Camp Fire Girls Climax Week With Council Fire

Climaxing a busy week for the Camp Fire girls at Camp Esther Applegate, Lake o' the Woods, was a ceremonial council fire held on Saturday evening.

At the outdoor ceremony, eight girls were awarded the highest rank in Camp Fire, that of torch bearer. The girls who received the honor were Nancy Bennet, Norma Lee Gienger, Gaynel Hanlon, Maxine Liskey, Margie Palmerton, Dorothy Riggs, and Betty Robertson. Those awarded the rank of wood gatherer were Joanne Bennet, Tootsie Liskey, Ramona Reeves, Ann Reeves. Receiving the first rank, trailseeker, were Marianne Lion and Marcella Murray.

Three Ram Sales Booked; Albany Event August 1

Plans for the second annual Willamette Valley purebred ram sale at Albany August 1 are complete with catalog published, and dates for two other ram sales in Oregon have been announced. These are the annual Pendleton ram sale August 21 and the Lakeview ham sale September 12.

Both the Eastern Oregon sales are old established events looked forward to by stockmen, while the Albany sale is a newcomer with the experience of one successful sale last year at which 101 head were sold at an average price of $37.50.

This year 150 head divided among 10 breeds have been listed. These will all be passed upon by a sifting committee consisting of H. A. Lindgren, extension livestock specialist, as chairman, C. M. Hubbard, Junction City; W. H. Lytle, Salem, and H. G. Avery, Corvallis.

PRESERVED ORDER

A draft law placed in effect in 1863 to provide the union with much-needed soldiers caused such riots that U. S. marines were called out to preserve order.

2 BEER LICENSES REVOKED HERE

Beer license revocations and suspensions hit two Klamath county establishments Wednesday.

The state liquor commission revoked the license of George E. Smith of the Malin hotel, on the grounds that he had made misrepresentations to the commission.

The Casino on South Sixth street lost its license for 30 days for selling intoxicants to visibly intoxicated persons. The commission stated that Klamath authorities had assured the state officials they are doing all they can to keep the city's beer outlets operating within the law.

40 Gas Masks Arrive at County Defense Office

Forty gas masks have arrived at county civilian defense headquarters and members of the decontamination squad will soon receive this equipment, County Coordinator Earl Reynolds said Wednesday. Reynolds said he did not know how soon additional masks will arrive here. Before members of the decontamination squad receive them, they must be certified as to training.

Fire Warden's Tractor Gets Attachment

A bulldozer attachment for the county fire warden's tractor was put into service Wednesday, according to County Judge U. E. Reeder.

Fire Warden M. J. Barnes will keep the equipment at his Olene ranch. Barnes also has several shoulder pumps and the use of a truck for fire-fighting purposes. The county warden has covered four tires. All were quickly extinguished and did no damage.

MAIL GUARD
Prolonged railroad strikes in California in 1894 prompted authorities to send a detachment of U. S. marines from the Mare Island navy yard to guard the mails.

Courthouse Gets A Midsummer Bath

The Klamath county courthouse is getting a midsummer bath.

County Judge U. E. Reeder said today that a crew of men are cleansing the exterior brick and stone with an acid solution so the building will more nearly match the Memorial building which is undergoing interior conversion to house county offices.

Judge Reeder said some exterior woodwork and cornices will be painted. The project will be finished in a few days, he said.

COOL WORKERS
PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—Police are looking for a couple of safe-crackers who like to do their work in comfort, particularly on a hot night.

The manager of a food market, reporting the loss of $1000, said the thieves dragged the safe into a large ice box to force it open.
