During the tea hour Mrs. Samuel A. Mushen played two delightful piano numbers. Punch was served at an attractive table centered with a gold bowl which held purple iris and pale yellow columbine with yellow candles in gold candlesticks. Mrs. Rauw presided.

In bridge high honors went to Mrs. C. L. Hubble, low to Mrs. Sanford Selby.

Speaker Talks On Washington Visit

Soroptimists Hear of Efforts by Mr. Lorenz to Obtain Steel for Mills

G. C. Lorenz, as guest speaker at the Thursday luncheon of the Klamath Falls Soroptimist club at the Pelican party room, kept a large audience of club members and guests interested, amused, and somewhat dismayed with a recital of his recent attempt to obtain priorities on much needed steel for the local lumber industry.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz recently made a trip to Washington, D. C., mainly for the purpose of furthering the national defense program by keeping the mills of this community running and supplied with proper materials for needed repairs and changes. Although Mr. Lorenz' account of the difficulties in obtaining audiences with those persons who have the decision on priorities was most amusing, it left a feeling of sadness at the unnecessary delays, confusion, and duplication in governmental departments.

He was first sent to a certain captain, who heard his story, then referred him to a major, who in turn decided to turn him over to a colonel. The colonel was sure that the person for him, and the lieutenant knew just the person Mr. Lorenz should see, a certain major in Seattle. Mr. Lorenz convinced him that he had come all the way to Washington to transact his business there, not to be sent back across the continent with no assurance of action after he got there.

Next he was referred to a lieutenant-commander in the navy department, only to learn that this dignitary was at his dentist's having his teeth repaired. His next contact was with a civilian, and, as Mr. Lorenz said, "After riding the Washington merry-go-round, of which we hear so much, for eight days and nights, I succeeded in getting priority for our lumber industry."

After gaining this much, Mr. Lorenz had nothing left to do but shop for and purchase the steel. Unfortunately, the day before the priority was granted to him it had been decided by the president that ALL steel must be used first to supply the needs of Russia. However, orders were finally placed and some hope of having them filled in the course of time is held.

Another interesting part of the speaker's work in the east was his efforts to obtain anti-freeze for caterpillars and tractors used in logging. This commodity is allocated to states in proportion to the number of cars registered in the states. The logging equipment had not been considered. Mr. Lorenz was encouraged to believe that these needs would be cared for but he was instructed to return and get a census of the trucks, cats, and other equipment needing anti-freeze.

The travelers were being interested in the changes being made in the capital city, and the enormous buildings being prepared for the personnel of the various departments. Most astonishing was the army building, under construction at the present time, to contain thirty-seven acres of floor space and house 28,000 employees. The navy building which is a future project is to be even bigger.

One of the high spots of the trip was meeting Theodore Grannick and getting an opportunity to attend the Forum of the Air and hear a debate between the chief counsel of CIO and chief counsel of AFL over a proposed bill by which these labor unions will be required to render reports to the government in line with all other organizations. At the present time these two powerful organizations are exempted from such reports, he said.

The Lorenz family left Klamath Falls in the midst of a snowstorm, met with rain in San Francisco, extreme cold in Chicago and 90 degrees in the shade in Washington. Helping to make their visit pleasant was a reunion with Mrs. Twyla Ferguson, well known Klamath woman, who contributed much towards time saving in seeing points of interest.

One thing that impressed Mr. Lorenz was that all eastern trains run true to schedule while the western trains were invariably late, leading to the conclusion that traffic in the west is much more congested than in the east, but to even this up the traffic jam of humanity in the east is terrific, according to the speaker. It was necessary to contact fifteen hotels before a room could be had for the travelers and they were compelled to stay an additional night in Chicago, before proceeding to Washington as the room reserved for them was not to be vacant until that time. Mr. Lorenz met former Klamath Agency Superintendent Arnold while in the east. Mr. Arnold who is with the department of interior is moving with that department to Chicago, and must abandon his home recently purchased in Washington.

Mrs. Alice Lamm as hostess of the day introduced the speaker, also introducing a guest artist, Miss Jean Underwood, who delighted the group with a piano solo. Other guests were Miss Ruth Kamoffel, Miss Dorothy Teed, Mrs. Lena Robbins, Mrs. Mildred Buzaid, Mrs. Doris Peyton.

Miss Teed called the attention of the members to the garden party and silver tea held on the beautiful lawn at the home of Mrs. Rose Poole by the Venture club, Saturday, June the thirteenth, from two thirty to five thirty. She expressed the hope that all members of the Soroptimist club would be at this tea and bring any guests they desired.

FAREWELL PARTY EVENT OF TUESDAY

Mrs. Francis D. Manning and Mrs. Lloyd Low entertained at the home of the latter on Del Moro street, honoring Mrs. Ralph Ballentyne who left with her family on Saturday to reside at Gilchrist.

Bridge followed dessert, with high score held by Mrs. Lafayette Stephens, second by Mrs. W. C. Milkey, low to Mrs. Elmer Kinderdick. Others who enjoyed the afternoon were Mrs. Ballentyne, Mrs. E. P. Brosterhouse, Mrs. L. E. Mead, Mrs. George H. Rogers, Mrs. Alvin Egan, Mrs. Earl Smith, Mrs. Frank Sexton, Mrs. Samuel P. Miller, Mrs. K. M. Moty, Mrs. Tony Molatore and Mrs. Jerry Ricker.

Mrs. Walter West of South Riverside has as her guest her sister, Mrs. J. Marshall Martin of Zion, Illinois. The two are spending this week-end visiting Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hess, (Frances West), of Portland.

Miss Marie Loosley Married in North

Attractive Fort Klamath Girl Becomes Bride of Jay V. Hughes in Late May Ceremony

FORT KLAMATH—One of the loveliest of early summer brides was Miss Marie Loosley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond S. Loosley of Fort Klamath, whose marriage to Mr. Jay V. Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Vaughn of Chiloquin, was solemnized at two o'clock on Saturday afternoon, May the thirtieth at Westminster House in Corvallis, before college mates, friends and relatives. The double ring ceremony was performed by Dr. W. E. Warrington, head of the department of religion of Oregon State college. The fireplace was banked with a profusion of fragrant pink and white roses.

The bride was given in marriage by Dr. O. R. Chambers of the Oregon State college staff in the absence of her father, Raymond S. Loosley, who was unable to attend the wedding. She was lovely in her floor-length gown of white satin brocade fashioned with fitted bodice and long sleeves. She wore a finger-tip veil with a halo of seed pearls and carried a white prayer book and a cluster of gardenias, Cecile Brunner roses and white carnations.

During the ceremony, two vocal numbers were sung by Howard Jeffries, "Because" and "I Love You." The accompanist was Miss Maybess Jeffries.

Miss Cornelia Hulst of Salem was maid of honor. She wore turquoise chiffon with fitted bodice, full skirt and long sleeves. Her corsage was of gardenias and pink rosebuds.

Mr. George D. Drury, Kappa Delta Rho fraternity brother of the bridegroom was best man. Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held for about forty guests in the dining room of Westminster house. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth, with a centerpiece of Cecile Brunner roses and white tapers in crystal holders. Mrs. O. R. Chambers poured, and the three-tiered bride's cake was served by Mrs. Nell McLean.

The couple left after the reception for Portland, and will continue from there to Tillamook, where they will reside for a short time. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hughes are graduates of Oregon State college, where Mr. Hughes was affiliated with Kappa Delta Rho fraternity, and Mrs. Hughes was a member of Pines Co-op. Since her graduation, the bride was instructor in Home Economics in Ashland high school, where she plans to continue teaching this fall. Mr. Hughes is with the United States forest service. The popular young couple have a wide circle of friends who join in extending congratulations.

In addition to Mrs. R. S. Loosley of Fort Klamath, and Mrs. Lester Vaughn of Chiloquin, mothers of the bride and groom respectively, special guests from outside points who were present for
