

Chapter Has Merrill Meet

Women of Moose Plan Supper Dance Late in March

Merrill chapter 18, Women of the Moose, met in regular session Tuesday evening, March the seventeenth, in the library club room with Louisa Icebico presiding. One candidate, Eva Melvor, was initiated and as it was officers' night, graduate regents and regents filled the chairs for the initiatory work.

Plans were made to serve the dance supper in the Broadway hall for the Moose dance Saturday, March the twenty-eighth, all proceeds to be sent to Mooseheart to aid girls wishing to take nurses training to serve the armed forces. At the close of the meeting the women joined the Loyal Order of Moose for refreshments served by Helen Arnett, Garnet Cary, Pat Livingston, Berdena Reeder, Gladys Carlson and Amelia Evt.

Mrs. J. W. Reeder, acting chairman of the social service committee, held her chapter night program following refreshments. A short skit "How to Keep Your Husband at Home Nights" was presented by Mrs. Reeder, Mrs. Icebico and Mrs. Stolt, and a talk was given on social service.

The program of Women of the Moose includes a social service department in each chapter as one of the fourteen major committees of its development program, all of which are based on one principle, that of service, and has been stressed by the national office as a required department through which the local chapters could serve homes and communities.

Acting Chairman Reeder further reminded the chapter members that the social service committees throughout the United States, Canada and Alaska, in the name of Women of the Moose, are sponsoring dental clinics, assisting in securing pensions for the blind, for war veterans, for mothers and widowed mothers, free hospitalization for tubercular patients and crippled children.

HIGH SCHOOL

News Notes and Comment

By MAURICE O'CALLAGHAN

Big things and new are planned for next week. The K club initiation is scheduled for Wednesday. It will, if the rumors heard are correct, be a very fine initiation.

Those who have won letters this past year are looking forward to the initiation with anticipation; we won't say what for. As we said in the last column, the K club initiation is one of the best of the year.

Print and Cord Week

Yes, something new has been added. The last three days of next week will be Print and Cord week. This new idea was received last fall when a delegation from KUHS visited the Eugene high school in connection with the Klamath-Eugene football game.

The object of the week is to get a feeling of spring into the air with crisp, clean, print dresses being worn by the girls and if possible, boys in clean cords. (Cleaning is not necessary, however.) A kangaroo court will be held and all girls not wearing a print dress and all boys not wearing cords will be judged. Teachers are also asked to participate in the fun of the week. A dance will be held Friday afternoon to top off the "celebration."

The whole week will be sponsored by the Boys' Alliance. The alliance will have a meeting Tuesday.

Knitters

Recently it has come to our ears, via boys, that the girls who carry their knitting around are very distracting. Most of the girls spend their spare time knitting sweaters for themselves, not Britain, and the boys don't like it.

We will say for the girls that they do turn out some very, should we say fetching, sweaters to wear. Some are knitting socks for their men friends, but most are working on sweaters. Seems as though baby blue is about the most popular color.

It isn't only in school that they do this; every place you go there are some yarns rolling around.

Fitch Speaks

Albert H. Fitch, defense coordinator, spoke to the senior boys Friday on enrollment in the various defense classes in the high school. Radio, machine shop, aviation, sheet metal, and welding were covered. Mr. Fitch told of the courses in the various shops and answered the queries of the interested students.

Offering to stay and help your hostess carry the dishes back to where she borrowed them is incorrect.
