

Klamath Goes All-out on Victory Celebration July 4th and 5th

Gale Motley,
Klamath Falls

Betty Ann Chathurn,
Merrill

Roberta Tucker,
Klamath Falls

Virginia Hooper,
Tulolake

Who Is Going To Be Queen?

Here are the seven attractive Klamath girls who will represent the Victory queen and her court to rule over the Victory rodeo July 4 and 5. The queen and her six princesses will be announced at the Victory dance Friday night at the armory July 3. Mayor John Houston will crown the winning candidate. The Klamath Junior chamber of commerce made the selection of girl candidates.

—Photos by Comart studio

Virginia Howard,
Klamath Falls

Barbara Palmer,
Klamath Falls

Dale Motley,
Klamath Falls

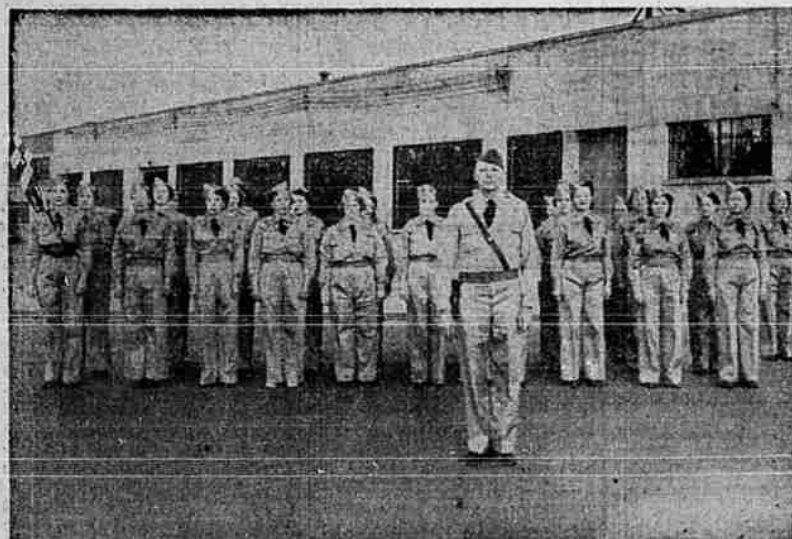

—Photos by Comart studio

VICTORY CELEBRATION CENTRAL COMMITTEE—Left to right: Dr. G. H. Merryman, Junior chamber of commerce parade committee; Ed Bell, Chet Smith, Victory dances and Sunday night Victory services; Mayor John Houston, chairman of Victory celebration; O. D. Matthews, rodeo committee; Fred Heilbronner, troop entertainment committee; A. R. Triplett, promotion and publicity; Elmer Balsiger, retail committee and G. C. Tatman, labor committee, were absent when picture was taken.

—Photos by Comart studio

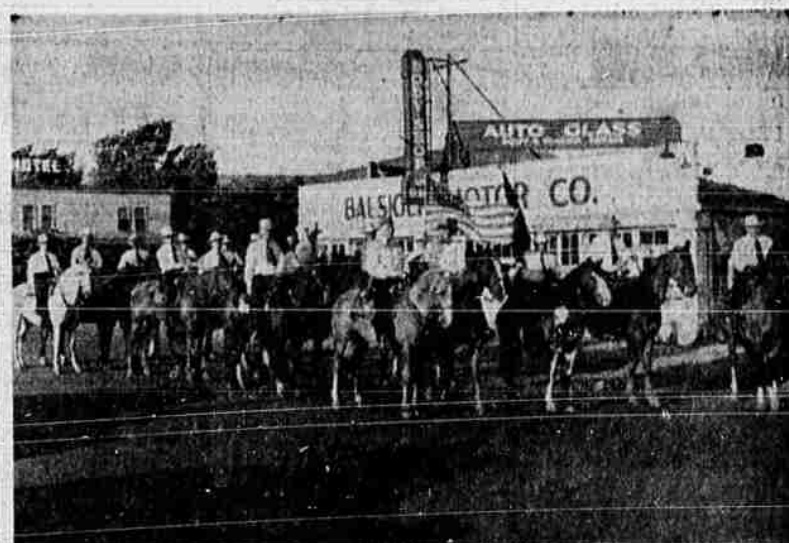

PARADE COMMITTEE—Klamath's Junior chamber of commerce parade committee for the Victory celebration is shown here. Left to right: Estle Afflek, Victory queen's contest; Paul Lee of Merrill, community activities; Jim Kerns, wholesale float entries; Charlie Mack, 4-H club and grange activities. Standing is Dr. G. H. Merryman, chairman; Walter Bowne, civilian defense activities; A. R. Triplett, promotion and publicity; Arden Dybevik, fraternal and civic activities. Those not present are Charles Stanfield, band and music; Lou Langworthy and Greer Drew, retail float activities.

AMBULANCE CORPS—Here is the Klamath unit of Oregon Women's Ambulance corps. Lined up are members of the Klamath Falls platoon, with Drillmaster Herman L. Lofdahl in front. Lieutenant Kathleen Livingston, commanding officer of the local group, is first on the left of the front row. The OWAC, which is working closely with the citizens' defense set-up here, will march in the July 4 Victory parade.

RODEO COMMITTEE—Here is Klamath's Victory rodeo committee. Left to right: O. D. Matthews, chairman; Dr. Calvin Hunt, Marshall Cornett, Mrs. Ruth Nelson, Bill Hooper, J. E. Hosking and Bob McGhehey. Victory rodeo headquarters are at 412 Main, in the old Kaufman furniture building.

MOUNTED RESERVES—Klamath's mounted reserves are ready to participate in Klamath's Victory celebration. Since its organization as the sheriff's posse several years ago, this group has always been on hand when needed in any capacity. When Pearl harbor was attacked, the sheriff's posse became the mounted reserves and immediately began guard duty at strategic points.

ARENA ACTION—Scene taken in the arena of last year's Buckaroo Days at fairgrounds. Plenty of thrills and spills will give rodeo fans another wild and woolly afternoon's program on July 4 and 5.

FOR TROOP ENTERTAINMENT—William Jessup and Mr. Krekos of the West Coast circus handing the Klamath troop entertainment committee their $1000 fee as a part of their contribution to Klamath's all-out drive for troop entertainment fund during Klamath's Victory celebration. Left to right: William Jessup and Krekos of West Coast circus, "Klamath's Victory Gayway"; Frank Howard, troop entertainment committee; Margene Thomas, member of the Commandos; Fred Heilbronner, chairman of troop entertainment committee; Mayor John Houston, Ed Bell, Earl Reynolds, Angus Newton and Chet Smith.