Federal Grand Jury Indicts Companies

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—The justice department announced today that a federal grand jury at South Bend, Ind., had returned six indictments charging 21 corporations, including such giants as Du Pont and Standard Oil of New Jersey and dozens of individuals, with anti-trust law violations involving acids important in the war effort.

Each indictment covered a particular chemical and charged in general that the defendant conspired to fix and maintain prices and to control production and distribution.

correction of the 1933 schedule for rating disabilities to include a "compensable rating for chronic gastritis." The correction called for enlargement of the gastritis classification into mild, moderate and severe cases.

Other resolutions changed Yamhill county into another district, asked alteration of a Public Law No. 361 — a disability claim law — amendment of Public Law 304 pertaining to veterans' dependents relief, endorsement of a proposed piece of nomenclature legislation known as H. chief of the combined Japanese fleet, lauding "brilliant successes . . . over a vast area of the eastern Pacific ocean since June 4 despite stormy weather."

A similar message was sent to the supreme commander of Japanese ground forces in the eastern Pacific, whose name was not disclosed.

The silence of the latter's identity was significant because the message evidently applied to the Japanese invasion of the Aleutians and it is Japan's invariable rule to keep secret the names of commanders in specific zones until their operations are successful.

China War

Chinese dispatches said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's armies had moved into position south of Nancheng, in south-eastern Kiangsi province, and were preparing to assault the city.

Sharp fighting also raged near Lishui, the site of China's best remaining air base in Chekiang province.

Japan was going to win the war, but I got the impression that they were very much afraid of the United States. The press spoke of a long war and some people talked of it lasting ten years.

The traveler was in Manila when the Japanese entered the Philippine capital and went to Tokyo from there by air, ultimately reaching Turkey by rail via Manchukuo and Russia.

Of his observations in the Philippines, he said the invaders appeared nervous when they entered Manila and that there was considerable looting, even of the customs house. He said he lost trunks and books himself.

Two Killed in Santa Fe Train Crash Last Night

PARKER, Ariz., June 26 (AP)—Two men were killed and a third badly injured when a Santa Fe train, rushing through the desert night with a group of army air corps cadets aboard, plunged through a fireswept bridge near here late last night. The southern California defense command announced an investigation to determine whether saboteurs were responsible.

The dead were announced by the Santa Fe here as Engineer E. N. Murray, Parker, and Fireman D. L. Bentz, Needles, Calif. Preliminary reports were that all the cadets, understood to number 42, escaped serious injury. Baggage man A. C. Pihl, Phoenix, Ariz., was reported seriously injured.

AXIS FORCES SURGE FORWARD OVER BORDER

coupled with the German thrust toward Russia's Caucasus, was likely to make the next week one of the most critical periods of the war.

These quarters said Rommel could throw approximately 100,000 troops into the attack on the main British defense line before Matruh, with the outcome perhaps involving the fate of Egypt and the entire allied position in the middle east.

"If Egypt goes, our control of the middle east and our chances of aiding Russia through Persia go with it," a former British war cabinet minister declared gravely.

Dispatches from Cairo said Gen. Rommel, gambling on a swift knockout of the battered and weary British eighth army, was throwing into action every ounce of his striking power. This included the German 21st and 15th armored divisions, and a huge supporting mass of motorized infantry.

In addition, the axis chieftain was reported using newly captured British and United States-built tanks, hastily daubed with swastikas on their sides.

Cairo military quarters said the first 48 hours of fighting before Matruh would probably determine whether Rommel's location lines were equal to the strain.

On the soviet war front, the Russians conceded a dangerous German advance below Kharkov, in the Ukraine, but declared that red army defenders still held stoutly in the 22-day-old battle of Sevastopol.

A bulletin from Marshal Semion Timoshenko's headquarters said the Germans had captured Kupyansk, 60 miles south-east of Kharkov.

Soviet Reserves

Soviet reserves were reported racing up to combat the new German threat as it became apparent that Field Marshal Gen. Fedor Von Bock hoped to score a deep break-through in the Kupyansk sector to disrupt soviet communications to the south and pave the way for a German drive against Rostov, northern gateway to the Caucasus oil treasures.

Russia's heroic defense of Sevastopol, the Crimean key to a short-cut route into the Caucasus, won acknowledgment from the nazl command, which again emphasized the "hard fighting" but asserted that axis shock troops had captured several more fortified heights.

Summer Fight on Six Fronts

Summer finds the war in Europe and Africa expanding its scope of action, sweeping into the six arenas of conflict shown on map. Massed British bombers are raiding the Rhine-Ruhr and other industrial areas of western Germany. In the Balkans, activity is both in the air—with U. S. bombers raiding Rumania—and "underground." On the four other fronts, active axis-allied fighting goes on. Distances are from the centers of action in each circle. Size of rings does not indicate intensity of conflict.
