land anchor and establishing a sidewalk. Security Measure The British regarded this as a security measure against a flank attack but there was no indication whether it was because Nazi Field Marshal Erwin Rommel was organizing a new attempt to burst the bottleneck or because he had strength left only to hold on.

(Stockholm newspaper dispatches from Berlin indicated uneasiness in the Nazi capital over Rommel's position. One correspondent reported that he was in difficulty because his exhausted troops faced British Gen. Sir Claude J. E. Auchinleck's fresh reinforcements. (Heavy axis attacks on Malta were taken by the British in London to mean that convoys were hurrying reinforcements across the Mediterranean to Rommel. Evidence of the weight of enemy efforts to eliminate that British Isle as a threat to Rommel's supply route from Europe was Malta's report last night that 24 raiders had been shot down there in 24 hours.)

ple. The principle, he added, was whether the government's parity program was going to be broken down.

Under present law, cooperators in the crop control program are able to obtain loans at 85 per cent of parity on the six major crops. Under a full parity loan program, they could borrow 15 cents a bushel more than the present market price on corn, and 38 cents a bushel more on wheat.

Russell Speaks Senator Russell asserted the bill would "place a floor under farm products which will enable the farmer to exist in a world of rising prices for the things he has to buy."

Majority Leader Barkley (Ky.) of the senate told reporters, however, that only about 350,000,000 bushels of the expected 900,000,000 bushel wheat harvest would be raised by cooperators and thus subject to full loans. The remaining "free wheat" would have to find its own price level, Barkley said, and he predicted that any increase resulting from passage of the bill would be temporary.

Cannon forecast a presidential veto for the loan bill if it passed the house. When it will come up for action in that chamber is problematical, as it is subject to hearings in the agriculture committee.

Deductions From Soldiers' Checks Start

wife) before first payments are made on November 1. The law specified payments to be effective as of June 1, but delay in setting up the vast administrative machinery will postpone the initial payments for four months.

Thereafter the government checks will go out monthly. Although formal application blanks will not be available until about July 25, Col. Thurston Hughes, of Louisville, Ky., head of a staff of 1265 set up to administer the new law for the army, has ordered post commanders to accept informal applications to establish a date for making monthly deductions.

Since deductions and allowances may accrue from June 1, those in the service on that date started, or were due to start contributing July 1. Those entering the service after June 1 will have deductions start from the pay of the month following their application for benefits.

FIGURES announced today bring the total of ships sunk in the Western Atlantic since Pearl Harbor to 344. Remember that most of these ships have been carrying cargoes of war supplies destined in one way or another for OUR side in the European war.

That will give you some idea of the importance of this Western Atlantic submarine warfare in the axis plans.

SOME 213 days have elapsed since Pearl Harbor. In that time 344 of our side's ships have been sunk on this side of the Atlantic. That is an average of 1.6 ships per day.

It takes quite a building program just to offset this loss in SHIPS alone, but we must remember that the number of ships destroyed doesn't tell the whole story.

The loss of the supplies carried by the ships is a big part of it.

EVEN the Japs, with their protected water route through the China sea, are worried about communications and are struggling to break the Chinese hold on the last few miles of the rail line that leads, with considerable roundabout wandering, from Shanghai to Singapore.

Possession and development of this rail line would free their minds to some extent of the fear of submarine attacks on their water communication line through the China sea.

Whatever you do, don't overlook the importance of communications.

RESTRICTIONS ON TRAVEL IN WOODS SEVERE

Klamath Forest Protective association have been placed in class 2. One of these embraces a large section of land north and northeast of Klamath Falls, extending from Upper Klamath lake to the Swan lake country and bounded on the north by the Klamath Indian reservation. Two KFPA areas have been placed in Class 3.

Rogue River Rulings

The various closures also apply to sections of the big Rogue River national forest, which covers much of northwestern Klamath county. Open to recreationists, with permits, will be the Mountain Lakes primitive area, Blue canyon, Seven Lakes, Huckleberry mountain, Lake of the Woods, Fish Lake and Rocky Point, as well as the main highways, traveled country roads and forest camps.

On the other hand, strict closure will be applied to an area along Upper Klamath lake in the Rogue forest, preventing fishing in Seven Mile creek, Cherry creek, Rock creek, Three Mile creek and other streams in that district.

Persons wishing to enter class 3 areas of the Rogue River forest may register at Pelican Guard station, Cherry creek, Seven Mile, Lake of the Woods, Dead Indian Soda Springs, Big Elk ranger station and the Moon Prairie guard station.

Fremont Closures

Fremont national forest areas affected by the new restrictions were also announced in detail Wednesday.

Three Fremont areas are in class 3, where recreational use is permitted after registration. These are designated as the Silver Creek area, the Gearhart-Chewaucan area, and the Warner mountain area. Registration for entry into these special areas for fishing, hunting, etc., can be made at the nearest forest guard or ranger station where entry is desired.

Five Fremont forest areas have been placed in class 2, where entry will be permitted for business purposes only and on permit. They are:

Silver lake area, Horze-glades-Dead Indian area, Grizzly-Lakeview Logging company area, Underwood-Willow creek area, and South Fremont area.

Permits for travel in these areas may be obtained in Bly, Lakeview, Paisley and Silver Lake. Permits will be issued only to persons with business in the area, such as ranchers, grazing permittees, loggers, etc.

Where conditions require, travel may be restricted to daylight hours in both class 2 and class 3 areas.

Maps showing the restricted areas of the Fremont national forest and the Klamath Forest Protective association may be viewed at the KFPA offices on Conger avenue, or at The Herald and News offices.

Meeting Called In Eureka Lumber Workers Strike

EUREKA, Calif., July 8 (AP)—An AFL strike committee called a special meeting today to consider the war labor board's charge that the walkout of 1000 lumber workers here violates the national agreement of labor unions that there shall be no strikes for the duration of the war.

The board, in a telegram to the AFL Lumber and Sawmill Workers union, Local 2592, said it would not consider the merits of the dispute as long as the strike continues, and added: "The board expects that as loyal and patriotic citizens the employees of this company will immediately end this strike and return to work."

Demanding a union shop and wage increases, the lumbermen struck Monday morning and sawmills of the Hammond Lumber company at Samoa and Eureka closed down.

BOARD CALLS FOR 1-B VOLUNTEERS

A call for Class 1-B volunteers for induction in August was issued today by Klamath county selective service headquarters.

The office said that because only a small number of 1-B men throughout the state will be called for induction in August, it is not intended to call upon every board in the state to furnish a proportionate share of the total 1-B call. It is intended, however, the office said, to place a call upon every local board which has Class 1-B registrants who wish to volunteer for induction.

The draft office said that 1-B registrants passed at the Portland induction station as meeting 1-A standards will be accepted for general military service, those passing as 1-B's will be inducted for limited service and those failing to meet either standards will be disqualified for service.

Those accepted will be entitled to a 14-day furlough after acceptance, so that necessary business affairs will be disposed of.

The local draft office said that 147 men were listed on Board 1-1-B rolls and 200 on Board 2 lists.

Armed Guards Guarantee Secrecy at Trial

ner and manned guns set up in some instances on trucks. From there, the prisoners were taken by guarded and secret elevators to the fifth floor area where the trial is being held in what normally is a federal bureau of investigation class room.

The eight defendants, all German-born, though two had acquired American citizenship before the war, face a swift, unappealable decision. President Roosevelt barred all civil courts to them in a proclamation last week. The commission will decide, by votes of at least 5 to 2, whether they are guilty, and if so, what their punishment is to be.

A formal accusation alleging four violations of the laws of war and the articles of war—each carrying the death penalty—has been filed with the commission by the prosecutors, who are headed by Attorney General Francis Biddle. Biddle's office said he had cancelled all engagements for the next 10 days.

The defendants are George John Dasch, 39, leader of the group of four which landed near Amaransett, Long Island, on June 13; Edward John Kerling, 33, leader of the group of four which landed near Jacksonville on June 17, and these others: Ernest Peter Burger, Herbert Hans Haupt, Henry Harm Heineck, Hermann Otto Neubauer, Richard Quirin and Werner Thiel.

HOT COMBAT RAGES ALONG RIVER COURSE

Rzhev front west of Moscow were reported today by the German high command.

Russian counter-attacks northwest of Voronezh failed, but the Russians continued to attack to the northwest in the Orul sector after being repulsed in fierce fighting that brought strong German aerial forces into use, a communique said.

The general picture as described by the Nazis thus portrays the Germans as broadening the spearhead they have thrust from Kharkov and Kursk about 120 miles eastward to Voronezh and 300 miles south of Moscow, while the Russians are doggedly counter-attacking on the north and northwest flank in an effort to smash through and cut off the advanced German forces.

(Rzhev, where the Nazis claim to have encircled large Russian forces, is on the upper Volga river and a railway 130 miles west of Moscow, on a front where the Nazis long have held a bulge during a comparatively quiet period.)

JOE BLANKENSHIP PAROLED WEDNESDAY

Joe Blankenship, 46, was sentenced to two years in prison and paroled when he appeared before Circuit Judge David R. Vandenberg Wednesday.

He was sentenced on two indictments charging he obtained money under false pretenses. Blankenship was arrested recently in California, where he was a guard at the Mare Island navy yard.

First arrested about two years ago in Arizona, Blankenship escaped from Otto Langslet, special deputy sheriff from Klamath county, who had been sent south to get him. He disappeared in San Francisco.

He related his story of the escape to officers here, asserting he drove away from a hotel with an acquaintance. The next day, in Reno, he saw a newspaper account of his escape.

Stations Will Close for Final Rubber Clean-Up was checking with Portland in an effort to find if the order extends to this city.

Snodgrass also revealed that the city's scrap rubber total as of last night was 420,000 pounds, 30,000 pounds short of the 450,000-pound goal set when presidential proclamation extended the drive to July 10. He said attainment of the goal would require all-out cooperation by every citizen between now and Friday at midnight.

Meanwhile at least 2000 pounds of the needed 30,000 was believed to have been found with discovery of a mound of castoff tires in the Klamath river canyon west of Keno. Recovery of the bonanza constitutes a problem, but efforts are being made to bring them to road level for transportation into the city.

At an eastern port, 10 of the crew members of the Dutch cargo vessel sunk in the Caribbean told how their ship was torpedoed without warning on the night of May 12.

Hendrik Bos, 23-year-old third engineer, said the crew crowded into a life boat and made 400 miles in six days before they were picked up by a U. S. merchant ship.

CHARLES LEONARD, 65, FOUND DEAD

Charles R. Leonard, 65, was found dead Tuesday evening on the sidewalk just outside the back door of his two-room cabin at 507 S. Fourth street. The verdict of Dr. George H. Adler, coroner, was that he had died of stomach hemorrhage.

Leonard was noticed about 5 o'clock sitting in a chair beside his back door by a neighbor, L. E. Luce. At 6:30 another neighbor, L. W. Akers, saw the man stretched out on the sidewalk and assumed that he was asleep. When he saw him again a little after 7 o'clock in the same position, he became alarmed and investigated, finding blood on the man's face. Police were immediately called to the scene.

Leonard came to Klamath Falls on June 30 from Chico, Calif., and was on a pension as a disabled war veteran. On his person were found $4.20 in silver, a dollar watch and two keys. The body was removed to Ward's Klamath Funeral home.

Walter Nash, New Zealand's minister to the United States, told reporters the council studied just what was happening in Egypt, adding:

"The situation is, we're holding, and that is good. I do not know whether it is permanent, but it is infinitely better than it was a fortnight ago."

A Lesson from the Chinese

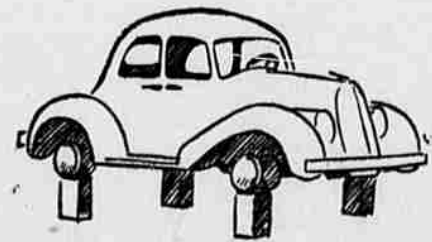

The story is told that the Chinese pay the doctor to keep them well, and if they contract illness, the doctor pays them instead. Whether or not this story is true, the general idea is sound. Serious illness can often be prevented by regular health examinations. Form the habit of visiting your doctor often—at least twice a year. If you do not have a family physician, we will be glad to recommend several from whom you can make your selection.

This was a Salesman
Now, he is a private in the field artillery. He enlisted for the duration of the war.

This was the Salesman's Car

The salesman is gone. The car's tires are gone. Gasoline is scarce. The salesman's boss has put this car in storage.

The salesman, the tires the car lacks, the gasoline the car is not burning, all are helping to win the war. But how does the salesman's boss reach his customers?

Newspaper advertising helps to take the place of the salesman and his car

Advertisements carry his boss' message to his customers. They cannot do all that the salesman did, of course, but by carrying these messages quickly and economically they are doing a part of his job, and will make the salesman's job easier and better for him when he comes back from the war.
