Ingrad province, about 80 miles from the city itself.

It called upon the Russian soldiers to emulate the heroic band of 28 who died fighting German tanks barchanded in the snows before Moscow last winter.

In offensive action, the Russian air force bombed Koenigsberg, East Prussian port, again last night.

Six large fires could be seen through the heavy overcast, the Moscow radio said, and four large explosions were touched off by the bombing. Thirty-eight fires were reported set in the city in a Russian attack last Saturday night.

British military sources conceded that small German armored forces may have reached the lower Don and said "there is no denying the danger to Rostov" from this and related operations.

The Germans seemed to be converging on Rostov from three directions: from Taganrog, 40 miles to the west; from Voroshilovgrad, 100 miles to the north, and from Millerovo, 130 miles to the north-northeast.

The Russians officially acknowledged a continuing retreat over the scorched earth and dynamited coal fields of the Don basin, from Voroshilovgrad southeastward, and British sources voiced fear that large Russian forces in a salient above Taganrog were threatened.

The British said that in the battle of Voronezh, some 300 miles north of Rostov, the Russians had wiped out all but one of the German bridgeheads across the upper Don for their siege of Voronezh, 10 miles east of the river.

Wrest Control

The Russians reported their forces near Voronezh had wrested control of four Don crossings and that more than 10,000 of the foe had been killed in one week of fighting there.

The qualified successes of Russian counter-attacks at Voronezh, however, seemed to have little effect on the German drive across the Don steppes toward Stalingrad and through the industrialized Don basin toward Rostov.

2-Day Program Arranged For Business Center

A two-day program of entertainment and special features in the center of the business district was announced for July 31 and August 1 today by Andrew M. Collier, Klamath county war savings chairman.

Collier said that a mobile Victory House, patterned after the Victory House in Pershing square in Los Angeles, but placed on wheels, will make its maiden appearance in Klamath Falls on those days and that an outstanding entertainment and patriotic event is being arranged.

The Victory House, presented by Standard of California to the treasury department, will be located on Eighth street from Main to Pine streets. The vehicle includes a platform unit from which a local talent program will be presented for several hours each day, while bonds and stamps will be sold from the "Victory House" unit to be parked a short distance away.

Collier said that the Klamath

Kiwanis club will have charge of arrangement of the local talent program.

The chromium-plated truck will be equipped with a large electric organ which will be played by Lewis Murtagh, noted organist, at times throughout the program.

July 31 and August 1 will be observed as "Victory Quota Days" while the Victory House is here. On those days a determined effort will be made to put Klamath county's war savings quotas across.

The Victory House is to start its northwest tour at Klamath Falls. Delivery will be taken on it next week just before it is brought here. Special movies will be made and the appearance here will be featured as a send-off for the northwest campaign. Ray Conway, state war savings administrator, was here this week to talk over the plans with the local committee and representatives of Standard of California.

MRS. DAVIS FILES $5370 DAMAGE SUIT

The Pacific Fruit and Produce company and Jack Mezger today were named defendants in a $5370 damage suit filed in the Klamath county circuit court by Ella Janey Davis, wife of Constable Ed Davis of Merrill.

Mrs. Davis charged that she had suffered bodily damages which left her with permanent ill effects in a collision with Mezger, who was driving a Pacific Fruit truck, on Highway 39 near Merrill, December 19, 1941.

Mrs. Davis charged that Mezger made a left turn in front of her car without giving any warning. Thomas W. Chatburn of Merrill is her attorney.

SHIP CONTRACT CANCELLATION TO BE PROBED

maritime commission officials. The commission will hold a meeting this afternoon, presumably to re-examine the Higgins contract.

Concerned "over the great number of sinkings of American cargo vessels," the senate committee also will consider the proposal of Henry L. Kaiser, Portland, Ore., shipbuilder, that nine United States shipyards be equipped for the manufacture of 5000 flying boats a year as a quicker way to thwart axis submarines.

Hearings on the steel situation are to start August 6, after the committee has heard Kaiser, Glenn Martin, whose Mars flying boat would be adapted to the transport of troops and supplies under the Kaiser plan, and officials of the war production board.

Chairman Truman said the committee was "surprised to learn" that the Higgins contract was to be cancelled after millions of dollars of government money had been spent on roads, canals and other basic construction for the Higgins corporation at New Orleans.

Is Your House Equipped, in Case Of a Bombing?

Stickers notifying the world that the house is properly equipped for bombing protection will soon make their appearance in Klamath Falls residential windows, according to Earl Reynolds, county defense coordinator.

The stickers bear the words, "I Am Prepared." Houses which qualify will be determined by block wardens.

Reynolds said that 10,000 stickers were ordered for Klamath county.

shipping losses during the week of July 12 were the highest since the war began and that sinkings of United Nations' vessels have greatly exceeded new construction.

Jap Losses
The navy, meanwhile, had announced the sinking of three more Japanese destroyers of United States submarines in the vicinity of the Aleutian island of Kiska. This brought Japan's losses in the Aleutian area to six destroyers, one transport and one cruiser sunk; one destroyer probably sunk; and four cruisers, two destroyers, one aircraft carrier, one gunboat and one transport damaged.

On the shipping crisis, the shipping administration gave this report: "Shipping losses during the week of July 12 reached their highest level since the beginning of the war. While construction in American shipyards is breaking all records, sinkings of United Nations' ships through enemy action and marine casualties have greatly exceeded new construction."

British Output Small
"Construction of new merchant tonnage in Great Britain continues within the limits of its available supply of labor and materials but the volume is not large. The great bulk of new shipping must come from American yards supplemented by the production of Canadian yards, which turn out a relatively small tonnage compared to the United States."

"It can be stated that no essential military cargoes have been left on piers because of lack of ships. The war shipping administration has been able, by radical conversion of our shipping resources to war operations, to meet the necessarily exacting requirements of our armed services."

THREE JAILED AS RESULT OF FRACAS

Three young fellows, Jewel House, Herman Todd and Thomas Walker are in jail and Lawrence "Bud" Rolph is suffering from a badly battered face as the result of a fracas which took place at Eighth and High streets at 10:45 Tuesday night, according to police.

Rolph was crossing the intersection of Eighth and Pine streets on foot, he told officers.

when a Ford coupe turned off Eighth street at about 40 miles per hour, failing to stop at the stop sign. He had to jump to avoid being hit, and yelled at the driver.

The car stopped and three men jumped out, following Rolph to the yard of his home at Eighth and High street where, it is alleged, they all jumped onto him and gave him a beating. Police were called by Mrs. Rolph, who had obtained the number of the car, and the three were picked up in less than an hour at the Burr-O-N on South Sixth street. They were placed in jail on charges of disorderly conduct in lieu of $100 bail each. At police court Wednesday morning, House pleaded guilty and Rolph and Walker not guilty. A hearing was to be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon before Police Judge Leigh Ackerman. John Fanning, who witnessed the fight from his car parked across the street, will appear as witness.
