vent of the foggy season will give the convoys greater protection and the retreat of the Arctic icefields will permit them to make a great circle far north of the Norwegian coast.

Russian authorities have showed their gratitude to the American seamen by granting each crew member a soviet port bonus of an additional month's pay, Frankel disclosed.

The bonus, by dollar draft presented to the captain of each ship and payable in the United States, amounts to about $3000 per vessel. This is in addition to other bonuses granted in the United States.

The Russians also are doing everything possible to make the Americans feel at home, Frankel said, by providing Russian and American movies nightly, by staging operetta performances and by opening an international club for sailors.

DARK PICTURE SKETCHED OF EGYPT BATTLE

perts estimate the number engaged in the service of supply in the middle east at about 250,000. Churchill's somber portrayal of the war in Africa was relieved only by his statement that "very considerable" reinforcements have reached or "are approaching" the battlefield.

This major strengthening of the battered British eighth army, athwart the axis path to the Nile delta, Alexandria and Suez, was the basis of Churchill's statement that "I do not consider the struggle in any way as decided."

He said his conversations with President Roosevelt were concerned "only with movement of troops, ships and aircraft and measures to be taken to combat losses at sea and more than replace sunken tonnage."

The United States army air force has been in action for some days in the north African struggle while United States service and supply units have been engaged on behalf of the allies on other battle lines.

"Almost everything arranged was secret," Churchill added of his talks with the president, and "there was never a more earnest desire between allies to engage the enemy."

The war, in Churchill's opinion, is likely to be a long one and moreover, he said, there is no reason to suppose that hostilities will cease "when the final result has become obvious."

Churchill said the balance of naval power in the Pacific has been "altered in our favor" by the "brilliant victories of the United States navy and airforce" over the Japanese in the Coral sea and at Midway.

He said that the fall of Tobruk, the last bulwark in Italian Libya, which opened the way for eastward invasion of Egypt, had been "utterly unexpected" by the cabinet, the chiefs of staff and General Sir Claude Auchinleck, commander-in-chief of middle eastern forces.

50,000 Lost

He said that Britain and her allies, including the dominions, the Free French and the Poles, had lost "upwards of 50,000 men" in the last two weeks as the battle of Libya turned into the battle of Egypt.

He added to this figure "a great mass of material" and "large quantities of stores."

On the night before the Libyan bastion, Tobruk, fell to the axis Field Marshal Erwin Rommel, Churchill said, Auchinleck advised the cabinet that the port and fortress city was adequately garrisoned, with its defenses in "good order" and with "90 days supplies available for the troops."

"We had superiority in numbers of tanks of perhaps seven to five and superiority in artillery of nearly eight to five," he added.

By way of explanation of the debacle, Churchill said that heavy attacks on Malta, Britain's mid-Mediterranean island base

680 BOYS SIGN UP IN FIFTH DRAFT

Six hundred and eighty 18, 19 and 20-year-old Klamath county youths registered Tuesday in the nation's fifth draft registration, selective service headquarters announced today.

The office said that 439 signed up in the city's only registration place in the Fremont gym while 241 registered in outlying county communities.

The number was far short of pre-registration estimates which indicated a total sign-up of from 1200 to 1500 names.

The registration was for youths born on or after January 1, 1922, and on or before June 30, 1924. Only the 20-year-olds are eligible for immediate call to service.

The draft office said the county total was expected to rise slightly when registrations of Klamath residents working outside the immediate area are returned.

Ownership of the vessel was traced and a U. S. army observer placed on the trail. Attempts were made to poison him and to sabotage his plane.

He survived the attempts and with the cooperation of army, navy, Canal Zone and British authorities, he managed to round up all he believed to be involved, including one man who was arrested at sea by the crew of a U. S. naval patrol plane.

U. S. Naval Base in Northern Ireland Revealed

shore establishments in a plant spreading over hundreds of acres, only a year ago 3000 Irish and American workers were starting construction.

It was built with lend-lease funds and Capt. William Larson of Chicago said "everything in the base down to the last pork chop or nut and bolt has been brought from the United States."

Details of its intricate mechanism, of course, still are a war secret but it could repair or rebuild the biggest United States destroyer. It has millions of dollars worth of precision machinery ready, if necessary, to operate around the clock in blacked-out buildings.

It is designed to keep fit destroyers and other light craft on Atlantic convoy duty for the United States and Canadian navies. It is a separate unit but, on occasion, works jointly with the nearby British yard.

Men are housed in de luxe "quonset huts" prefabricated at home and put together here and its sick and injured are tended in a 200-quonset hospital which has its own X-ray apparatus, pharmacy, operating rooms and staff of specialists. British as well as American sailors are its patients.

Reaching far out over the neck of Japanese "invasion base" islands north of Australia, allied bombers attacked six Japanese strongholds and inflicted heavy damage.

A United Nations communiqué said the raiders struck at Kendari airdrome in Dutch Celebes; Dili, Portuguese Timor; Lae and Salamaua, New Guinea, and Tulagi and Bougainville, in the Solomon Islands.

REDS REPORTED ATTACKING ON KURSK FRONT

authorities declared Adolf Hitler's mainland armies had completed line-straightening operations preparatory to attack in a second great phase of the war against soviet Russia.

Mobilization for an all-out offensive was implied.

Hitler's newspaper, the Voelkischer Beobachter, said the Sevastopol campaign and other operations on the Russian front all "were initiating a new phase of the fight."

(German dispatches to neutral Switzerland indicated that every available weapon was being utilized in drives intended to consolidate invasion positions in Russia and the Mediterranean basin before the end of 1942 and before the institution of allied action to which the axis press refers as "the coming siege of Europe.")

Crimea Cleared

Germans pictured the Crimea—studded with potential air and sea bases for thrusts at the oil-rich Caucasus—as essentially cleared of organized resistance and DNB said that mainland armies of the reich and her allies were aligned for a resumption of the drive to the east.

Sevastopol's fall was announced with a fanfare of trumpets by the German high command last night.

A communique said survivors of the Sevastopol garrison, driven by nazi and Rumanian forces from that "most powerful land and sea fortress in the world" at noon yesterday, faced annihilation on the Khersones peninsula, which juts into the Black sea southwest of the city and its cliff-lined harbor.

Local Fighting

German military sources said fighting still going on today on Khersones peninsula was only local. The communique today repeated yesterday's special announcement that Sevastopol had fallen.

On the far northern front, the communique said, nazi bombers and dive bombers "pounded the harbor and railway installations at Murmansk with heavy high explosives."

The Berlin radio said "a very heavy mortar and a very heavy and long-barreled railway gun" (which the Russians report to have a 24-inch bore) were credited with part of "the quick success of the operations." DNB declared its shells blasted even the thickest concrete walls into dust.

time. It was so with Wellington at Waterloo.

Sometimes the needed reinforcement has arrived in time and in sufficient volume. At other times it has NOT.

The fate of our side will not be decided at Alexandria, but if the reinforcements of which Churchill speaks do not arrive in time or in sufficient volume and the Germans break through into the Near and Middle East the length of the war will have been greatly added to.

ARMY GENERALS TO TRY 8 SABOTEURS

landed from enemy submarines with equipment for sabotaging key military installations and war plants.

The military order said that the commission would try the eight defendants "for offenses against the law of war and the articles of war." The accused are Ernest Peterburger, George John Dasch, Herbert Hans Haupt, Henry Harm Heinck, Edward John Kerling, Hermann Otto Neubauer, Richard Quirin and Werner Thiel.

The commission was empowered to make its own rules for the conduct of the proceedings, as provided for under the articles of war, so as to insure a "full and fair trial."

Concurrence of at least two-thirds of the members present will be necessary for any conviction or sentence.

The proclamation denying any appeal to civil courts did not mention the eight defendants specifically, but will apply, rather, to all persons who have entered this country since the outbreak of the war "for the purpose of committing hostile acts against the government."

BIG CROWDS GO TO CIRCUS, GAY-WAY

Big crowds are going nightly to the circus and gay-way, operating on Spring street as a feature of Klamath's Fourth of July celebration and troop entertainment fund benefits.

The gay-way abounds with all types of rides and carnival features, and the show includes sideshows and a circus. Special animal acts and an act featuring Mable Stark, the world's only feminine lion tamer, are included in the circus program.

Bill Jessup of the show management reported that last Saturday's crowds were among the biggest in the history of circuses and carnivals here. Heavy attendance is expected the remainder of this week, with the circus continuing through the weekend as a feature of the celebration.

CONFLICT HOT ON COAST ROAD TO ALEXANDRIA

Cairo declared in reporting a battle that continued all day yesterday.

Temporary Break

The armored forces of Nazi Marshal Erwin Rommel were acknowledged to have made a temporary break at one defended locality, only to be driven again by the British columns.

Further south, on the edge of the Great Qattara depression, British forces ranged 17 miles west of their positions to engage axis units, but the main battle obviously was along the coastal road toward Alexandria, where General Sir Claude J. E. Auchinleck chose to make his stand against persistent frontal assault.

Despite the sandstorms, the RAF continued intense bombing and strafing of the enemy in the El Alamein area, the British said, but the axis claimed domination of the skies over the battlefield.

Precautions

The Germans credited their dive-bombers with paving the way for the claimed breakthrough at El Alamein.

In recognition of the close threat to the Nile valley, Egyptian government replaced police guards with soldiers at all important bridges, dams, and buildings and began rounding up criminal elements as a precaution.

The Vichy French expressed fears that the British might destroy the French battleship, submarine, four cruisers and three destroyers which have been interned at Alexandria since the fall of France, rather than let them fall into the enemy's hands.

Any act against these ships would be one of "violence," warned a semi-official Vichy statement.

WASP STINGS TWICE

LONDON, July 2 (AP)—marking on the replenishment of Malta's aircraft carrier Wasp, Prime Minister Churchill told the house of commons that the Wasp had rendered notable service on more than one occasion, "enabling me to send a message of thanks: 'Who says the Wasp cannot sting twice?'"
