

SPRAGUE RIVER TEACHERS LAY SUMMER PLANS

SPRAGUE RIVER—With the closing of the school year on May 22 the teachers of the Sprague River school will leave for varied activities during the summer months. Noticeably lacking were plans for vacations to distant places. More teachers are interested in working at civilian defense work than ever before.

Principal Roland Parks will work in Sprague River for part of the summer then plans to do a spell fishing somewhere. Mr. and Mrs. George Hobbs plan to attend summer school at Oregon State college for part of the summer. The couple will vacation in and around Oregon City between duties. Hobbs has his eyes on a few salmon fishing trips before the summer is out. He also plans to work part of the summer either on his father's farm or in civilian defense work.

Mrs. Helen Hoffman with her husband and possibly part of the family will motor back to Oklahoma City, Okla., where they will visit Mrs. Hoffman's son, Buck Alcorn, who is stationed at the Will Rogers field. After the trip the Hoffmans will return to Bly.

Florence Stone will spend the summer in Corvallis, where she expects to do civilian defense work in the cantonment area. She may attend a session of summer school.

Evelyn Hudson, fifth and sixth grade teacher, will join her sister and leave for Elkton, Ore., to spend part of the summer. Miss Hudson also has her plans for a civilian defense job.

Mrs. Marion Heidrich, fourth grade teacher will join her husband, who is working in Dallas, Ore. She also plans on attending the summer session at Monmouth.

Mrs. Blanch Cowbrough, third grade teacher will attend summer school at the University of Oregon and will return to Sprague River to make garden and keep up the flower bed.

Mrs. Ethel Morrison's plans are indefinite as yet.

Mrs. Lardner Hostess to Keno School Children

KENO—Mrs. Lardner and students of the first grade were hostesses Tuesday afternoon, May 19, to the children who expect to enter school for the first time in September. At the close of the afternoon, refreshments were served.

KENO HIGH SCHOOL STAGES BANQUET

KENO—Keno high school junior and senior banquet was held May 15 in the Pelican cafe. Decorations were red, white and blue.

The menu consisted of fruit cocktail, breaded veal cutlets, new peas, rolls, jelly, chocolate cake, ice cream, coffee and milk. Sam McKeen acted as toastmaster, Alfred Burton gave the address of welcome and Lane Smith gave the return.

Music by Lewis Hull was enjoyed. The class will be read by Ludine Speck; class prophecy by Bob Grimes, and talks on Victory by Bessie Puckett, Howard Brown and Ben Kerns. A vocal duet was given by Ludine Speck and Mary McKeen after which everyone enjoyed a theatre party.

Chemult

Mrs. Joy Jackson returned home May 17 with her infant son, Charles David.

Mrs. E. S. Hawkins and Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Thompson from Lebanon, were visitors at the Thompson home over the weekend.

Two weeks ago a surprise birthday party was held at the Chemult cafe for Mr. Damon, the store manager, and Mrs. Van Hise, meat market manager.

Mr. and Mrs. McGreer are leaving Chemult on June 1. McGreer is joining the navy.

Ruth Thompson, a graduate of Gilchrist high school, is employed at Joe's cafe in Chemult.

STATE GUARD PLAN HIT IN TULELAKE TALK

TULELAKE—State Senator Randolph Collier of Yreka, speaking for adequate state protection before the Rotary club Wednesday, took issue against Governor Culbert Olson on the question of a strong state guard unit.

Collier, a firm believer in a definitely strong, reasonably paid, home guard, which during the present emergency would help alleviate possibility of sabotage to industrial plants vital to defense, stated that under the guidance of the governor exactly nothing has been accomplished since the guard was inaugurated in 1941 by a legislative act.

Rather, the senator stated, a strong political machine has been evolved that is disapproved of by the majority of Californians.

With state financial backing for the unit dropping from $30,000,000 to one-third that amount, hopes for fulfillment of state protection from that quarter diminished. Reiterating that amount of home guardsmen should not exceed that of men on the firing line, Collier stated that the organization had made it possible for men seeking soft berths to pull down big incomes.

In closing his remarks, Collier held out hopes for an eventual breaking down of political barriers with the statement, "Out of this seething of democracy comes something great." He was introduced by Charles K. Wiese, program chairman. Walter Chamber, local representative of the war relocation board and scheduled to speak, was not present.

Wiese also introduced Captain William Patterson, in charge of the military unit arriving at the Japanese center near here. Capt. Patterson likened the Tulelake country to the pan-handle of Texas where he and his more than 100 men came from, to remain here for the duration and six months.

He expressed hopes that the soldiers will be accepted into the community and stated that plans are being worked out for social life among the boys in camp.

Among guests for the luncheon meeting were Andy Will of Sacramento, produce buyer who during the luncheon donated a dollar to the treasury (since he had begged a ride to Klamath Falls with Earl Whitlock, funeral director.) Others were C. H. Underwood, Wilson Wiley and Ray Brown of Klamath Falls, Ruth E. King of Merrill, Captain Patterson of the U. S. army and the guest speaker, Senator Collier.

Hager

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Anderson left Sunday morning by bus on a business trip and expect to be gone for several days.

Edgar Kelly, who has been working near Tulelake for some time, left for Redding, Calif., Tuesday, where he will be employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Goeckner and children of Klamath Falls, are staying at the R. H. Anderson home while Mr. and Mrs. Anderson are away.

Tom Hayes is selling out his stock of goods at his service station here and preparing to quit business.

Charles Snyder Martin and Larry, Mrs. Annice Anderson and Lydia and Douglas Kohler went sightseeing Sunday and they report a very enjoyable time.

The Henley school will close Friday and the students are all very glad that it is vacation time.

Word from Pvt. George D. Kohler at Sheppard field, Tex., says it is 110 degrees in the shade there.

George Murphy is working for Tab Goben now.

George Davis plowed his garden yesterday.

Mrs. George Davis is steadily improving after being unable to walk for the past month.

Keno

Edmund Burton and Marvin Barrett have joined the navy, Marvin having enlisted in the air corps. Both boys will leave for Portland Sunday.

Harold Putnam, who joined the coast guards, returned to his work at Adin, Calif., waiting his call.

Miss Neva Mae Olds is now employed at the Keno cafe. C. C. Huskinson started Monday to work for the state highway department.

MERRILL OBSERVES POPPY DAY MAY 23

MERRILL—This year the deep red poppies that are to be offered for sale next Saturday, May 23, are more significant than ever. Representing not only the lives of those lost in World War I, they stand also for the sacrifices that have been made by our American boys since Pearl Harbor.

The blossoms are made in convalescent workrooms of 66 veterans hospitals throughout the U. S. by disabled men of our armed forces who have little or no government compensation and the returns go to those who are none too large to help care for families.

Seven hundred will be offered for sale in Merrill. Members of the auxiliary, meeting this week at the home of Mrs. Paul Lewis, tied a comfort for the auxiliary loan closet and voted to make a gift to be sent to the gift shop at the Veterans' hospital at Roseburg at Christmas.

Present for the meeting were Mrs. W. E. Hammond, Mrs. E. M. Hammond, Mrs. Fred Stukel, Mrs. Simer Stukel, Mrs. E. A. McCollum, Mrs. Ernest Buck, Mrs. Harold West, Mrs. E. E. Kilpatrick, Mrs. R. L. Dalton, Mrs. Warren Fruits, Mrs. Brown, houseguest of Mrs. West, and Mary Knop.

Sprague River

Mrs. Steve Crough and son, Phillip, left Friday for a two weeks' trip to Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Wolford and son William, and Pauline Grand were guests of Mrs. Mildred Lahoda at Bly last week. The occasion celebrated was the birthday of Mrs. Lahoda.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Garrett and daughter have moved to Klamath Falls where Garrett will attend defense school.

Mr. and Mrs. David Book and baby have moved to Klamath Falls, where Book will work in a warehouse.

Paul Tchirky of Tulelake recently purchased the Douglas Hess ranch west of town.

Mr. and Mrs. James Haddock have moved back to Missouri.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Haddock and family have moved to Klamath Falls, where Haddock will work as an official of the AFL.

Mr. and Mrs. Burrell K. Webb left Saturday on a business trip through California, Nevada, Utah and Idaho.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Heidrich returned recently from a visit to the bay region, where they visited their son Junior, and also Keith Powers. Both boys are in the army.

Mrs. Walter Bevington of Ashland returned to the valley Saturday, after spending a few days visiting with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Parks.
