

ENEMY ADVANCE REACHES AREA EAST OF FUKA

lged that the enemy again advanced yesterday and that fighting was in progress in the same area.

New Zealand Troops
Fresh New Zealand troops, fighting with the bayonet at close quarters, bolstered the British defense while the strengthened United States air power dropped bombs steadily on the axis vehicles and bases. A United States military observer just back from the front said the situation was somewhat improved.

An RAF communique said that last night, as on the previous night, the Americans heavily raided axis ground forces west of Matruh, setting numerous fires among armored vehicles, transports and grounded planes; and that a raid on Tobruk set large fires and hit an axis supply ship amidships.

Second Raid
The Germans raided Alexandria last night for the second time in 24 hours, killing 12 persons and wounding 14. Raid alarms also sounded at Cairo and points in the Nile Delta.

Some axis armored groups were caught by surprise outside their tanks during the night and wiped out by Britons wielding bayonets and hurling hand grenades. New Zealanders played an important part in these assaults.

The American military observer, just back from the fighting front said, "while the situation cannot be classed as good after such reverses as have been suffered in the desert, it certainly is not hopeless and looks better now than a few days ago."

Rocket Cannon Seems Secret of Rommel Victory

fixed the semi-rocket character of the new German terror. The slenderness of the barrel and the light weight is the tip that the gun is partly merely a projector. It is not heavy enough to fire an 88 millimeter shell full range, unless made of some secret new alloy, an interpretation precluded by the Cairo dispatch.

The British soldiers could see the tails of fire from these shells.

Mr. and Mrs. Veatch Report Cold Weather in East, Too

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert S. Veatch returned Monday night from a two months motor trip that took them as far east as Cleveland, where Veatch attended the Kiwanis International convention, and Canton, O., where they visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McDonell.

They left here April 21, and encountered snowstorms as far east as Nebraska, an especially violent one, approaching a blizzard, occurring between Laramie and Cheyenne, where for several hours they followed a snowplow that was itself barely able to negotiate the heavy snow. Returning by the northern route through the Dakotas and Montana, they ran into snowstorms again at Yellowstone park.

"As a matter of fact," Veatch said Tuesday, "Monday was the only sunny day all day long on the entire trip. Generally speaking the weather was cold and wet, and on the way back we ran through heavy rains that resulted in delaying washouts. I think we saw every kind of weather there is, including a few warm days."

Both were greatly impressed by the industrial activity in the middle west around the big factory towns, all of which are congested with war workers. There is evidence on every hand, they say, of war prosperity, but living costs are extremely high, especially food prices, and merchandise appears to be becoming scarcer.

terminated charge of the siege-weary defenders.

IN Egypt, the British seem to be planning to make their final stand on the strip of hard ground between the Mediterranean and the Quattaro depression, with the sea protecting their right wing and the depression their left.

That is a historic position for the British.

BE sure to read Howard Blakeslee's dispatch in this newspaper today, telling of the belief that Rommel's 88-millimeter anti-tank gun is really a ROCKET CANNON.

The point is that by use of the rocket principle Rommel was enabled with a light gun to OUT-RANGE the British and U. S. tanks and smash them while they still couldn't reach him.

(As if, armed with a 30-30, you were fighting someone armed with a .22.)

NOTE also today that it was U. S. army bombers, striking at the enemy in probably the LONGEST OVER-WATER BOMBING FLIGHT EVER MADE, that smacked the Japs at Wake on Saturday night—smashing their installations there so badly they will be useless until the little brown men can repair the damage and fly in new planes—and returning to their bases without the loss of a single plane.

Watch this long-range bombing. There will be more and more of it as the war goes on.

ately after the attack they saw light signals flashed between two points nearby. They sailed six days in a lifeboat before being picked up by another merchantman.

Eleven of the crew of 35 aboard the other ship, a small one, were lost when it was sunk in mid-June without warning. After the ship sank, the submarine surfaced and the commander asked routine questions about the ship's cargo and destination.

The lifeboat, which took on all the survivors, sailed into a Caribbean port the following day.

A large seagoing American tugboat, a small Norwegian craft, a Yugoslav freighter which went to the Norwegian's rescue, and a small U. S. freighter were announced by the navy yesterday as having been sunk recently, while the sinking of three United States merchant ships was disclosed Sunday.

Announced eastern Pacific merchant vessel sinkings since the war began remained at eight.

Retailers have also pledged to enroll their employees in the treasury department 10 per cent payroll allotment plan.

Citizens Asked to Write in Charter Suggestions

Walter Wiesendanger, chairman of the judiciary committee of the city council, on Tuesday asked Klamath citizens to write in any suggestions as to material they believe should be placed in the city charter.

Wiesendanger heads a committee which is working on revision of the charter, and the revised proposal will be up for vote in November, according to present plans.

The committee chairman asked the letters be sent to him in care of the Sunset grocery.

terials which would be resold — at a loss — to businesses "squeezed" between frozen wholesale and retail prices.

Thus, it was said, a retailer who could not raise his prices to compensate for higher wholesale charges could continue in business without breaking thru price ceilings.

Passages of the record-breaking army supply bill was on a voice vote that appeared unanimous.

The army bill, with appropriations far exceeding the cost of the last war, carried funds for the purchase of 23,550 warplanes and a total of approximately 100,000 tanks. Under its terms the army would be built up from its present strength of approximately 2,800,000 men to 4,500,000 men by July 1, 1943.

MURRAY-WILEY CASE RE-OPENED

The case of E. J. Murray, appellant, versus Wilson Wiley and others of Klamath Falls, involving the Woolworth store building on Main street, was ordered opened for further proceedings by the supreme court Tuesday.

The court reversed Circuit Judge Arthur D. Hay, who found for the defendants, ordering further proceedings during which an accounting shall be made.

Murray sued for title of the building. Originally it was owned by him, but later Wiley and G. Q. D'Albini, as the Conger corporation, sold the structure. In the suit, Murray asserted he had given the Conger corporation only a deed of trust, and that it could not lawfully sell the building. Made defendants in the suit, also, were the parties who purchased the structure from the Conger corporation, including Merle West et ux, Charles Martin et ux, T. B. Walters et ux, Mary L. Moore, J. W. Maloney, collector of internal revenue, was also made a defendant.

CHARLES G. HOVEY CRITICALLY HURT

Charles G. Hovey, Klamath logging operator, suffered critical injuries late Monday morning on the Ball mountain road 22 miles west of Dorris. He was moved to Hillside hospital late Tuesday morning. It is understood that Hovey suffered a broken back, severe facial lacerations and other hurts in the accident.

Hovey was driving a heavily laden logging truck down the mountain where he had been logging for Bill Raymond, when the brakes failed to hold. Hovey pulled to the side of the road and as the truck stopped the logs crashed against the back of the cab pinning the driver against the dashboard.

A half hour later members of the logging crew came upon Hovey and the wrecked truck. They summoned Dr. E. S. Peake of Lumbermen's hospital in Dorris, and brought two tractors to the scene. With the aid of a bull chain they carefully unloaded the logs, cut the cab and removed the injured man. Hovey was placed on a spring frame and moved to the Dorris hospital in the back of a "pickup."

Hovey was en route to the Associated Lumber and Box mill at Dorris at the time of the accident. He is a member of a well known Klamath county family and son of the late Dick Hovey, lumberman.

Credit was due members of the logging crew for their efficient work in moving the logs and the injured man, Dr. Peake stated.

Late Tuesday Hillside hospital authorities said Hovey was resting comfortably and responding excellently to treatment.

Although that was his only formal statement, Churchill answered questions.

Declining to allow publication of the reports of General Sir Archibald P. Wavell, commander-in-chief of India, on the losses of Malaya and Singapore, the prime minister said they "clearly would cause a great deal of ill-will throughout the British empire."
