

TECHNICOLOR OF SWEDEN TO BE SHOWN HERE

On Tuesday evening, June 23, 1600 feet of technicolor moving pictures of Sweden will be shown at the First Covenant church, 823 Walnut avenue. June 23 is midsummer eve, a day celebrated extensively in Sweden and the pictures will reveal some of the celebrations at this time of the year. The films are of the highest educational value and give a vivid portrayal of the only northern European nation still neutral though hard pressed by the war raging on all sides of it.

The public is invited to this meeting. In order to show the pictures to the best advantage the service will not begin until 8:30 p. m.

Two reels cover the productive industries of Sweden. Agriculture has an important place in Swedish life. From the broad plains of southern Sweden to the more mountainous areas of the north one can see the farmer busy at his task. Forestry and wood products play an ever increasing importance in the productive life of Sweden. Lumber, paper pulp and fabrics are the residue of the forest industry. Iron and silver mines are abundant in the north and engage thousands of workmen. Glass blowers and glass engravers are shown at their varied and skilled tasks.

One reel displays "Colorful Sweden." Sweden is a beautiful country and the camera's eye has endeavored to catch the

Church Schoolers Enjoy Picnic

Following a two weeks' church school conducted at St. Paul's Episcopal church, teachers, children and a few mothers gathered for a picnic lunch at the H. P. Bosworth home on Conger avenue. Hot dogs were roasted over an open fire on The Big Lawn and "a good time was had by all."

many-hued glimpses of nature's garb in the land of the "Midnight Sun." The colors of the rainbow are depicted in the scenes that are shown in this reel.

As a contrast to midsummer, one reel displays "Snow Magic in Sweden." Winter sports are loved by all Scandinavians and they excel in all of them. These winter scenes will give an insight to the pleasures as well as problems encountered during the winter time in Sweden.

Rev. Sigle Will Speak at First Baptist Church

The Rev. L. B. Sigle, pastor of the First Baptist church of Longview, Wash., will be guest speaker at the First Baptist church of Klamath Falls, Sunday, June 21.

Mr. Sigle was pastor of the local church from 1930 to 1935. The Rev. C. C. Brown succeeded him to the Klamath Falls church. Mr. Sigle has been in Longview the past three years, following several years of field work on the Pacific coast.

The Rev. Mr. Sigle plans to enter the service as a chaplain and expects to receive his appointment soon.

The First Baptist church is delighted to have the Sigle family as guests. The members and friends of the church are urged to be present at the Sunday services and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Schools Will Open At Japanese Center On September 1

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., June 19 (AP)—Schools for approximately 8000 evacuated Japanese children will open about September 1 at the Manzanar and Tulelake relocation centers.

That was the announcement Thursday of Dr. C. E. Warren, Santa Barbara superintendent of schools and state board of education representative for the establishment of evacuee education.

Some Japanese-American citizens will be employed as teachers, Dr. Warren said, but at the regular wage paid other internees. Remainder of the instructors will be certified under California requirements, and paid from $1600 to $1800 annually.

He estimated that Tulelake will have 3800 students and a teaching staff of 170; Manzanar 2200 students and a staff of 110.

Curtailed State Fair Approved

SALEM, June 19 (AP)—The state board of agriculture yesterday approved holding the state fair in September, but on a greatly curtailed basis.

The fair will consist of 4-H and Future Farmer exhibits, and the horse races.

A victory food fair will be the main feature.

We had a wrong idea of total war. People thought of it as total danger. It isn't that exactly. It's total effort.—Jonathan Daniels, assistant director of the OGD.

Baptists Name Rev. Brown to Post

BEND, June 19 (AP)—The Rev. Cecil C. Brown of Klamath Falls was named moderator of the middle Oregon Baptist association at a convention session here yesterday. J. R. DeLap of Fossil was elected clerk.

The association is holding a joint convention here with the eastern Baptist association of California.
