

MATERIAL ARRIVES FOR QUILT PROJECT

Five bales of cotton and six thousand yards of percale have arrived at Klamath Falls, to be made into cotton comforts, according to Winnifred K. Gillen, home demonstration agent, in charge of the program.

These materials were ordered last May and were to have been used following the mattress program. The surplus marketing administration is furnishing the material for the comforts the same as for the mattresses, and the program is being carried on in cooperation with the AAA and the extension service. A charge of 10c will be made for each comfort, to take care of the cost and expense in carrying on this program.

Families who applied for comforts last May and who have not yet moved since then should get in touch with Mrs. Gillen immediately, and give her their change of address, in order that she may notify them of the time and place to make their comforts. Other families who would like to apply for comforts should get their applications from the county agent's office and return them to that office before March 21. All applications must be passed on by the county AAA committee. The eligibility of families for comforts is based on their income for the past year 1940. This was also true of the mattress program, which was carried on last spring in the county.

Plans are being made to make the comforts in the following communities: Altamont, Chiloquin, Poe Valley, Dairy, Hildebrand, Bonanza, Langell Valley, and Malin. Poe Valley will be the first center to start and will begin work on March 24. The committee in charge of this center includes Mrs. Bert Wilder, Mrs. Jack Holzhauser, Mrs. E. L. Webber, Mrs. Pete Holzhauser and Mrs. F. O. Freuer.

The crust of the earth need move but one sixteen-hundredth of an inch to be felt.

PAMPERING MAMAS CAUSE ARMY WOES

LOS ANGELES, March 16 (AP)—Pampering mamas who developed finicky appetites in their sons have created quite a feeding problem for the army. Everything will be all right, however, if the soldiers eat what's set before them. They should, even, come out of the service heavier, stronger, maybe a little taller, and with better eyes than when they were inducted.

That's what Mary I. Barber, food consultant to the secretary of war, told the league of women voters here.

She attributed failure of some young men to pass army physical tests to finicky appetites and blamed their mothers for not supplying them with the proper diet.

Seeing that soldiers get their vitamins in food instead of from pills is quite a problem. Many don't drink the half pint of milk offered each man daily, so menus include cheese and, once a week or oftener, ice cream. Powdered milk is used freely in cooking. Butter is used on as many vegetables as possible because some soldiers eat it sparingly.

Miss Barber's job is to feed millions of men healthfully and adequately on 52 cents a day, meanwhile being careful not to upset civilian food prices or supplies.

Old Casings Made Into Useable Tire

PORTLAND, March 16 (AP)—If you want to get extra miles from old tires, just save them until they are worn out, then bolt several together and put them back on your car.

So advises Charles Danner, Portland shoemaker, who has tried it, and calls it a success.

He said he bolted three old tire casings to a wheel and found he could hold the road up to 50 miles an hour.

NURSERY COUNCIL TO GIVE PROGRAM

The nursery school council is sponsoring a program to be given in the Mills school auditorium Friday, March 20, at 7:30 p. m. and proceeds from this entertainment will be used by the council to help buy food for children in the Mills nursery school.

The children who attend the nursery school are from needy families whose low incomes are not enough to provide vegetables, fruit, meat, and other foods essential to the needs of growing children. Several organizations in the community are contributing toward the support of this nursery school including the local school board, Girls League of Klamath Union high school, American Legion auxiliary, 29-30 club, Eagles auxiliary, Castberry Drug company.

The public is urged to aid this project by attending the program. Admission is 15 cents for adults, 10 cents for children, tax included.

B. B. Blomquist, director of the drama department of Klamath Union high school, will present a one-act play and also a monologue, and there will be numbers by the Mills school children.

FOOD PRICES STILL UNDER 1919 LEVELS

PORTLAND, March 15 (AP)—Food prices are high in Oregon but still considerably under the peaks of World War No. 1, a survey of March 10 prices from 1916 to the present, compiled by the Portland Journal, showed today.

Butter, for example, was listed at 36 1/2 cents per pound where as it reached 53 cents in 1918 and jumped to 62 in 1919 and 67 cents in 1920 before dropping off, to a mid-35 cent average in the 1920s and a 30-cent and lower average during the depression.

Economist Afraid Early Offensive Not Good Idea

PORTLAND, March 16 (AP)—Stuart Chase, economist, said yesterday of agitation for an immediate American war offensive:

"I'm afraid of it. It might lead to another Dunkirk." He told an interviewer, "I'm all for taking the offensive, sure, but let's plan it out first. We might rush in before we are ready."

"I have confidence in the men who are at the head of the armed services. I think we have shaken the armed services down to where all the generals and admirals in the highest places are air-minded, and this is what we have needed. We don't want to see them rushed off their feet by popular clamor."

Accidents Termed '5th Column' by Safety Council

What is the most dangerous fifth column in America? Spies and saboteurs? No, says the National Safety Council. Far more dangerous to our defense effort are accidents. Accidents are striking at skilled workmen, military personnel and many others whose services are valuable. President Roosevelt believes these accidents are seriously hampering defense, and he has asked the National Safety Council to lead a campaign against them.

If the story of human association, tells us anything, it is that where all demand complete freedom, none has any—Norman Angell, 1933 Nobel Peace Prize winner.

Tillamook Japs Ask Protection

TILLAMOOK, March 16 (AP)—Sheriff Allen Birch said today arrangements were being made for evacuation of four Japanese who appealed Saturday night to be taken into protective custody.

Birch said the Japanese, three aliens and one American-born, were lodged in jail overnight after two Tillamook bay residents appeared at their home and threatened them.

The sheriff said feeling was running high against Japanese and he would confer with U. S. Attorney Carl Donough, Portland, in an attempt to speed evacuation.

Style note for '42 CLOTHES WILL STILL BE WORN THIS SPRING

THERE'S a lot of talk about shortages, curtailments and restrictions. Some of it's confusing. There are so many things we can't buy... probably more will be curtailed later. But we're certain that clothes will still be worn this Spring! And to prove it we invite you to preview our extensive suit selections. If the fashions, patterns and new shades that are crowding our racks don't make you eager to wear one... one of us should consult a doctor!

Next Fall the picture may not be so rosy. We have already been told that no worsted yarns will be available for civilian consumption after mid-summer. The "vested interests" will be minus the vest on all double breasted suits... coats will have pockets but the pockets no flaps. Pants will be cuffless, pleatless, narrower and shorter and two-trouser suits will be strictly taboo. All on account of shortages.

This means the value of our present stock has already skyrocketed—but not the prices. So while we'll have no hand in hoarding it will be wise to stock up with an extra suit or topcoat while the stocking's good. And how are you fixed for garters and suspenders? You know what the O. P. M.'s done about rubber, so we suggest you include these elastic items on your purchase order. Now is the time to buy!
