Can or Freeze the Yield From Your Victory Garden

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth in a series of weekly articles on the preservation of foods, released through the co-operation of the Klamath county nutrition committee and the Klamath county home demonstration agent's office.)

The yield from the many "victory gardens" is beginning to make necessary the canning and freezing of vegetables. In order that the best possible finished product may be obtained, the following definite directions should be followed:

1. Use only fresh products of good quality. Remove all foreign particles and decayed material.
2. Keep cool while handling and place in freezer as soon as possible.
3. In order that the vital food essentials be preserved, the following rules should not be overlooked.
  1. Select vegetables that are not overmature.
  2. Freeze fruits and vegetables promptly after gathering.
  3. Be sure to thoroughly blanch all vegetables for the full recommended time to insure against changes in flavor and food values. Precautions should be taken to prevent overblanching, which results in losses of essential nutrients.
  4. Do not refreeze vegetables.
  5. When cooking, place most frozen vegetables directly in boiling water. Do not over-cook.

Directions for freezing vegetables:

1. Blanch all vegetables thoroughly. Have a hot fire. Heat 3 gallons of water in preserving kettle or hot water bath canner to boiling point. Place prepared vegetable in clean sugar sack or wire basket, small amounts at a time. Immerse sack in boiling water for the specified time. Agitate vegetables constantly during blanching, but keep below surface of water at all times. The quantity of vegetables should be so small that the water resumes boiling in 1/2 minute, approximately 1 quart of vegetables in 3 gallons of water. Bring water to boil

Brine Pack Prepare brine by dissolving salt in pure cold water. Use 1 level teaspoon of salt per cup of water. Avoid iodized salt in freezing. Place cool drained vegetable in container and fill with brine to within 1 to 1 1/2 inches from top. Allow about 1/2 cup of brine per pint container of vegetables. Close tins and paper containers tightly after freezing.

Dry Pack Place cooled, drained vegetables in container, fill to top and seal. Spinach and other greens and peas should be blanched from 1 to 2 minutes—depending on the size of maturity; and all should be packed dry. For more information contact the home demonstration agent's office in the Federal building.

If it's a "frozen" article you need, advertise for a used one in the classified.

Change in the fiscal year for the organization brings the membership drive several months earlier this year than before, according to Mrs. Everett R. Dennis, president of the local chapter.

Plans for the membership drive were laid Thursday afternoon at a meeting of the board of directors of the league held at the home of Mrs. Dennis. Mrs. B. C. Johnston is membership chairman, and present members of the league are urged to call her and enroll for the ensuing year. Dues, which are $1 a year, will be payable at once to Mrs. E. Layton Stephens, treasurer of the local league.

Possibly no organization in America is so effective for good government as the League of Women Voters. It was pointed out. Discussion groups study local and national issues, and the league's fact finding is exhaustive.
