AFL EMPLOYERS ORDERED TO MEET

employers are represented in 15 locals.

With the order, prospects improved for an early settlement of negotiations stalemated since May 11 when the LSW refused to bargain with the Pine Industrial Relations committee on the ground that several employers of both CIO and non-organized workers were members of the PIRC bargaining group.

Hoch's order did not apply to the PIRC.

It was the latest development in the labor-lumber field where yesterday 1500 Klamath area CIO workers were granted a 7 1/2 cent per-hour wage boost retroactive to April 1. The PIRC and the CIO had previously agreed to abide by the War Labor Board decision, handed down yesterday, affecting wage scales of Washington fir belt CIO workers.

Meanwhile, it was disclosed that although AFL-PIRC parleys were at an impasse, several independent AFL locals have been negotiating with employers. Kalpine plywood workers have agreed to abide by the WLB decision, company officials said.

U. S. CONTROL HOLDS FIRM IN MIDWAY AREA

personnel, in which the army, navy and marine corps all were represented," Admiral Nimitz said.

"They have added another shining page to their record of achievements."

The Japanese attack, carrying with it a threat to Hawaii and even the United States mainland, struck the tiny island 1150 miles north of Honolulu at 6:35 a. m. Thursday and in the opening phases of the battle ran into heavy blows to a battleship, airplane carrier and other craft.

Torpedoes Hit Carrier "One carrier, already damaged by air attack, was hit by three torpedoes fired by a submarine," Admiral Nimitz reported.

As the battle continued, other Japanese capital ships suffered heavy damage and by last night apparently turned in flight.

"The damage is far out of proportion to that which we have received," Admiral Nimitz said.

"The Japanese have not followed up their initial air attack on Midway island except for a few ineffectual shots from a submarine during last (Thursday) night."

The size of the United States forces involved in the battle was veiled by military secrecy, but apparently the Japanese were taken by complete surprise. The mention of troop transports indicated that the enemy expected to subdue the small island garrison quickly by aerial assault and then send landing parties to take over control.

Instead, the island suddenly erupted with violent counterattacks sufficient to beat off the invaders in short order.

At least two Japanese aircraft carriers, each carrying 20 to 30 planes, were included in the big armada.

Meanwhile, a Tokyo naval spokesman, Captain Hideo Hiraike, asserted that "our imperial navy, which has placed the eastern half of the Indian ocean under its control, is now operating along the eastern coast of Africa in swift pursuit of British warships."

Other Far Pacific developments: Battle of China—Japanese front-line dispatches asserted that Japanese troops captured and occupied the ancient walled city of Chuhuhsien at 6 p. m. today.

Chuhuhsien is a key rail point in western Chekiang province, on China's east coast.

Domei dispatches said the Japanese had captured two other Chuhuhsien and Nanchang, 300 miles to the west.

Imperial Tokyo headquarters claimed that four allied submarines were sunk in Japanese waters in the last few weeks, one of them in Tokyo bay.

Australia—An allied plane was believed to have sunk a Japanese submarine within a few minutes after it had torpedoed and sunk an Australian merchant ship off the coast of New South Wales.

Six and possibly seven Japanese undersea raiders had previously been reported sunk in Australian waters since last Sunday.

DEMAND STEPS MOSCOW, June 6 (AP)—A Tass dispatch from Geneva, Switzerland, said German Ambassador Otto Aebelz had delivered a note to the Vichy government demanding more effective steps against anti-German outbreaks and warning that Germany "reserves the right to take every measure it deems necessary."

SEATTLE, June 6 (AP)—Persons who bought extra tires for their automobiles before rationing started probably will be called upon to surrender them, government officials told 400 truck and bus operators yesterday.

The armed forces will need all the rubber that can be produced, Charles F. Phillips, tire rationing chief of the office of defense transportation, said.

Vacation travel definitely is being discouraged, the official said.

Capt. Sharp Exchanges Bassinettes for Bombs

"United States heavy bombers led by Captain Frank Douglas Sharp of Salem, Ore., attacked enemy shipping and docks at Raogoon in a daylight raid June 4, the war department announced Friday night."

Klamath folks who read this story recalled a flight back on April 11, 1940, when a silver winged bomber dropped into Klamath Falls and took off with another precious cargo, not bombs but a beribboned bassinette. It was Lieutenant Sharp then.

The army pilot was en route to San Anselmo, Calif., from McChord field when he made a one-hour stop to take on the bassinette made by Mrs. Mylius P. Wingham for her daughter, Mrs. Sharp. On May 9, 1940, young Patricia Sharp arrived at San Rafael.

Mrs. Sharp is the city, Three Wingham of this former, End Jacksonvile, Fla., where she had been with her young husband. # JUDGE DISMISSES VIVIAN CAVE CASE

On motion of the district attorney's office, Circuit Judge David R. Vandenberg Saturday dismissed the case against Vivian Cave, who was charged with assault while armed with a dangerous weapon.

The motion stated that Thomas Cave, a victim of the shooting, is a material witness in this case, but is now confined to the federal prison at McNeil's island.

Cave was shot by Mrs. Cave in a car on Summers lane, according to statements by investigating officers at the time of her arrest. Cave, at that time out on parole from the federal prison, had asked permission to come to Klamath Falls, but it had been refused by the parole officer. He came in spite of this refusal, and for that reason the parole was revoked and he was returned to prison after the shooting in which he was wounded in the abdomen.

On his visit, from whom he was estranged, and she shot him in the course of an argument in the car, according to the investigators.

CAMPAIGN FOR SAFETY SHAPES AT CONVENTION

A campaign to "Keep the Lumber Industry Safe," patterned after the successful "Keep Oregon Green" drive was urged today by Robert M. Evenden, Oregon State college forestry professor, before the final luncheon session of some 35 western states safety and personnel leaders in the Elk hotel.

Evenden, addressing the lumber section of the Western Safety conference which is winding up its three-day annual convention here, lauded the Oregon anti-forest fire campaign and proposed it as a practical mould for an aggressive offensive battle in the safety field.

He said that, perhaps due to the time element, the lumber industry as a whole has been waging a defensive fight in personnel relations, including accident prevention and safety work.

Evenden said that in his opinion the time has come to take the lead, to regard personnel work as a division of business where a profit or loss may be shown, and to act upon it accordingly.

His talk, titled "Alignment of Lumber Industry Safety Attitude With the War Effort," virtually concluded the business end of the conference's confab. Earlier today members had heard Paul Black, safety engineer for the workmen's compensation speaking in Lewiston, Ida., exchange on "Equipment Upkeep and Safety," and a debate on "War Economy Over-shadows Accident Prevention."

A continuation of the debate was held this afternoon.
