUNTS WITH ME — LESS NICOTINE IN THE SMOKE

"The more I smoke, the more I appreciate Camels," says Miss Lewis at a late supper with friends at the St. Regis. "Their cool, rich flavor is all the more enjoyable because Camels are so mild—with less nicotine in the smoke." You, yourself, try Camels. You'll like everything about this slower-burning cigarette of costlier tobaccos. You'll like that grand flavor — and you'll like knowing that there's less nicotine in the smoke (see below).

The smoke of slower-burning Camels contains 28% LESS NICOTINE than the average of the 4 other largest-selling cigarettes tested—less than any of them—according to independent scientific tests of the smoke itself.
