

NAZIS OVERRUN DONETS BASIN, CLAIM ROSTOV

Don was on a small scale, however.

The Russian stand on the Don indicated a determination to hold the Tikhoretsk-Stalingrad railway which roughly parallels the course of the lower Don between Rostov and Stalingrad, an air line distance of 250 miles.

Today's Moscow communique said merely that Russian troops through the night had "fought the enemy in the areas of Voronezh and also in the areas of Tsimlyansk, Novocheerkaassk and Rostov. No changes took place in other sectors of the front."

"Our men repulsed attacks by numerically superior enemy forces," it said. "In one narrow sector alone the Germans lost 17 tanks and more than 800 men killed."

The German high command used a special communique to proclaim the capture of Rostov—an occasion calling for a minute-long trumpeting and rolling of drums on the German radio, Berlin's standard device to call attention to special victory claims and gain maximum audience.

Seattle Signs UW Catcher; Finger Split Seats Collins

SEATTLE, July 24 (P)—Desperate for a catching staff replacement, the Seattle baseball management announced today the signing of Emmett Watson, the University of Washington's varsity catcher last spring.

The Rainiers now have only Rookie Bill Beard on active duty, and his draft board has ordered him up for a physical examination next week. Bob Collins, the regular receiver, was lost for a predicted 10 days when a foul tip split open a finger Wednesday night. An x-ray yesterday showed there was no fracture. A hurry-up call was sent to the New York Yankees for a catcher from Newark's three-man staff, but Watson was signed in the absence of a quick response.

NEW YORK—More than 20,000 tickets were sold for the benefit for service men which opened a 55-day meeting for rotters at Roosevelt Raceway, Westbury, L. I.

HOUSE HEARS SHIP CONTRACT EVIDENCE

When immediate house action was asked by Bland, he asked Bland to withdraw his request for immediate action.

Opposition

Two officials of the Higgins Shipbuilding company of New Orleans told a house merchant marine committee that the navy department opposed opening of shipyards by new companies and that an assistant to the navy secretary had said in March 1941 that "no new yards could be opened except by old line companies."

Andrew Jackson Higgins, president of the company, a moment later, asserted that he had been told by the navy not to build his New Orleans plant.

He charged that employees of the maritime commission had been ordered "to soft-pedal" his work and "build up Bethlehem." He added in testimony before a house committee studying cancellation of a contract for construction of liberty cargo ships, at his plant that the "soft-pedal" also applied to production at Kaiser, west coast builder.

Higgins testified that a member of the commission staff told him that they "were called in and told to soft pedal Higgins, soft pedal Kaiser and build up Bethlehem."

Word of the instruction, he told a committee, came from a member of the commission staff, who, he said, had volunteered to testify before the committee if subpoenaed.

Higgins, asked if anyone had indicated to him that the commission's order of cancellation had been given "reluctantly," replied, "Yes sir, and they were forced to do it."
