

SECOND DEGREE MURDER GUILT PUT ON PARKS

(Continued From Page One) fatal shot at Dr. David. Burns is still at large. The last day of testimony was marked by a defense demand for a mistrial, when F. C. Markwardt, state witness who had identified Parks as the man he saw in front of the Buffalo lunch room the day before the killing, was asked by District Attorney L. Orth Sismore if he had ever seen a picture of the defendant. Vigorous objection to the question by the defense was over-ruled, as was the subsequent demand for a mistrial. Remainder of the afternoon was taken up with the summing up of the case for the jurors by Deputy District Attorney Clarence Humble and District Attorney Sismore, who pointed out that Parks has been definitely identified as one of the bandits by two of the customers at the lunchroom. Defense Attorneys U. S. Balentine and E. E. Driscoll asked for acquittal on the grounds that the state's case was largely built on assumption, and not hard fact.

WAR Secretary Stimson says today a Jap air attack on the United States in retaliation for the Doolittle raid is believed by the war department to be INEVITABLE.

"To anyone who knows Oriental psychology, Doolittle's Tokyo raid meant a serious loss of face which by Oriental psychology can only be wiped out by a return blow—a greater blow, if possible."

THIS writer, not having lived in the Orient, doesn't pretend to know Oriental psychology, but it seems wholly reasonable to expect that the Japs, having been unexpectedly attacked from the air will try to get even by attacking us from the air.

Secretary Stimson says the attack is expected on the Pacific Coast, and adds that our coast line is so extensive that no such thing as a perfect defense is possible.

He is warning us to be ready for trouble.

When the torpedo hit, he rushed to his cabin, grabbed his camera, pointed at the sub and clicked the shutter. A cup of water poured out.

CHINA DENIES JAP CLAIMS AT KINHWA

raging around the city after two heavy assaults had been beaten off and more than 1500 Japanese had been killed by land mines alone.

Japanese field headquarters said Japanese soldiers completed occupation of the capital at 7 a. m. today.

300,000 Troops
Kinwha lies 200 airline miles southwest of Shanghai and 800 miles east of Chungking, China's war-time capital.

A Japanese army spokesman said that more than 300,000 Chinese troops had been concentrated in the Chekiang theater and that the fall of Kinwha meant the military collapse of the zone.

Far across China, in the southwest, Chinese dispatches reported that Chinese troops had flung Japanese invasion columns into headlong retreat and encircled the enemy at Lungling, Burma road town west of the Salween river, after recapturing two towns south of Lungling.

While Chinese and American "Flying Tiger" airmen bombed and machine-gunned the enemy overhead, Chinese ground troops inflicted "staggering losses" on the enemy in the Tengchung area 40 miles northwest of Lungling, dispatches said.

In the battle of Australia, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced that allied fliers had destroyed or damaged at least 200 Japanese aircraft in the last six weeks, including 35 bombers destroyed and 16 damaged.

DOG CATCHER TO RESCUE

GLEN COVE, N. Y. (AP)—Frank Doney, the local dog catcher, was hailed as a hero today after capturing a man-eating rooster that had been terrorizing residents for several days.

Eating up their favorite rose bushes was not too bad an offense, home-owners said, but when the rooster took several bites out of Mrs. Maurice Cohen's legs and pecked at her back, that was something else again.

Summoned post-haste after the felonious assault, Doney snared the wild bird with a neat cast of his net, and it now resides behind bars.

CAT'S EYES, MAYBE!

DALLAS, (AP)—Policeman Lee May gave chase to a suspicious looking automobile last night and fired three times at a distance of about a block. Two shots struck the fleeing car's rear tires and the other punctured the gas tank. The navy has rejected him because of poor eyesight.

"Annihilation of the few remaining groups still offering resistance is continuing," the bulletin added.

Damages Denied to Woman Who Sat in Pot of Hot Soup

SAN JOSE, Calif., May 28 (AP) Superior Judge William James today upheld the contention of a witness that Mrs. Harriet Smith, 30, deliberately sat down in a pot of hot soup and therefore was not entitled to damages.

Judge James ruled in favor of the California Sandwich shop which Mrs. Smith, a housewife, had sued for $7500.

Mrs. Smith contended she slipped on a greasy floor in the restaurant and landed in a large pot of soup which had been placed on the floor to cool.

Marie Newcomb, waitress, testified, however, that Mrs. Smith "appeared intoxicated and insisted upon sitting in the soup."

"CHINESE DAYS"

One of San Francisco's municipal courts sets aside three days a week as Chinese days. On those days, all defendants in the court are Chinese.

Recently released government figures show that there are 4,144,084 passenger cars and 1,047,084 motor trucks in use on farms in the U. S. Farmers are the largest single group of motor vehicle owners.

Forty-three per cent of all the motor vehicles ever sold in the U. S. are still in operation, and in 1940 they generated an estimated $1,500,000,000 in tax revenue.

Bill Bradford, Leader of 'B-B-B's' Reaches Australia

(Editor's Note: The following dispatch was written by a United Press staff correspondent who escaped to Australia from Corregidor after covering the Philippines campaign from the start of the Pacific war until after the fall of Bataan).

By FRANK HEWLETT
MELBOURNE, May 27 (UP)—Word spread rapidly through American army camps today that Maj. William Bradford of Bataan, Tex., commander of the famed "Bamboo" fleet of rickety planes that brought vital medicines and official mail to besieged Bataan and Corregidor, had escaped from the Philippines and joined his comrades in Australia.

And with his arrival here, the story of the gallant aviators who called themselves the B-B-B's—the Battling Bastards of Bataan, can be told for the first time. The "Bamboo Fleet" consisted of four ancient planes, the newest of which had seen seven years' service.

There was a Bellanca, whose wings literally were patched with bamboo; a Beachcraft, which finally was destroyed by a Japanese "op" fighter while landing at Mindanao; a Waco, which met the same fate, and a navy auxiliary amphibian, nicknamed the "Navy Duck" after it was raised from Mariveles bay, patched up and made comparatively airworthy. The "Navy Duck's" fate has not been learned.

Armed with only a .45-caliber automatic, Bradford made nine flights from secret air bases in the southern Philippines to Bataan and Corregidor, usually taking off and landing in semi-darkness.

It was on April 19—10 days after the fall of Bataan—that Bradford made his last flight to Corregidor. The B-B-B's' cut cards to decide who would pilot the plane, and his comrades still swear that Bradford palmed a ace to make the flight instead of a younger pilot.

Bradford took off in the ancient Bellanca and it was spurning oil when he brought it down successfully amid shell holes on Corregidor's two-by-four airfield.

Three hours later, the plane had been re-serviced, re-patched and re-loaded with official mail. Bradford and four important passengers went aboard. Lieut. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, Corregidor's commander, shook Bradford's hand.

Then the plane roared off in the darkness. But it was too close to the edge of the runway and it crashed. "The plane just nosed over and crashed," Bradford said "but the passengers and I were not badly hurt, just shaken up. I figured my goose was cooked. I expected to be taken prisoner, so I started adjusting myself to the rigors of Corregidor tunnel life.

"Boy, oh boy, was I glad when a navy flying boat brought me out a week later! I'll never forget the navy's favor."

Bradford, a veteran Texas commercial pilot, lived in Manila out $2,000,000 in employe bonuses last year.

Toland said the orders came from Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) after the committee heard James F. Lincoln, president of the Lincoln Electric company, contend that the bonus system had saved the government $35,000,000 on war contracts for welding equipment and electronics by stimulating worker efficiency and thus reducing cost.
