Mrs. Dennis Stresses Need of Better Understanding of Asiatics

Tables beautifully decorated with cheerful spring tulips, and a general air of well being at the luncheon of the Klamath Falls Scropitist club, Thursday, contrasted sharply with the description of Asiatic peoples given by the speaker, Mrs. Everett Dennis, inspiring members of the club with their own fortunate circumstances.

Following the previous meeting conducted by Mrs. E. A. Geary, who introduced the study of Asia to the club, Mrs. Dennis, president-elect of the League of Women Voters, continued the topic of oriental peoples.

Tea Event Of Sunday

Miss Powers' Betrothal Announced at Afternoon Party

On Sunday afternoon in the First Methodist church parlors, Mrs. Thomas B. Powers and Mrs. Otto Ellis entertained at a prettily appointed tea honoring Miss Adele Powers whose betrothal to Mr. Percy Steers was announced to the guests. The wedding will take place on June the nineteenth.

"Geographically," she said, "India covers an area about one-half as large as the United States with a population of 300 millions of people. The government is split between petty princelings with their independent tribes on the one hand and the British governing class on the other."

Mrs. Dennis called attention to the way in which these small principalities were dispersed through all of India instead of being consolidated in one area, leaving the remainder of the country for the occupation of the other political party, the result being constant turmoil. Opposed to the Indian National party, she said, is the Moslem league, a minority party which centers around the Moslem aristocracy, not truly representing the Moslem people.

Mrs. Dennis quoted some interesting information from a little paper published in the United States under the name of "India Today." She spoke briefly about Mahatma Gandhi and his influence on India, and of the influence on him of the New Testament, Ruskin, and Tolstol. From the New Testament, and particularly from the Sermon on the Mount, he claims to have taken his theory of passive resistance.

Because of the eighty-seven per cent illiteracy among the peoples of India that country has been called England's problem child, but Mrs. Dennis pointed out that someone has said a problem child is the product of a problem parent. She closed her talk with the emphatic remark that India will have much to contribute to the world of tomorrow if she comes through the next critical years under good leadership.

Mrs. W. W. Southwell was welcomed as a new member of the club. Preparations are being made by President Coral Sabo to attend the biennial convention to be held in Cleveland. Mrs. Laura Bertram, delegate from the local club, also expects to attend this convention.

Word was received from Director Lois Biel Sandall that under the auspices of Marilyn Lewis, director-elect for the region, a new club has been organized at Missoula, Montana, and will be installed by members of the region while en route to Cleveland in June.

The club rejoiced to hear that Mrs. Sylvia McClelland's friend, A. P. Drakeford, whose family had been deeply concerned over his welfare when the Japanese occupied Davao, had cabled of his safety, having arrived by undisclosed means in Australia where his brother, Arthur Drakeford, is minister of aviation for the Australian government.

A. P. Drakeford, owner of a plantation at Mindanao, wrote a thrilling letter telling of his escape, of sitting on a high place overlooking the plantation and seeing it taken by the Japanese, of the capture of his houseboys, and many other exciting events, ending in his own escape by days of foot travel.

President Coral Sabo announced a board meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Kathleen Thompson, Wednesday evening, June third.

SUPPER EVENT OF SATURDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bridges were surprised on Saturday evening when sixty of their neighbors gathered for a picnic supper at the Bridges home on Madison street.

Mr. Bridges has been connected with the school system at Shasta for the past four years and is now transferring to Henley school. The family was presented with a gift from their neighbors for their new home.

POETRY DISCUSSED AT GROUP MEETING

Poetry and its correct interpretation was studied Monday evening at the regular meeting of Toastmistress club. The featured speakers were Mrs. Frank Peyton, Mrs. W. H. Hibbard, and Mrs. Coleman O'Loughlin, who interpreted poems of their own choosing, giving biographical sketches of the poet.

Mrs. Charles Hallett contributed a clever original poem in which she impersonated Olga, a Swedish maiden, who "yust com over."

Each speaker selected her own critic from the audience, and the usual evaluation was given by Mrs. Hibbard the club critic.

Mrs. Dean Miller was initiated with the regular Toastmistress ceremony.

In the absence of Mrs. W. R. Boyd, president of the club, Mrs. Frank Peyton presided.
