Sugar Rationing Turns Attention To Canning at Bly

BLY—Sugar rationing for canning began in this community on Monday with many ladies showing an unusual interest in canning this year. Mrs. Helen Hoffman was in charge of the registration, assisted by Virginia Stone.

The question raised most frequently seems to be whether fruit will be available in this community at prices which people can afford to pay. The tire and gas situation will stand in the way of much travel across the mountains to the fruit areas, and this matter should be considered seriously, in light of the fact that women are being urged to can as much as possible and at the same time avoid running the automobile.
