

Venture Girls Hosts at Dinner

Lovely Evening Affair Given in Garden at Poole Home on Conger Thursday

Beneath Mrs. Rose Poole's "applesauce tree," her "pickled peach" tree, her neclarine and plum trees, and many other lovely old trees, long a landmark on Conger avenue, a group of Venture girls welcomed the Soroptimist club as their guests at a picnic dinner, Thursday evening at seven o'clock.

Proving that they were as efficient in the making of cakes, salads, cold drinks, and entrees, as in auditing, income-taxing, and typing, these outstanding young business women served a delightful dinner to the members of the older club.

Headed by Dorothy Teed, their president, Margaret West, Beverley Saunders, Joyce Leech, Beverly Siemens, Betty Anne Prudhomme, Loretta O'Brien, Pat Sexton and Barbara Sellers watched over the plates of their guests, keeping them filled.

As dark fell, tables were cleared and the hostesses led the way into the music room where songs and conversation were enjoyed.

President Coral Sabo, just returned from the Cleveland convention, was welcomed home and beset by inquiries as to what was done during the meetings. So great was the interest displayed in this convention that it was voted to have another summer luncheon meeting at the party room of the Pelican grille, to be held Thursday, July the sixteenth, at which time the president has been asked to give a full report on the biennial meeting.

Mrs. Sabo announced that a western woman will head the American Federation for the next two years, Harriett Tyler, a young attorney of San Francisco, having been elected to the presidency. Serving with Mrs. Tyler will be Lois Biel Sandall as first vice president. Mrs. Sandall has just finished a four-year term as regional director of the northwestern region of which Klamath Falls is a member. The first vice presidency of the federation is an honor accorded her in recognition of outstanding work done during her term as regional director during which time she doubled the number of clubs in her region, thus contributing much to the success of the federation.

Mrs. Sandall won for the northwest the silver cup trophy given to that region doing the most in extension work. Klamath Falls Soroptimists contributed largely to the earning of this award by the organization of a club at Marshfield-North Bend by Laura Bertram in 1941, and by another club to be announced soon, the result of work done by Mrs. Bertram and her committee.

Working on the federation board with Mrs. Tyler and Mrs. Sandall will be Hazel Hackett, second vice president; Vanessa Griffin, secretary, and Gertrude Rector, treasurer.

An interesting letter was read to the local club at the last luncheon meeting from the Soroptimist club of Honolulu, to which club the Klamath Falls group had sent garden seeds early in the spring, hoping to help fill the need for these in the islands.

Mrs. Peggy Hitchcock of the Honolulu club writes, "Gardens have been our pride and joy as well as a necessity and having fresh seeds was a thrill indeed. Some of the ones available here are so very old, besides being limited in quantity, that we all enjoyed our share and send our thanks for your ray of sunshine. We are all busy in war-work, individually as well as a club."

Mrs. Hitchcock told of the army having taken over their school, of the irregularity of the mails, and of the work of the club in sending packages to various army outposts with the aid of the army chaplain. "They are so far away from any post or town," she said, "and hardly ever get away from their little tent city, that life is indeed very boring. There is so much to do that anything one attempts seems only to cause a ripple on the tide."

Shortly before the local club sent the seeds to Hawaii, tea had been sent to Brighton and Hove through Elizabeth Hawes, liaison officer for the clubs of Great Britain and the United States. Word now comes that these southern coast towns have been almost completely demolished by war action and the status of the Soroptimist club there is a matter of anxiety to the Klamath Falls members who have enjoyed corresponding with this British organization.

Word comes from Mrs. Laura Bertram, one of the delegates to the Cleveland convention, that she is proceeding to Niagara, thence to New York, and home some time in late summer.

En route to the convention, Mrs. Sabo stopped in Mis-

Oregon DAR Chapters

Continental Congress In Chicago Records State Activities

Mrs. Z. W. Dixon, regent of Eulalona chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, has recently received highlights of Oregon's report from the Continental Congress held in Chicago in May of this year.

According to this report, Oregon led the nation in new D.A.R. chapters formed the past year, California and Kansas tying for second place. Other states reported one chapter each.

Mrs. Howard P. Arnest, retiring state regent, who has recently returned from this Continental Congress, brought this gratifying news along with the fact that Oregon stood second in rate of increase in membership. Nebraska was first and Texas third. Oregon now has 1150 members with a steady upward climb.

The Oregon Society D.A.R. pledged a $500 bond and junior members a $25 one. War bond pledges made at the Congress totaled $260,473. The organization has already bought one of the $1500 units for the army and one for the navy of the mobile units for the collection of blood plasma. The National Society voted at the Congress to adopt as a major project the raising of money for the purchase of these units, and hopes to buy several during the current year.

Another pledge has been made by the national board for the purchase of doors for the carillon tower at Valley Forge. The doors will be given in honor of Mrs. William H. Pouch of New York, president general of the society.

Mrs. Arnest, vice president general, is one of a committee to decide about a Continental Congress next year, and if one is held, where. The committee will meet in Washington, D. C.

Wind Blown Hair in Order

Locks Blowing at Picnic in Proper Order Says Haveman

Women comb their hair too much! Even when mildy it is outdoors, where wind-blown hair is quite in order, she reaches for her comb as soon as the photographer takes out his camera. "This is unfortunate," says Victor Haveman, expert photographer of hair who ironically has very little of it himself!

Writing in the current August issue of the photographic magazine, Popular Photography, he points out that hair that is carefully arranged seems as out of place in informal outdoor pictures as a dinner jacket at a wiener roast.

Photographers have forgotten what can be done with woman's "crowning glory," declares Photographer Haveman, adding that "part of this probably has been due to the successful efforts of professional hairdressers to convince their customers that every hair should always be kept in place, no matter what the occasion." Pointing out that although this pays dividends for the beauty shops, he contends that it often makes the cameraman forget the fine pictorial possibilities of hair in charming disarray.

"The painters, both modern and classical, have not been so misled," Haveman discloses. For inspiration in this field, he suggests looking at the heads of the girls in Botticelli's "Birth of Venus," and "Primavera," and Leonardo da Vinci's "Virgin of the Rocks." The effect of relaxation in Gezanne's "The Bathers" would have been completely lost, he says, if the artist had made each woman look like she had just been given a permanent wave.

This renowned photographer of women's hair, partial to long hair that is silky, soft, and straight, with merely a suggestion of a wave, maintains that in outdoor photography the hair should be free and natural—not slicked down or carefully combed into a perfect coiffure.

COUPLE WED AT INFORMAL EVENING SERVICE

The marriage of Miss Eleanor Bennett of Portland and Mr. Rufus Buser of this city was solemnized on the evening of July the seventh at an informal candle-light ceremony performed at seven o'clock at the Zion Lutheran church by the Reverend Carl Nitz.

Mrs. Sylvia Leitzke and Mrs. Edna Nitz acted as the bride's attendants. Only members of the immediate family of the young couple witnessed the ceremony, including the grandmother of the groom, Mrs. Charles Klug of Tigerton, Wisconsin.

Later in the evening, a wedding supper was served by Mrs. H. W. Leitzke, the groom's aunt.

Mrs. Buser is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Bennett of Portland, and the parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Leo Buser of Wittenberg, Wisconsin. Mr. Buser has made his home in Klamath Falls for the past eight years where he has been affiliated with the Pacific Fruit and Produce company. The young couple are now residing at 315 North Tenth street.

A visitor here this week is Barbara Sheets of Chico, California, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sheets. Barbara is a guest at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Hunt and Connie.

Friends of Mrs. John Walker, the former Catherine Tomlinson, will be interested to learn she is now in Silverton with her parents, but will leave soon for Minneapolis where she will join her husband, Ensign Walker of the United States navy who is studying for the next six months at the University of Minnesota.

Mr. Bruno Stewart, formerly of this city and now making his home in Grants Pass, was a weekend visitor in Klamath Falls over the Fourth holidays. Mr. Stewart was the guest at a luncheon given by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence K. Phelps at their home on Auburn street on Saturday. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Proctor and son, George.

There will be a regular meeting of Catholic Daughters of America in the parish house on Monday evening, July thirtieth, at eight o'clock.

Women Give Much Time During Weeks

Mrs. Garcelon Expresses Appreciation to Those Who Have Appeared at Desks

Women of Klamath county, busy housewives, teachers on summer vacation, college women and girls graduated recently from high schools, have responded splendidly to the request for assistance at Klamath County chamber of commerce. Especially pleased is Mrs. Charles D. Garcelon, war price and rationing board executive secretary.

A great many have served without remuneration, giving two hours, four or five and even up to eight and nine hours out of their busy days.

Mrs. Garcelon announced this week that due to the cooperation of a group of women all canning sugar certificates were available by noon Saturday. This work took countless hours of time as housewives needed sugar immediately in order to handle the fruits which reach the market in one fell swoop. This past week it has been apricots and cherries. Soon the berries will be on and then the orchard fruits.

Under the supervision of Miss Carolyn Collier the following have worked the past few weeks to get out the sugar certificates. Mrs. Clara E. Moore, Mrs. Isabelle W. Miller, Mrs. S. Meade Badger, Mrs. A. W. Porter, Mrs. Marvin Shephard, Mrs. William Owsley, Mrs. Vera Stephenson, Mrs. Lester Offield, Mrs. John Fowler, Mrs. Myron Turner, Miss Peggy Keating, Miss Florence Sholes and Mrs. Charles Griffith.

It is hoped that other women in the community will volunteer for services which must, from time to time, come up for consideration during the emergency.

CLUB MEMBERS, FAMILIES ENJOY SUNDAY PICNIC

Keller, Mr. and Mrs. George Blehn, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Langer, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sandell, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Steinmetz, Mrs. George Humphrey, Miss Janice McCollum of Merrill, Miss Marjorie McCollum, Miss Louise Barnhart, Mr. Minnard Hilyard of Manhattan, Kansas, and Mr. A. L. Coan.
