

TWO COURSES IN SOCIOLOGY OFFERED HERE

Residents of the Klamath Falls area will have an opportunity to enroll in two courses in sociology which are being offered by the general extension division at the University of Oregon for spring term. The classes, the Family and Sociology of the City, will be instructed by Dr. Lawrence S. Bee of the university faculty and will meet for the first time on Thursday, March 26, at Fremont school.

In the class on The Family, such topics as the modern legal state of marriage, economic aspects of the modern family, and women in industry and the professions will be discussed. This course should appeal to all men and women who have a special interest in social welfare activities. Meeting time is scheduled for 4 to 6 p. m.

The origin and development of cities, principles of city growth, natural population areas and problems of social control are some of the subjects that the course, Sociology of the City, will clarify. This class will meet in the evening, from 7:15 to 9:15 p. m.

Arrangements have been made with City Superintendent J. P. Wells so that enrollment fees may be paid in his office in the Fremont school before March 20. The equivalent of 32 registrations for each class is required for the courses to be offered.

For further information, see City Superintendent of Schools J. P. Wells, or write the office of assistant director, general extension division, Oregon State System of Higher Education, Eugene, Oregon.

FEW IN KLAMATH FILE LATE TAXES

The majority of Klamath's residents turned in their federal income tax returns on or before Monday night's deadline, but at least 15 persons appeared at the office of the collector of internal revenue Tuesday to ask for forms or seek assistance in making out returns.

"Taxes to beat the axis," slogan seen on billboards and on movie screens throughout the nation, appeared to have spurred tax payers to prompt payment.

Delinquency penalties were attached after Monday night's deadline. This penalty is five per cent of the tax if the return is filed within the first 30 days after the tax return becomes delinquent, and increases by five per cent for each additional 30 days or fractional part thereof until the penalty reaches 25 per cent of the tax.

In addition to the delinquency penalty interest at six per cent per annum is computed on the delinquent tax from the due date of the return until the tax is paid, according to William Owsley, deputy collector of internal revenue.

City Police Asked To Find 'Trike'

First it was cars and now tri-cycles that city police are trying to locate. Whether or not rubber robbers are considering the coverings on "trike" wheels is a question.

A brand spanking new maroon colored tri-cycle was reported stolen from Mrs. L. F. Wallan's yard, 1745 Wall street, on Monday, officers were advised.

NOW THEY KNOW

MISHAWAKA, Ind., (AP)—Ever since Pearl Harbor, invoices sent to Dr. W. S. Flack from Brooklyn with supplies for his movie camera have hinted that "Mishawaka" sounds Japanese.

"Why don't you change the name of your town?" the postscripts read.

The Mishawaka dentist finally got tired of this sort of thing and wrote back, "I'd be very glad to take up the matter of changing the name of Mishawaka with our city council but it happens to be the name of an Indian princess."

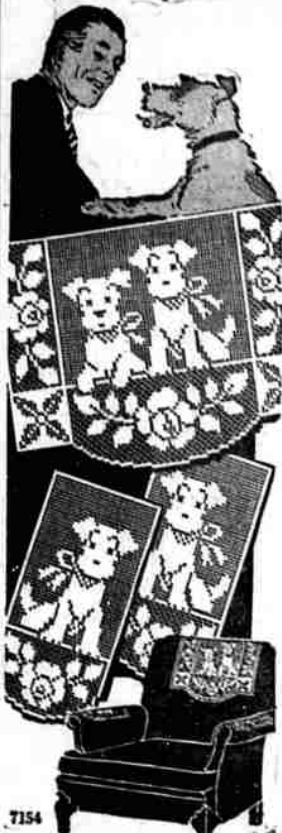

Said the next message from Brooklyn: "Regards to the Princess."

Jury Selected for Yreka Trial of 'Curser' Canaday

YREKA, Calif., March 17 (UP)—A jury of eight men and four women was selected tentatively today for the murder trial of William Lee Canaday, a section hand who claims the power to "put curses on people."

Canaday was accused of shooting and killing Hugh E. Holland, 62, his section boss on the Southern Pacific railroad, and attempting to burn the body.

District Attorney Charles Johnson indicated in questioning the jurors that he would demand a first-degree verdict.

Canaday, at a previous sanity hearing, told how he heard "supernatural voices" urge him to marry his wife to protect her from Holland.

The Hawaiian government has made stowing away on ships a jail offense.

TABULATION BEGINS ON WAR INVENTORY

With chairmen from 36 counties reporting nearly complete registrations of women in Oregon, tabulations for preliminary break-downs began early this week in the 24 local offices of the United States Employment Service, it was announced today by Mrs. Saidie Orr Dunbar, state director of the Oregon board of mobilization of women.

Although tabulations will not be finished before April 1 in most counties significant trends are being sent to the Portland headquarters by the various county chairmen. In Redmond, for example, the volunteer registrars, who conducted the women's inventory, gathered statistics, at the same time, on the number of people in buildings and households in every block for the use of the city's air raid wardens. The ARP census was taken for the protection of all Redmond citizens during emergency or disasters.

In Klamath Falls, registration officials reported that 9735 cards have been returned and have been classified according to work experience and skills of Klamath county women.

It was reported that only 94 women in the entire county refused to sign cards and that 58 others declined because of illness.

Albany, Oregon, has reported, after preliminary examinations of the registration cards, that one woman is a bio-chemistry student and another lady can do architectural work and make blue prints. Another woman has worked in an electric plant and can wrap wiring. Many of the women are competent truck drivers.

In Canyon City, women, variously, are reported as being school teachers, operators of tractors, trucks and jig saws, saw-mill employees, managers of ranches, contractors in lumber, carpentering, working in an asylum, mill grading, all kinds of factory work, stenographic occupations, bookkeeping, waiting tables, cooking, general farm labor, knitting, sewing, entertaining and communications. The age groups listed were from 18 to 78.

Portland Harbor Closed to Boating

PORTLAND, Ore., March 18 (UP)—The entire Portland harbor area was closed Tuesday to all unlicensed craft, Commander F. C. Hingsburg, coast guard officer, said today.

Pleasure craft will be allowed on the river only between sunrise and sunset and commercial vessels carrying defense materials will be the only craft allowed to operate after dark, he said.

40 Years With The Wrong Man

OAKLAND, March 18 (UP)—Mrs. Clara Engblom, 72, won a divorce today from George Engblom, 62. They were married 40 years ago. She charged cruelty.

"When I married him, I had a feeling it wouldn't last," she told the court.

HIGH SCHOOL News Notes and Comment

By MAURICE O'CALLAGHAN
Klamath Falls' most outstanding landmark will go for the duration. It was learned in a letter Monday from the local defense counsel that the "K" built and maintained by the high school, must be camouflaged until the war is over.

The K was built in 1928 on the hill behind Hot Springs, and has upheld a tradition of the school which is each fall sending the freshmen to whitewash its stone surface.

Very soon this white patch of rock will be recovered so that it will be invisible to any undisciplined eyes of the enemy who might want to use it for a landmark in any attack on this continent.

The freshmen this year and future years may solemnly jump for joy at the prospects of not having to paint the "K" but they needn't jump too hard. Something else will be found to test the rooks on.

The K will receive its new coloring in the very near future. The defense council suggested a mixture of brown and green paint to be used in doctoring up the site.

The remodeling will probably be brought up at the next meeting of the traditions committee and plans will be formulated for the project.

Many people will view the passing of the K with much sorrow. They have seen the birth of the K and some probably helped build the stone monument to KUHS. Some have helped keep it in the excellent condition that it has been. Some have merely watched it yearly as it has received its new coat of whitewash in the fall. Looked at it in winter to see only a field of snow.

It appeared again in the spring in all its glory, but by summer it had returned to a dull grey waiting for the new rooks to dress it up again.

The same has gone on above the homes of Pacific Terrace for the past 12 years.

This year that has gone. The K will be looked upon as a symbol of the fortitude of KUHS in spirit only. The K will go. It must go. But it will be back. Just wait until the enemies of democracy have been whipped. It will come back to symbolize something more than Klamath high. It will show to the entire country that we are free. Those who follow us to KUHS will at some time bring back the white washed pile of rock and at that time the world will rejoice. Not only for the K but for liberty.

hot and cold refreshments will be dispensed from booths set up around the auditorium. All students and their parents and other children in the family are invited to attend the get-together.

At this time the nominating committee was elected to select the new officers for next year. Mrs. Percy Murray was elected chairman with Mrs. Robert Hart and Mrs. Fred Heilbronner assisting.

Room count was won by Mrs. Carter's upper grades and Miss Flood's lower grades. After all business matters were disposed of the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Alfred Collier, program chairman, who presented Miss Flood's second grade pupils in a delightful skit entitled, "A Day in Spring in the Park." This was greatly enjoyed by all. Mrs. Collier then presented Mrs. Frank Howard, dean of girls at Klamath Union high school. Mrs. Howard chose as her topic "What High School Offers to Your Boy or Girl." This lecture was especially for mothers of eighth grade pupils but was very helpful to all the group.

The hostesses were Mrs. George Adler, chairman, Mrs. Dave Liekey, Mrs. Swanson, Mrs. Kluge, Mrs. Hoagland and Mrs. Emer. Tea was served from a beautifully decorated table in keeping with St. Patrick's day. A very enjoyable afternoon was spent by all present. It's Here Again, Folks—Horse Meat For Liberty

PORTLAND, Ore., March 18 (UP)—Some Portland marketers blinked Tuesday at these signs at a west side Yamhill street market: Boneless round steak 10 cents a pound, T-bone steak 10 cents a pound, boneless rib steak 12 cents a pound.

There was a catch, all right. It was horse meat. Horse meat, a novelty here, was offered in a few shops during the last war but gained little favor.
